THE UNIVERSITY

LIKE most American universities, The George Washington University grew out of a liberal arts college, the original name of which is retained to designate the present senior college of letters and sciences.

The idea of a university located in the Capital of the Nation was sponsored by George Washington, who during his public life urged the establishment of such an institution and in his will left fifty shares of stock in the Potomac (Canal) Company for the endowment of a university to be established in the District of Columbia "to which the youth of fortune and talents from all parts thereof might be sent for the completion of their Education in all the branches of polite literature;—in arts and Sciences,—in acquiring knowledge in the principles of Politics & good Government."

In furtherance of that hope and project of the first President of the United States, this University, founded as Columbian College and now named The George Washington University, was established. The stock which General Washington willed toward such an institution became valueless owing to the failure of the canal properties, and it was necessary for "the College" established in the District of Columbia to obtain funds from other sources.

In 1819 the Reverend Luther Rice, a Baptist missionary, formed an association to buy land for the use of a college in the city of Washington. With General Washington's idea in mind, John Quincy Adams, Secretary of State of the United States; William H. Crawford, Secretary of the Treasury; John C. Calhoun, Secretary of War; William Wirt, Attorney General; and Return J. Meigs, Postmaster General, together with thirty-two members of Congress, became patrons of the new college.

The charter, granted by Congress in 1821, provided that "Persons of every religious denomination shall be capable of being elected Trustees; nor shall any person, either as President, Professor, Tutor, or pupil, be refused admittance into said College, or denied any of the privileges, immunities, or advantages thereof, for or on account of his sentiments in matters of religion."

When the first commencement was held on December 15, 1824, President Monroe, John Quincy Adams, John C. Calhoun, Henry Clay, and the Marquis de Lafayette headed the eminent company attending the exercises.

By an act of Congress of March 3, 1873, the name of the college, which had in the meantime added professional schools of medicine and law, was changed to "Columbian University," in recognition of the enlarged scope of the institution.

By an act of Congress of January 23, 1904, the University was removed from the denominational control under which it had operated from 1899, and was provided with a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees empowered to change its name. In accordance with this act, the title "The George Washington University" was adopted in the same year.

As now constituted, The George Washington University comprises fourteen Colleges, Schools, and Divisions.

ENVIRONMENT

THE environment of a university is important in its influence upon students. Particularly is this true in the case of undergraduates studying in a college of liberal arts. The George Washington University is situated in the city of Washington, a political and cultural capital, which has the distinction, too, of being one of the most beautiful cities in America.

From the center of the city wide avenues and shaded boulevards extend into nearby Maryland and Virginia. The heart of its elaborate system of drives and parks is the Mall, a wide tract extending two miles from the Capitol at the east to the Potomac River at the west. Along the Mall are the monumental classic buildings which house the various departments of the national government; the White House; the Washington Monument, rising above the Tidal Basin; and the impressive Lincoln Memorial, at the head of the George Washington Memorial Bridge which leads across the Potomac to Arlington and the Mount Vernon Boulevard.

A few blocks north from the Mall near its western terminus, and adjacent to the Potomac Park area, is the campus of The George Washington University. Rapidly expanding its land area and adding to its buildings, the University today overspreads and gives character to its section of the Federal City.

On the older University Quadrangle, and enclosing the University Yard with its stretches of lawn, flower-bordered paths, and replica of the famous Houdon statue of George Washington, are the buildings which house the social sciences, the biological sciences, and the physical sciences. In recent years many old houses have been removed from the Quadrangle and new modern buildings have been erected to replace the structures formerly in use. Developments are well under way in adjacent areas. In the fall of 1936 there was opened the first unit of the dormitory quadrangle, the Hattie M. Strong Residence Hall, a beautiful college home for women students. Other halls are projected for the immediate future, newly acquired property in several adjoining city squares having made it possible to begin the building of the enlarged University fabric that is planned in harmony with the educational ideals of the institution and the beauty of the city which surrounds it.

The National Capital stands in a region associated with the personal activities of George Washington and other noteworthy figures in American history. In this area our national traditions early found expression. A short distance down the Potomac River is Mount Vernon, the home of Washington. The nearest town, Alexandria, Virginia, is extremely rich in traditions which link it with the First President and with early American history. Directly across the Potomac from Washington are the hills of Arlington, where stands the home of General Robert E. Lee. Historic Georgetown, now a part of the District of Columbia, has many memories of George Washington. It was here that he met local landowners and arranged for the purchase of land for the District of Columbia. Georgetown was the headquarters of Washington and Major L'Enfant when they supervised the laying out of the Capital of the Nation.

Washington is important not only historically, but as the center of the activities of one of the great governments of the world. The Federal Government has been likened to a great university, affording special opportunities for the study of governmental administration, the application of our constitutional principles, the administration of law, diplomacy, and political affairs generally. Bureaus, experimental stations, laboratories, museums, and observatories serve every science. Eminent government specialists in many fields give to the Nation the results of their study and research. Realizing the unique educational value of such activities, the Congress by act of April 12, 1892 resolved "that the facilities for research and illustration in any governmental collections . . . shall be accessible . . . to the scientific investigators and to students of any institution of higher education now incorporated . . . under the laws of Congress."

One of the greatest of our national institutions in its relation to research and learning is the Library of Congress. Its enormous collections include the rarest historical documents and publications; its unique manuscripts and records make up the richest body of source material bearing on the history of our Nation; it contains practically every book printed in America, as well as large collections of foreign publications. The new Folger Shakespeare Library, and collections in more than two hundred special libraries, supplement the Library of Congress in placing Washington foremost as a center of research.

The Government's broad educational program has its focus in the Office of Education of the Department of the Interior, which advises with state, county, and municipal school officers as to the administration and improvement of schools, and brings to teachers the results of national experimentation and experience. The National Bureau of Standards, with its large staff of technical experts, conducts special investigations in the interests of pure and applied science. The Smithsonian Institution, with its International Exchange Service, distributes a vast accumulation of scientific data and information. The National Museum is a vast organized collection of scientific materials, illustrating especially the biological and social development of man. These are but a few of the many which could be cited as invaluable sources for educational and cultural investigation.

In addition to these Federal institutions which contribute so largely to Washington's position as a seat of learning, there are many other converging forces to make it the focus of educational, intellectual, and cultural achievement. Scientific and educational groups, such as the Carnegie Institution of Washington, the American Council on Education, the National Academy of Sciences, the National Research Council, the National Education Association, and the National Geographic Society, with many others, are situated here. The periodic meetings of these organizations bring to Washington the leading scholars and experts in their respective fields. Art galleries, such as the National, the Corcoran, the Phillips, and the Freer, with their priceless collections, are accessible to the student of Fine Arts. The great new Mellon Gallery will add immeasurably to these art resources. The regular seasonal programs of the National Symphony Orchestra and the frequent concerts by famous visiting orchestras and musical artists bring to the student the highest types of music. With the increasing importance of the United States in world affairs, Washington has also become the crossroads of international life, in contact with old-world cultures, and an internationally recognized center of influence. International groups, such as the Pan American Union and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, have made Washington their headquarters. The embassies and legations of foreign countries, with their staffs of diplomatic experts and assistants, contribute further to the international aspect of life in the Capital of the Nation.

Washington has, therefore, become an ideal university city. In such an atmosphere it is not strange that a number of institutions of higher learning have developed here, including Georgetown University, under the jurisdiction of the Jesuit Order; the Catholic University of America, authorized by Pope Leo XIII and supported by the Roman Catholic Church; American University, under the patronage of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and The George Washington University, which is non-sectarian.

Not only have these institutions derived stimulation from the presence of other cultural influences in the Capital, but, reciprocally, the scholars of their faculties and the body of students in all branches of university work are contributing in no small degree to the development of Washington as a seat of learning.

THE LIBERAL ARTS PROGRAM

THROUGHOUT its long history, the liberal arts college has been the keystone of the University structure, and the liberal arts tradition of Columbian College, together with its historic name, has been maintained.

In 1930, the administration of the units affecting the liberal arts work was reordered, and the Junior College established, comprising the work of the Freshman and Sophomore years. At the same time Columbian College took over the first year of graduate study, and now grants both the Bachelor's and Master's degrees. A unified four-year curriculum in liberal arts runs through the Junior College and Columbian College, and the instruction and academic standards are carefully coordinated. In many instances the members of the instructional staff teach both first-group courses in the Junior College and second- or third-group courses in Columbian College.

The liberal arts work of the University, as well as its professional work in law and medicine, enjoys the highest possible accreditation. The University is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities and is also accredited by its regional accrediting agency, the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. It is likewise on the approved list of the American Association of University Women.

The staff of the University is competent and devoted. Forty members of the faculty are members of Phi Beta Kappa. Of the one hundred and thirty-four full-time faculty members, sixty-one hold the Ph.D. degree. A generous system of sabbatical leaves is maintained, and special leaves of absence may be granted on the recommendation of the University Committee on Research. This Committee also recommends grants of funds to assist in meeting the expense of approved research projects.

In recognition of the standing of its scientific work, a chapter of Sigma Xi was installed at the University at the Winter Convocation held on February 22, 1937. The Phi Beta Kappa group of the faculty was recently invited to submit an application for a charter of Phi Beta Kappa. This action followed a rigorous inspection by the Committee on Qualifications of Phi Beta Kappa which unanimously recommended the institution for a chapter on the basis of "excellence in the liberal arts and sciences, particularly in the quality of its product, its faculty, curriculum, library, equipment, and financial condition." This recommendation was subsequently approved unanimously by the Senate of Phi Beta Kappa, and the application will be considered by the Council of the fraternity at its triennial Council meeting, September 8, 1937.

THE JUNIOR COLLEGE

THE purpose of the Junior College curriculum is to provide a broad basis for a liberal education. To accomplish this purpose, the courses offered in the Junior College include comprehensive surveys in the four basic fields of English, foreign languages, social studies, and sciences.

Nearly two thirds of the students who enter the Junior College enroll in the arts and letters curriculum leading toward the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In order to provide the broad background for liberal arts work, two science survey courses are offered: in the natural sciences and in the physical sciences. These courses provide the opportunity for students to gain a broad general knowledge of these subjects by means of lectures, laboratory demonstrations, and field trips. Enrollment in these survey courses is voluntary, students having the opportunity to take technical laboratory courses in Botany, Geology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics, or Zoology.

All Freshman students are required to enroll for the Freshman English course. The first semester of this course combines the practice of composition with an introductory study of literature. On recommendation of the English Department, students who are well prepared in composition may be allowed to enroll for a Sophomore literature course in the second semester of their Freshman year. All other students are required to complete the second semester of Freshman English.

In foreign languages, courses are offered in Greek,

Latin, French, Spanish, and German. Two years of college study in foreign languages, or the equivalent, is required. The foreign-language requirement is articulated with the high-school work. The student may, therefore, continue the study of the language taken in high school, and is likewise encouraged to undertake the study of other languages which may contribute to the mastery of his major field.

In the social studies, a survey course in the History of European Civilization is offered in the Freshman year and a survey course in the History of American Civilization in the Sophomore year. The student may, however, elect other survey courses in American Government, Economic Institutions, or Sociology.

In all curricula the student has a choice of one or two electives in each year. Freshman and Sophomore courses in Art, Philosophy, Psychology, Public Speaking, and the like, give the student the opportunity to acquire the broad knowledge requisite to a liberal education.

The requirement that students who intend to pursue studies toward the Bachelor of Arts degree must take work in English composition, English literature, foreign language, social studies, and science, in addition to such courses as they may elect, provides the educational foundation for the more specialized studies of the Junior and Senior years. It also assures to students the opportunity to develop wide interests in many subjects—interests which may be continued in the Junior and Senior years along with the major program. Thus the organization of the Junior College is articulated on the one hand with the high school, and on the other with Columbian College, to serve the purpose of a liberal education.

COLUMBIAN COLLEGE

AS PART of the administrative readjustment of the University's program effected in 1930, the work of the Freshman and Sophomore years was made a separate unit and assigned to the Junior College, while the Junior and Senior years were retained in Columbian College. As a further step, the year of study leading to the Master's degree was separated from the graduate work for the Doctor's degree (now administered by the Graduate Council) and assigned to Columbian College. This innovation was accompanied by the establishment of a carefully controlled Independent Study Plan. At the same time, the divisional type of educational organization was adopted, which distinguishes between the instructional organization of the University and its administrative organization, and is based upon such factors as the relationship of content, the interrelation of methods and prerequisites, and similarity of background and viewpoint. Divisions are not, however, considered as unrelated and self-sufficient. It is recognized that many contacts between divisions arise, and the full value of the organization, both for the instructors and for the students, is realized only to the extent that such contacts are fostered and improved.

The purpose of Columbian College is to round out the program of liberal education begun in the Junior College, and to bring to a focus educationally the individual talents and aptitudes of the student of liberal arts. The program involves a comprehensive survey of a field of study, together with such knowledge of other fields as will contribute to the general intellectual development of the student.

Courses open to students in the arts and sciences are offered under the following twenty-three of the fifty departments: Art, Bacteriology, Biochemistry, Biology, Botany, Chemistry, Classical Languages and Literatures, Economics, English, Geology, Germanic Languages and Literatures, History, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Physiology, Political Science, Psychology, Public Speaking, Romance Languages and Literatures, Sociology, Statistics, and Zoology. Under approved conditions, liberal arts students may also elect courses in certain other departments.

The George Washington University plan of educational sequence in the liberal arts and sciences extends from the elementary collegiate discipline of the Junior College, through the studies for the baccalaureate degree of Columbian College, to the Master of Arts discipline, likewise in Columbian College. A well-rounded undergraduate major supported by studies in related fields provides the core of the Columbian College program, the culmination of which is the Master of Arts discipline.

In order to carry out the fundamental educational philosophy of this program, and to give practical effect to its aims and objectives, a new plan has been set up for the administration both of the undergraduate major and of the Master's work. Under it, emphasis is definitely placed upon fields of study and knowledge of their content, rather than upon the mere accumulation of course-credits. This program is described in detail in the following pages.

THE UNDERGRADUATE MAJOR

All students of Columbian College pursuing courses in the general curricula leading to the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science degrees must complete an undergraduate major. The requirement for the satisfaction of an undergraduate major is the passing of a written examination in the subject or field of the major. Although the minimum requirements for the Bachelor's degrees still include completion of a specific number of semester-hours, the requirement for the major is not stated in terms of semester-hours or definite courses.

Definition of the Undergraduate Major

An undergraduate or baccalaureate major may be defined as a coordinated study of the content and methods of a field of knowledge. Although generally confined to a single department of instruction (which is the field of study), a major may also be taken in a group of closely related subjects, or in some important and integral subdivision of a departmental program. In other words, a major may be offered by a single department; or in a group of related studies involving more than one department, or even more than one division; or one department may offer more than one major field of study within itself.

The objective of the major is to make certain that the student shall have, at the time of his graduation, the skill and knowledge of a field of learning, enlarged and strengthened by studies in related subjects, so that he may, with conviction and understanding, meet the activities and interests of modern life.

Study for the major, however, is not intended to displace the ideal of a liberal education. The student is advised against over-specialization, protected from undue encroachment upon his time and energy by major requirements, and given opportunity for the broadening of his knowledge throughout the undergraduate discipline. In order to assure this, at least twenty-four semester-hours of course work must be taken in subjects not included in the major. Responsibility for carrying out this provision rests with the professor or department of the major subject, by whom all courses taken by the student in Columbian College will be approved.

Administration of the Major

All majors are subject to the approval and supervision of the division in which the major field is classified. The professor or the department of the field of study will formulate the contents of the major, which will be submitted through the Educational Committee to the division. All majors are intended to be comparable; that is, they should have the same general proportion in relation to the whole undergraduate academic program, and should maintain similar standards of achievement.

Proseminar in the Major

For the convenience of the student a proseminar course is offered in each field of study, under the supervision of the division in which the major is taken. This course, planned and administered by the professor or the department of the major subject, will advise, guide, and instruct the student in his reading, study, laboratory exercises, etc., in order to assist him in gaining a coordinated knowledge of his field. This course is not a definite requirement; registration in it is voluntary on the part of the student. Six semester-hours' credit, but no qualitative grade, may be assigned. When registered in this course the student will have the privilege of visiting any other courses offered in the college. This pro-seminar is not intended as a "cramming course"; its objective is to present the content and methods of the major field as a whole by organizing and coordinating the knowledge obtained in the various formal courses in the major subject, as well as by suggesting material not usually included in such courses.

The Major Examination

The major examination will normally be taken by the student at the close of the senior year; in the case of students on limited schedule, the major examination may be taken not earlier than one calendar year before graduation. Students who fail to pass a major examination may, at the discretion of the Columbian College Committee on Studies, be re-examined at a later regular major examination period. The Educational Committees of the respective divisions will have general supervision of the preparation, reading, and grading of major examinations. Major examinations will be held in the closing weeks of each regular semester and, with the permission of the Committee on Studies, at the conclusion of the Summer Sessions.

THE MASTER'S WORK

The purpose and function of study leading to the Master of Arts degree is to give the student a comprehensive survey of a field of knowledge. This study involves the continuation of the cultural elements provided for in the undergraduate major, together with a greater acquaintance with scholarly methods.

Definition of the Master's Work

The basis for granting the degree is the completion of a consistent plan of study, as determined by the successful passing of a written examination, together with such other examinations involving special skills or techniques as the department or the division may require, and the presentation of a satisfactory thesis.

The student must satisfy certain minimum requirements as to previous preparation, residence, ability to read an approved foreign language, and courses taken; but these requirements, while essential, are regarded primarily as qualifying measures. The student's knowledge of his field, as demonstrated by his thesis and by the results of his Master's examination, constitutes the fundamental evidence of his worthiness to receive the Master's degree of The George Washington University.

Residence Requirements

An academic year of residence is required. This must include completion of a minimum of thirty semester-hours of work including the thesis. Summer Sessions work may be counted in residence, but in no case may the period of residence aggregate less than twenty-seven weeks. No part of this minimum requirement shall be taken elsewhere. All work for the Master of Arts degree shall be completed within a maximum of three years, unless the Dean's Council considers the circumstances so unusual as to justify an extension of time.

Program of Study

A student's program of study shall be outlined in detail at the beginning of his work, and one copy of the program shall be given to the student, one retained by the adviser, and one filed in the Registrar's Office. Each program is subject to the approval of an appropriate agency of the major division. Programs may be revised as occasion requires, but revisions shall be made from the point of view of the program as a whole, and copies of the revised program distributed as in the case of the original program.

Admission to Candidacy

A student shall be admitted to candidacy, at the discretion of the department and the division concerned, before he begins the last half of his work for the Master's degree. Before being admitted to candidacy the student must show a reading knowledge of at least one modern foreign language (European), which shall be selected by the major department. If a prospective candidate, in his previous academic work, has not substantially satisfied the prerequisites for the Master of Arts study, as defined by his major department or division, he will not be admitted to candidacy until such deficiency has been made up.

The Master's Thesis

The thesis may be of a research, expository, critical, or creative type. The main purpose of a Master's thesis is to demonstrate the student's ability to make independent use of the information and training acquired through his other disciplines, and to furnish objective evidence of his constructive powers in his chosen field. The thesis must be registered for not later than the beginning of the final year of preparation unless the professor in charge of the thesis permits registration at the beginning of the final semester. For this purpose the nine weeks' term of the Summer Sessions is considered as a semester. The choice of the thesis subject must be approved by the professor in charge of the major and recorded in the Office of the Registrar by the date announced in the University calendar. The typewritten thesis in its final form must have the approval of the professor in charge of the major and of the Educational Committee of the division concerned, and must be presented to the Dean by the student not later than the date announced in the University calendar.

The Master's Examination

In addition to such other examinations as may be required, candidates must pass a general written examination on the major subject. The provisions of the new plan for undergraduate majors, as far as they concern the general examination for the major, also apply to the Master's examination.

STUDENT LIFE

AN INSTITUTION which brings together under its educational program many thousands of students becomes a community in itself. Because the motivating principle of education in The George Washington University is primarily the development of individual character and its intelligent adaptation to a higher type of living in modern society, a recognition of student interests and activities outside the classroom is both necessary and desirable.

The University encourages the extra-curricular activities of its students in all the diversity of sports and competitions, membership in social clubs and academic societies, and artistic and cultural expression of various kinds. Through them, the student not only may express his character and enthusiasms, but also, in the governing of these activities according to the principles which control the political and social regulation of American life beyond the confines of the University, may anticipate his later responsibilities and interests as an educated citizen. These activities, therefore, are not merely tolerated as an unavoidable concomitant to the presence of the student body; rather, they are encouraged and supported as a normal extension of the principles of enriched participation in life which should emerge from the philosophy underlying the University's academic discipline.

Growing naturally out of the classroom is the Columbian Honor Society, the chief scholastic honor organization. Membership in this group has become the most coveted academic award, not only because a senior to be eligible must have a very high grade-average, but also because admission is based upon election by the Faculty Phi Beta Kappa Group. Encouraging the student from the beginning of his college career to strive for the general excellence of scholarship symbolized by the Columbian Honor Society, are Alpha Lambda Delta (women) and Phi Eta Sigma (men), national honor organizations for freshmen who attain the necessary high scholastic rating.

Chapters of nine national honor societies recognize meritorious work in special fields. These are Sigma Xi (science), Order of the Coif (law), Delta Sigma Rho (forensics), Pi Delta Epsilon (journalism), Kappa Kappa Psi (music), Phi Sigma Rho (philosophy), Pi Gamma Mu (social science), Sigma Pi Sigma (physics), Sigma Tau (engineering). Twenty-four professional fraternities for men and for women promote fellowship among students with common interests, combining qualifications of individual scholarship with those of social productivity. The professional fraternities are as follows:

PROFESSIONAL FRATERNITIES FOR MEN

Alpha Chi Sigma (chemistry); Alpha Kappa Kappa (medicine); Alpha Kappa Psi (commerce and economics); Delta Phi Epsilon (foreign service); Delta Theta Phi (law); Gamma Eta Gamma (law); Mortar and Pestle (pharmacy); Phi Alpha Delta (law); Phi Chi (medicine); Phi Delta Epsilon (medicine); Phi Delta Phi (law); Phi Lambda Kappa (medicine); Scarab (architecture); Sigma Gamma Epsilon (geology); Theta Tau (engineering).

PROFESSIONAL FRATERNITIES FOR WOMEN

Alpha Epsilon Iota (medicine); Alpha Pi Epsilon (home economics); Chi Sigma Gamma (chemistry); Chi Upsilon (geology); Kappa Beta Pi (law); Phi Delta Delta (law); Phi Delta Gamma (graduate); Phi Pi Epsilon (foreign service); Pi Lambda Theta (education).

Many faculty members act as advisers to these organizations.

Moreover, the student is brought informally into contact with his instructors through seventeen department clubs which supplement the work of the classroom.

DEPARTMENT CLUBS

American Institute of Electrical Engineers; American Society of Civil Engineers; American Society of Mechanical Engineers; El Club Español; The Benjamin N. Cardozo Law Forum; Le Cercle Français Universitaire; the Engineering Council; Hamiltonian Society; Charles Clinton Swisher History Club; Home Economics Club; International Relations Club; Lester F. Ward Sociological Society; Library Science Club; Mathematics Club; Schoenfeld Deutsche Verein; Serendip Physics Club; William Alanson White Society.

The Literary Club, Orchesis (dance), and the Symphony Club serve other cultural interests of students.

While maintaining its freedom from sectarian affiliation, the University encourages the spiritual growth of the student. The religious life of the student is regarded as a personal and individual matter, not supervised by the University, but religious meetings, such as the weekly chapel service, at which attendance is voluntary, are held under University auspices with faculty members and clergymen as speakers. The University assists in the formation of religious clubs, representing many forms of belief, that are a link between the student body and local churches. All of these groups combine once a year for the Spring Fellowship, at which time they are addressed by a religious leader of national prominence.

RELIGIOUS CLUBS

Avukah; Baptist Students' Union; Christian Science Organization; Episcopal Club; Luther Club; Newman Club; Wesley Club; Westminster Club.

A unique student activity, which develops the skill in applying the principles of individual and social responsibility that should be an outcome of liberal education in a democracy, is The George Washington Union. This is a legislative forum of one hundred members, chosen, on a basis of proportional representation, by campus-wide elections held each fall. Employing the usual procedure of a legislative body, the Union seeks to express all shades of student opinion on national and international questions. Immediately preceding the annual elections, each of the parties composing the Union (Right, Center, Left) holds a convention at which its platform is adopted. Party caucuses and plenary sessions of the Union are held throughout the year. This student forum has been adopted as a model by a neighboring university.

The University Hatchet, weekly student newspaper, affords opportunity for journalistic expression. The Hatchet maintains a high standard among college publications. For the last three years it has been ranked "All-American" by the Associated Collegiate Press. In 1934 it received the designation of "Pacemaker," the highest award made by that body. The Intercollegiate Newspaper Association of the Middle Atlantic States has, for the last two years, awarded to the Hatchet its cup for the best editorial page, as well as third place in news writing. Other student publications are The Cherry Tree (the annual), and the Handbook (a manual of University information).

The Cue and Curtain Club productions and the concerts of the Glee Club provide fields for the employment of talents in dramatics and music. The men's Glee Club is recognized as among the best college singing groups in the country and on several occasions has won national honors in the intercollegiate glee club competitions. Debate is also a major interest, with intramural emphasis and yearly international matches, as well as the usual intercollegiate competition.

The presence of the University in the National Capital, with its embassies and legations, and the large number of foreign students who are enrolled in the University foster interest in international affairs and friendships with the peoples of other nations. The International Students' Society, with members representing thirty-one countries, is one of the most active organizations on the campus. The University has created the faculty post of Adviser to Students from Foreign Countries, and has set aside International House for the use of students from abroad.

The Departments of Physical Education for Men and Physical Education for Women supervise modern programs of physical activity. There are both intramural and intercollegiate sports for men, including football, basketball, baseball, swimming, tennis, and rifle. Intramural sports open to women are hockey, soccer, basketball, volley ball, dancing, swimming, tennis, archery, riding, golf, and badminton.

Student social relations are stimulated by sixteen social fraternities and twelve social sororities. Most of the fraternities occupy houses. The sororities have chapter rooms in Sorority Hall. The fraternities and sororities are:

SOCIAL FRATERNITIES

Sigma Chi; Kappa Sigma; Kappa Alpha; Theta Delta Chi; Phi Sigma Kappa; Delta Tau Delta; Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Sigma Phi Epsilon; Phi Alpha; Sigma Nu; Acacia; Theta Upsilon Omega; Tau Kappa Epsilon; Phi Epsilon Pi; Tau Epsilon Phi; Alpha Mu Sigma.

SOCIAL SORORITIES

Pi Beta Phi; Chi Omega; Sigma Kappa; Phi Mu; Alpha Delta Pi; Delta Zeta; Kappa Delta; Phi Sigma Sigma; Zeta Tau Alpha; Alpha Delta Theta; Beta Phi Alpha; Kappa Kappa Gamma.

All these except one are national. Cooperation among them is achieved through an Interfraternity Council and a Panhellenic Association. Delphi, an intersorority society, and Gate and Key, an interfraternity society, are honor organizations. An Independent Men's non-fraternity group and the Colonial Campus Club (women) provide social opportunities for unaffiliated students.

The Student Council is the student governing body, developing student spirit through an understanding appreciation of the University, its aims and ideals, and promoting student activities through cooperation and coordination.

Columbian House, Sorority Hall, the recreation rooms of Strong Hall, and the large Student Club are the student social centers. The entire program of student activities is stimulated by honor societies such as Omicron Delta Kappa, Hour Glass, and Steel Gauntlet, which recognize achievement in student affairs. The faculty members of the respective committees on Student Life, Forensics and Dramatics, Musical Organizations, Publications, and Eligibility contribute friendly faculty interest and mature advice.

Thus, the University's concern for the development of its students is not limited to the classroom instruction; its interest in the character of its students is demonstrated in the conduct of all their activities. The principles of individual liberty, of toleration and cooperation, of equitable participation in the widest benefits which a university education may offer, as well as the intelligent subordination of personal desire to the best interests of the academic community, are protected and fostered as an integral part of the University's social ideals.

Further information concerning the liberal arts program will be furnished on request to the Dean of Columbian College. For information concerning admissions, and for copies of the catalogue, address the Director of Admissions, The George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

II. TENURE

Recognizing that sound policies of tenure are essential in order to attract and develop a faculty qualified to serve the best interests of the University the Board of Trustees announces the following principles in regard to tenure:

1. All new appointees to the faculty, regardless of rank, will serve a probationary period of stated length. The precise terms of every new appointment stated in writing, will be in the possession both of the University and of the member of the teaching staff.

2. Visiting professors on a full-time status, professorial lecturers, lecturers, assistant professors (medical), associates, clinical instructors, research associates, research assistants, and teaching fellows will be employed on annual contracts which may be renewed an unlimited number of times.

3. Instructors will be engaged on annual contracts. If an instructor is promoted to the rank of assistant professor by the time he has been on the faculty for four years, he will be notified in writing, prior to the beginning of the last semester covered by the contract that his appointment as instructor will not be renewed, unless, upon recommendation by the appropriate officers, the Board of Trustees by special action continues the services of the instructor.

4. Assistant professors will be engaged on an initial two-year contract with additional contracts of one or two years' duration. If an assistant professor is not promoted by the time he has served as assistant professor for seven years, he will be notified in writing, prior to the beginning of the last semester covered by the contract, that his appointment will not be renewed. In exceptional cases, upon recommendation of the appropriate administrative officers and by special action of the Board of Trustees, the period of assistant professorship may be extended.

5. Promotion to the rank of associate professor will carry with it an appointment of indefinite tenure. A faculty member on indefinite tenure will no longer receive contracts and his service will be terminated only under the provisions stated in Section III, "Termination of Service."

N

by the Administration is privileged to request in writing of his Dean's Council that a faculty committee be appointed to review the matter and render an advisory opinion.

2. Any administrative officer or officers of the University are likewise privileged to request the appropriate Dean's Council to appoint a committee to review any case involving conditions which might lead to the dismissal of a member of the staff on the status of indefinite tenure or to consider any other cases including incompetence, inefficiency, disloyalty, unprofessional conduct, etc., on which an advisory opinion is desired.

3. The Faculty Personnel Committee is to consist of five members to be selected by the Dean's Council of the school in which the case arises and is to serve only for the specific case in question. Both the administrative officers of the University and the instructor involved in the case shall have an unlimited number of peremptory challenges concerning the personnel of the committee, and the committee finally selected shall have the approval of both parties.

4. Both parties involved shall be privileged to be present at all hearings but the proceedings of the committee shall be considered confidential. The opinion of the committee shall be available to both parties concerned, through the secretary of the committee.

V. ACADEMIC FREEDOM

1. The University will not place any restraint upon the instructor's freedom of investigation. An instructor, however, will take cognizance of University policies in regard to the coordination of research efforts and he will not permit his research to interfere with his teaching duties. The University has the right to request a member of the staff to plan his investigative work to contribute to cooperative projects when such have been undertaken by a vote of the appropriate faculty committee. A member of the staff may request of the University Committee on Research that his program be modified to permit him to undertake an approved research project which could not be undertaken without such cooperation.

2. The University will not impose any limitation upon the instructor's freedom of exposition of his own subject in the classroom or in addresses and publications outside the University, except in so far as the necessity of adapting instruction to the needs of immature students limits the scope and character of instruction.

N

3. No instructor may claim as his right the privilege of discussing in his classrooms controversial topics outside his own field of study. The instructor is morally bound not to take advantage of his position by introducing into the classroom provocative discussions of irrelevant subjects not within his field of study.

4. The University will recognize that the instructor in speaking and writing outside the Institution upon subjects beyond the scope of his own field of study is entitled to precisely the same freedom and is subject to the same responsibility as attached to all other citizens. If the extra-mural utterances of an instructor should be such as to raise grave doubts concerning his fitness for his position, the question should in all cases be submitted to a Faculty Advisory Committee. It should be clearly understood that the Institution assumes no responsibility for views expressed by members of its staff; and instructors should, when necessary, take pains to make it clear that they are expressing only their personal opinions.

VI. SABBATICAL LEAVES

After six years of service on the part of a member of the academic staff on full service and above the rank of instructor, he is entitled to apply for sabbatical furlough and the Board may grant such furlough on the following conditions:

1. That the member of the staff of instruction accepting the furlough pledges to devote his time to a program which he has outlined, and which has been accepted by the University officers.

2. That the Board shall be satisfied that the applicant's ability and aptitude are such that the University is likely to benefit from the increased efficiency acquired during his absence.

3. That the applicant have the approval of the executive officer of his department, the dean of his College, and the President of the University.

N

LER

4. That for the period of leave the University will pay the absentee one half of his salary for a full year or a full salary for one semester.

5. That the member of the staff accepting a furlough shall continue in the service of the University for at least one year following the furlough.

6. That the salary paid for the period of the furlough be understood to be a contemporaneous compensation for service rendered to the University in acquiring efficiency for subsequent service to be rendered to the University.

VII. LEAVE

Leave of absence without salary for study or for any other good reason may be requested by any member of the staff of instruction at any time.

VIII. RETIREMENT

1. A member of the University staff of instruction on the Trustees' Roll who shall have been in service on a full-time basis with the rank of professor or associate professor, and who shall have served in such professional status or its equivalent for fifteen years, at least ten of which shall have been in The George Washington University, shall be retired at the end of the academic year in which such member shall reach the age of sixty-five, unless, with the consent of the faculty member, and upon the recommendation of the President of the University, the Board shall continue such service. In all cases, however, such members of the University staff of instruction shall be retired at the end of the academic year in which they reach the age of seventy; however, a member of the University staff of instruction eligible for retirement during a period between two academic years may be continued in active service during the academic year next succeeding and shall be retired at the conclusion thereof.

This retirement plan shall not apply to a member of the staff who is on a limited-service basis.

2. A professor of long and distinguished service to the University may upon retirement be appointed professor emeritus. A professor emeritus is entitled to use the facilities of the University; to participate in faculty meetings without vote; may serve on committees; and may perform such other services as are in keeping with his desires and the needs of the University.

N

3. A member of the faculty who has served The George Washington University on a full-time basis with the rank of associate professor or professor for fifteen years or more, who becomes incapacitated and unable to continue his duties, is eligible for retirement and entitled to such annuities as may be provided by the University.

4. A member of the faculty who becomes convinced that it would be best for him and for the University for him to decrease his responsibilities, due to advancing years, ill health, or any other cause, should, with the consent of the President, be privileged to do so without prejudice, provided that a corresponding adjustment in compensation be accepted. Initiative in this matter may also be taken by the President in cooperation with a Faculty Advisory Committee.

IX. RETIREMENT ANNUITIES

A member of the staff from the full-service list officially retired shall be paid such salary as shall be set by the Board of Trustees at its annual budget meeting, until special arrangements for annuities can be established.

X. HEALTH SERVICE

The University, recognizing the influence of the health of the college teacher on his professional competence, provides an annual physical examination without charge to all those who care to avail themselves of the privilege.

XI. PROMOTIONS

Promotion in rank does not come automatically through length of service but rather is dependent upon growth in professional competence and increased service to the University. Such growth may be evidenced through (1) increased ability as a teacher, (2) productive scholarship, (3) participation and leadership in professional societies, (4) service on University committees, (5) assistance to student organizations, and (6) general service to the University and the community. To merit promotion a member of the staff of instruction will ordinarily be expected to show development along a number of these plished through (1) sound scholarship, (2) effective teaching, and (3) original contributions.

N

In order to stimulate students to understand and appreciate the values inherent in a field of knowledge, the instructor must have a command of his subject and keep informed concerning new developments in his field. He must also be a student of contemporary life in general so as to be able to interpret his field in the light of related knowledge. Since professional organizations take an active part in encouraging research and diffusing new knowledge, such organizations obviously merit the active support of the workers in their respective fields. Through their journals and other suitable publications, the instructor will present from time to time contributions to the advancement of knowledge.

C. Non-teaching Responsibilities

The teacher's responsibility to the University extends beyond the ordinary classroom duties to include those functions which fall to the teacher as a member of the University community and as an individual member of the group largely responsible for the University's educational development. These duties include: regular attendance at faculty meetings, convocations, and other academic occasions; service on faculty or University committees; assistance in the administrative work of his department or in the general administrative work of the University when called upon; and service to students as a general or departmental adviser, when so assigned. In addition, the University has the right to expect a teacher, so far as is consistent with the demands upon his time and energy, to serve the community, upon which the University in large measure depends. This service may be of many types, such as participation in civic and community group-activities; lectures before organizations in the city and surrounding area; addresses at high-school graduation exercises and at similar functions; radio talks; service as technical expert or adviser to community groups; and the like. In undertaking these activities, the primary objective should be the development of the University's usefulness to the community. Such activities may result in some financial remuneration, but this should not be considered as an objective in itself or as a necessary concomitant to such activities.

N

LER

D. Outside Remunerative Activities

No member of the staff on a full-service basis may accept an outside teaching appointment during the academic year or engage in any other regular activity of a remunerative nature without the approval of the University. A member of the staff is under obligation not to permit such employment, even when officially approved, to interfere with his primary responsibility to the University.

XIII. NOTICE

No part of these regulations as published shall be retroactive.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY PROGRAM

AMERICAN higher education has been adversely criticized because of its alleged emphasis upon technical requirements and corresponding neglect of "real education". References are frequently made to supposed parallels between American colleges and universities and the American industrial system, or to "mass-production" of college graduates. The granting of degrees based upon the acquisition of a stated total of miscellaneous and uncoordinated "course-credits", or "hours", rather than upon any unified educational achievement, has also been criticized.

In their efforts to meet these criticisms and correct undoubted evils, American institutions of higher education have for some years been experimenting with various "plans" intended to bring about coordination and unification of instruction. Such plans tend to place increased emphasis upon content and less upon "credits" and to give greater attention to the individual student and to the development of his ability to deepen and coordinate his own knowledge. It is not necessary to mention here the various methods for attaining these ends; those interested in higher education are familiar with the ideas represented by such expressions as "tutorial system", "fields of concentration", "divisional examinations", "the house plan", "reading for honors", and the like.

The problems referred to above were attacked at The George Washington University beginning in 1930. At that time the work of the freshman and sophomore years was made a separate unit and assigned to the Junior College, while the junior and senior years were retained in Columbian College. As a further step, the year of study leading to the Master's degree was separated from the graduate work for the Doctor's degree and assigned to Columbian College, thereby restoring the traditional close relationship of the baccalaureate and Master's degrees in arts. This innovation was accompanied by the establishment of a carefully controlled Independent Study Plan. Under the Independent Study Plan a student of demonstrated capacity, with special interest in the subject-matter of a course, may be permitted to undertake independent study under the personal direction of the instructor. At the same time, the University also adopted the divisional type of educational organization. Under it, previously self-defined and autonomous departments have been grouped together into larger units, based upon such factors as relationship of content and methods and similarity of background and viewpoint. The divisional plan shifts responsibility for courses and methods of instruction to the division, and coordinates isolated departments more intimately into the developing fields of knowledge.

The George Washington University program of educational sequence in the liberal arts and sciences extends from the elementary collegiate discipline of the Junior College through the studies for the baccalaureate degree to the Master of Arts discipline. A well-rounded undergraduate major, supported by studies in related fields, is the core of the Columbian College program. From it the Master of Arts discipline logically develops. The culmination of the University's program is study for the professional research degree of Doctor of Philosophy, administered by the Graduate Council.

The Junior College

The purpose of the Junior College curriculum is to assist the student to obtain an integrated knowledge of the society of which he is a part; to foster a proper appreciation of cultural values; to enable the student to acquire the techniques by means of which he can use his knowledge; and to provide an opportunity for the student to demonstrate his native capacity and the personal qualities which will make him a useful citizen. To accomplish this purpose, comprehensive courses are offered in the four basic fields of English, foreign languages, social studies, and the biological and physical sciences.

All freshman students are required to enroll for the freshman English course. The first semester of this course combines practice in composition with an introductory study of literature. On recommendation of the Department of English, students who prove themselves to be well prepared in grammar and composition may enroll for a sophomore literature course in the second semester of the freshman year. All other students are required to complete the second semester of freshman English. Sophomore students are required to take a survey course in English Literature, American Literature, or European Literature.

In foreign languages, courses are offered in Greek, Latin, French, Spanish, and German. A total of two years of college or four years of secondary-school study in a foreign language, or an equivalent combination, is required. The foreign-language work in college is articulated with the secondary-school work. The student may, therefore, continue the study of the language taken in the secondary school if he wishes; he is likewise encouraged to undertake the study of other languages which may contribute to the mastery of his major field.

In the social studies, a survey course in the History of European Civilization is offered in the freshman year and a survey course in the History of American Civilization in the sophomore year. The student may, however, choose to elect other survey courses in American Government, Economic Institutions, or Sociology, according to his needs.

Survey courses in the biological and physical sciences provide an opportunity for students to gain a knowledge of man's natural environment. More specialized courses are offered in Botany, Chemistry, Geology, Mathematics, Physics, and Zoology for students who have a particular interest in these sciences or who plan to become candidates for degrees in science.

N

The requirement that students who intend to pursue studies toward the Bachelor of Arts degree must take work in English composition, English literature, foreign languages, social studies, and science, in addition to such courses as they may elect, insures an appropriate preparation for the more specialized studies of the junior and senior years. It also gives students the opportunity to develop wide interests in many subjects—interests which may be continued along with the major program. Thus the Junior College serves as a link between the secondary school on the one hand and the Senior College on the other, in the interests of a truly liberal education.

Columbian College

Columbian College welcomes those students whose knowledge of their physical and social environment, cultural appreciation, mastery of the tools of intellectual endeavor, native capacity, and personal qualities have indicated that they are ready to undertake with success studies leading to the baccalaureate degree.

Admission to Columbian College is therefore based upon the attainment of a Junior Certificate or the equivalent, with such further requirements as the faculty may set. In order to graduate from the Junior College, the student must have met all curriculum requirements and have attained an average of "C" in all work undertaken. Students from other institutions seeking admission to Columbian College by transfer must have attained junior class standing and otherwise have satisfied the same requirements as graduates of the Junior College of The George Washington University.

These standards of admission insure a highly selected student body in Columbian College. As a result, students undertaking major programs may be expected to approach their tasks with appropriate educational backgrounds and intellectual disciplines, as well as familiarity with university methods of study.

The purpose of Columbian College is to round out the program of education begun in the Junior College, and to bring to a focus educationally the individual talents and aptitudes of the student of liberal arts. The program involves a comprehensive survey of a field of study, together with such knowledge of other fields as will contribute to the intellectual development and social effectiveness of the student.

The Graduate Council

At the apex of the University's educational structure is the Graduate Council, which administers the professional research work leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, in accordance with a procedure based upon the guild system associated with the medieval university.

The purpose of the Graduate Council is to create a fellowship between the Masters of Research in the various fields and the students who have apprenticed themselves to these Masters, and through this relationship to foster a creative spirit in the graduate studies leading to the professional research degree of Doctor of Philosophy. The basic conception of this degree is the attainment of a mastery of related fields of knowledge, achieved without regard to specific courses of instruction, and the development of the ability, through original research, to make a contribution to knowledge. This program revives the historical relationship of master and apprentice. In keeping with this idea a student, after satisfying certain requirements, is responsible solely to the Master under whom he has signified his desire to work.

N

LLER

NEW-TYPE MAJORS IN COLUMBIAN COLLEGE

The reordering of the University's program, begun in 1930, has been completed and is in effect in the Junior College and in the Graduate Council; but the program in Columbian College has until recently been incomplete. The faculty had, however, been giving careful consideration for an extended period of time to the problems inherent in carrying out the educational philosophy of the University's liberal arts program and in giving practical effect to its aims and objectives with respect to both the undergraduate major and the Master's work. A primary purpose in these discussions was the placing of emphasis upon the student's mastery of fields of study and coordination of his knowledge of their content.

On May 27, 1936, after two years of thorough study and discussion, the faculty of Columbian College adopted the new plan of undergraduate majors. A further year (1936-37) was devoted to preparation for the introduction of the new-type majors and the formulation of specific majors to be offered beginning with the academic year 1937-38.

The new plan carries to its logical conclusion the reorganization of the liberal arts program of the University. It also brings Columbian College (the Senior College) into line with the Graduate Council of the University in making the degree depend upon coordinated intellectual achievement rather than upon the mere accumulation of course-credits.

Columbian College is well fitted to undertake this program by reason of the demonstrated capacity of its student body. The high standard of selective admission maintained throughout the University and the effectiveness of the Junior College program account in part for this. During the past several years, for instance, the average of scholarship of all students in Columbian College has been well above the general scholastic average for the entire University. This achievement indicates that the students of Columbian College are ready to meet the higher and broader standards set under the new plan.

The new-type majors differ from the old-type in administration, content, and requirements.

Administration of the New Majors

Unlike the old-type majors, which are administered by the departments concerned, the new undergraduate majors will be under the supervision of the division in which the major field lies. Divisional Educational Committees will have general supervision of all majors in the respective divisions, subject to the approval of the division. Coordination of majors will be one of the functions of these committees. A Columbian College Committee on Studies, composed of representatives of each of the divisions, under the chairmanship of the Dean of Columbian College, will review the various majors as to content and requirements in order to make certain that all majors have the same general proportion in relation to the whole undergraduate program, and that the standards of achievement in each instance are comparable.

The functions of professors under the new plan are: to formulate or assist in formulating the contents of majors falling within their fields; to offer when called upon proseminar courses in the major fields of study; and to advise and guide students in their reading, study, laboratory exercises, and the like, in order to assist them in obtaining a comprehensive knowledge of the field. They will also prepare, with the assistance of colleagues in related fields, the major examinations in their special fields, and submit these for approval to the appropriate Educational Committees.

N

LLER

Content and Requirements for New-Type Majors

Although the minimum requirements for the Bachelor's degree will still include completion of a specific number of semester-hours, the content of the major will no longer be defined in terms of courses or credits, but rather in terms of subject-matter. The definition will be supplemented by reading-lists and other materials. In formulating the content of the field, courses may be suggested, but not required.

The passing of a written examination in the defined field of the major will be the evidence that the requirements of the major have been satisfied. Naturally, most students will take courses in their major fields covering a portion of the minimum semester-hour requirements for the degree, and will ordinarily be encouraged to do so; but they will not be required to take such courses. Moreover, an essential part of the new program is the protection of the student against overspecialization, by requiring a substantial amount of work in subjects outside of the major.

Definition and Objectives

An undergraduate or baccalaureate major may be defined as a coordinated study of the content and methods of a field of knowledge. Although generally confined to a single department of instruction, a major may also be taken in a group of closely related subjects, or in some important and integral subdivision of a departmental program. In other words, a major may be offered by a single department; or in a group of related studies involving more than one department, or even more than one division; or one department may offer more than one major field of study within itself.

The objective of the major is to give to the student, at the time of his graduation, the skill and knowledge of a field of learning, enlarged and strengthened by studies in related subjects, so that he may, with conviction and understanding, meet the needs, activities, and interests of modern life.

Study for the major, however, is not intended to displace the ideal of a liberal education. The student is advised against overspecialization, protected from undue encroachment upon his time and energy by major requirements, and given opportunity for the broadening of his knowledge throughout the undergraduate discipline. In order to assure this, at least two fifths of his work during the junior and senior years must be taken in subjects not included in the major. Responsibility for carrying out this provision rests with the professor or department of the major subject, by whom all courses taken by the student in Columbian College will be approved.

The Proseminar

For the convenience of the student a proseminar course will be given in each field of study in which new-type majors are offered, under the supervision of the division concerned. This course, planned and administered by the professor or the department of the major subject, will provide advice, guidance, and instruction for the student in his reading, study, laboratory exercises, and the like, in order to assist him in gaining a coordinated knowledge of his field. The proseminar course is not a definite requirement; registration in it is voluntary on the part of the student, and no qualitative grade will be assigned. When registered in this course the student will have the privilege of visiting any other course offered in the College. This proseminar is not intended as a "cramming course". Its object is to present the content and methods of the major field as a whole by organizing and coordinating the knowledge obtained in the various formal courses in the major subject, as well as by suggesting material not usually included in such courses.

N

LLER

The Major Examination

The major examination will normally be taken by the student toward the end of the senior year; in the case of students on limited schedule, the major examination may be taken not earlier than one calendar year before graduation. Students who fail to pass a major examination may, at the discretion of the Columbian College Committee on Studies, be re-examined at a later regular major-examination period. The Educational Committees of the respective divisions will have general supervision of the preparation, reading, and grading of major examinations. Major examinations will be held in the closing weeks of each regular semester and, with the permission of the Committee on Studies, at the conclusion of the Summer Sessions.

There is no requirement of specific courses or credits in order to qualify for the major examination. The student may prepare himself by independent reading and study, or through the work of various recommended courses, or by a combination of both, and by the additional assistance received in the proseminar. The student is invited to confer with the adviser concerning any details not clear to him and to obtain any suggestions for reading and study which may be desired.

NEW PLAN FOR MASTER'S WORK

The new plan for the Master's work (effective in all fields of study with the opening of the academic year 1937-38) is similar in aims and administration, as well as in educational philosophy, to that for the new undergraduate major, but involves greater knowledge of the field and greater acquaintance with scholarly methods, as demonstrated by the Master's thesis and the results of the Master's examination.

NEW UNDERGRADUATE MAJORS OFFERED
IN 1937-38

APPROVAL has been given to the establishment of six new-type majors in 1937-38, as follows:

1. American Thought and Civilization
2. International Relations
3. English Literature
4. Statistics
5. Biology
6. Philosophy

On the basis of techniques developed and experience gained in the administration of these majors, additional new-type majors will gradually be introduced until all majors offered in Columbian College conform to the new plan. In the meantime, old-type majors will continue to be offered, until further notice, in Art, Botany, Chemistry, Classical Languages and Literatures, Economics, French, Geology, Germanic Languages and Literatures, History, Mathematics, Physics, Political Science, Psychology, Public Speaking, Romance Languages and Literatures, Sociology, Spanish, and Zoology. Students who have already begun work on old-type majors in Biology, English, Philosophy, and Statistics will of course be permitted to complete their majors under the old plan if they wish; but new candidates for majors in these four fields will be subject to the new requirements.

Of the six new-type majors offered, two, those in International Relations and in Biology, extend broadly over the work of their respective divisions, and another, that in the field of American Thought and Culture, involves studies in two divisions, those of Languages and Literatures and of Social Sciences. The other majors replace old-type majors in their respective fields.

A description of the new-type undergraduate majors offered in 1937-38 follows.

1. American Thought and Civilization

The undergraduate major in American Thought and Civilization combines the fields of American Literature and American History, together with appropriate additions of material from the fields of Art, Philosophy, and the Social Sciences. The objective of this major is to give to the student at the time of his baccalaureate graduation a coordinated knowledge of American culture with its background of intellectual and social tradition.

This major will be administered by the Professor of American Literature and the Associate Professor of American History, with the cooperation of faculty colleagues in closely related fields. The Professor of American Literature will act as adviser, guide the student in his reading and choice of courses, and offer a proseminar to assist in coordinating the various elements which make up the major.

A knowledge of American thought and civilization requires an understanding of American colonial and national experience and the literature which emanated from it, as well as an understanding of those European backgrounds which have been most influential in affecting American culture. The general content of the major may be listed under the following heads:

- A. European Cultural History: a broad survey of the classical, medieval, renaissance, and modern social and literary cultures which form the background of contemporary civilization, with particular attention to English literature and history from the sixteenth through the nineteenth centuries.

- B. American History: a study of the political, economic, social, and religious thought and experience of the American people.
- C. American Fine Arts: a survey of artistic culture in America, with attention to both native and derivative elements.
- D. American Literature and Philosophy: a survey of the periods and movements from early colonial writings to the present day, with a critical study of the works of outstanding writers and philosophers in connection with each period, and a general acquaintance with American fiction and the drama as popular expressions of social ideas.

2. International Relations

In a world in which nations have become increasingly interdependent and in which national problems are often interrelated with international problems, an integrated knowledge of the historical, political, and economic relations of the principal nations of the world is a necessary part of a liberal education. The major in International Relations is designed to enable the student to coordinate his knowledge of world affairs and also to serve as a basic preparation for graduate work in this field.

The major will be administered by a committee of the Social Science Division. This committee will assist and advise the student in his reading and in his choice of courses. A proseminar course for majors in International Relations, given under the direction of the Major Committee, is open to all students majoring in International Relations. The purpose of this course is to aid the student in his independent study and reading; to assist him in becoming familiar with writings of the publicists in the field of International Relations; and to enable him to obtain a coordinated knowledge of the content and methods of the major field. The proseminar course will consist of directed readings, individual conferences, and group discussion.

A coordinated knowledge of International Relations requires an understanding of the historical development of the Western State System, its forms and institutions, and of the economic and political bases of relations between nations. The general content of the major includes the following:

- A. The origin and development of the Western State System: a survey of the growth of nation-states as seen in the history of Europe and the United States, with an understanding of nationalism as the dominant force in this historical development.
- B. International public law and organization: a survey of the rules, customs, and practices by which states regulate their relations with each other, and of the general functions and structure of international organization.
- C. International politics: a survey of the forces which motivate the action of nation-states, and of the dynamics of foreign policy, with emphasis on the significance of nationalism, imperialism, and the use of force in international relations.
- D. International economic relations: a broad survey of types of international economic relations, including international trade, trade controls and trade barriers, and international economic cooperation.

3. English Literature

The coordinated knowledge which a student must exhibit in the major in the field of English, and upon which he will be examined at the end of his senior year, is summarized under the four general headings that follow:

- A. The history of English literature from the Anglo-Saxon period up to 1900: a broad knowledge of the content and important movements, and the significance of the latter in the development of English thought and artistic expression.
- B. The chief English writers: a certain familiarity with each man and his main works, and a detailed knowledge of Shakespeare. A candidate for special honors shall, in addition, show a detailed knowledge of at least three of the other writers listed below.
- C. The English social and political history, 1300-1900, as it bears upon or is reflected in the literature.
- D. European intellectual backgrounds and movements which have affected English literature.

It is advised that students majoring in English elect courses in English and European historical and intellectual backgrounds before their junior year.

A proseminar course is available under the guidance of the departmental adviser for the purpose of aiding the student in his independent study and of rounding out his knowledge of the field. It will consist of readings in English literature, conferences, and group discussions.

There follows the list of the chief English writers with whose important works the student should familiarize himself:

4. Statistics

The objective of this major is to give to the student at the time of his baccalaureate graduation a coordinated knowledge of Statistics, Statistical Methods, and Statistical Theory with its applications, so that he may be able to elucidate quantitative and qualitative data as affected by a multiplicity of causes.

This major will be administered by the Professor of Statistics, who will act as adviser, guide the student in his reading and choice of courses, and offer a proseminar to assist in coordinating the various elements which make up the major.

A knowledge of Statistics requires an understanding of the underlying mathematical theory which is employed to characterize, compare, and elucidate quantitative or qualitative measurements. The general content of the major may be listed under the following heads:

- A. The history of Statistics: a critical study of the origin and development of certain statistical techniques, involving a knowledge of the originator and his work as a whole.

- B. Characterization numbers: a critical study of the meaning and utility of averages, ratios, measures of dispersion, index numbers, measures of reliability and variability, and measures of relationship, with emphasis on the limitations of these characterization numbers.
- C. Correlation: a critical survey of the meaning, utility, and limitations of the various conceptions of correlation as presented by British, Italian, and Russian experts.
- D. Frequency distributions and time series: a survey of the theory of samples, theory of error, and empirical relationships, with special emphasis on the normal law and the Pearson system; a survey of the elementary analysis of time series with special emphasis on the probable causes of the apparent fluctuations.
- E. Graphical analysis: a critical study of the elements of nomography; a survey of how to make and use various graphic charts.
- F. Collection and presentation of statistical data: a critical survey of the various sources of data, the methods of collection, and the various methods of tabulation and presentation.

5. Biology

A student majoring in this field should have a fair knowledge of the following subjects:

- A. Classification of plants and animals. He should be familiar with the larger groups, such as phyla and classes, and know the characteristic features of each and the reasons for the commonly accepted arrange-to pollute local waters. He should study the regulations which govern the handling of foodstuffs, as these are designed to protect us against the spread of disease, such as typhoid fever in milk or various parasites in the flesh of animals used for food.

N

I. Natural resources of the country. Under this head are considered forests, game, and even the soil itself. The kind of control exercised, whether federal, state, or local, and the reasons therefor should be studied, and the major student should familiarize himself with the conservation activities of the Department of Agriculture, including the Bureau of the Biological Survey, and the National Parks Service.

J. History. The student of Biology should be well-read in the history of the subject from ancient times to the present, and in the development of the different branches of the science during the last two centuries. He will be expected to know something of the lives and principal contributions of the world's leading biologists, past and present.

In addition to the biological material designated, it is desirable that the student majoring in this field include among his elective studies such collateral subjects as Chemistry, Physics, Statistics, Geology, Geography, Psychology, Sociology, and Economics.

The Associate Professor of Biology will act as adviser, guide the student in his reading and choice of courses, and offer a proseminar to assist in coordinating the various elements which make up the major.

G. Philosophy

The following statement describes the nature and content of the undergraduate major in Philosophy, and indicates the materials from which the major examination in Philosophy will be composed. The student is invited to confer with the Associate Professor of Philosophy concerning any details which do not seem clear, and to obtain any additional suggestions for reading and study which may be desired.

A coordinated knowledge of Philosophy on the baccalaureate level involves an introductory study of the problems of knowledge, reality, and value. Stress must be laid upon the history of thought, the role of knowledge in the natural and social sciences, and the problems of value in the life of the contemporary individual, and in present-day society. The study of three fields is required, a fourth being optional for students with a special interest in psychology.

- A. History of Philosophy: an historical survey of the large periods and the main philosophers in the Orient and the western world, including early Chinese philosophy, Hindu philosophy, Buddhism, Zoroastrianism, the pre-Socratic Greeks, Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, the Stoics, the Epicureans, the Old and New Testament, the medieval philosophers, and the philosophers of modern times from Descartes through Bergson.
- B. Logic and Theory of Knowledge: a critical study of deductive logic, induction, and the application of the principles of reflective thought in the natural and social sciences, with special emphasis upon the theories of Aristotle, Copernicus, Newton, Adam Smith, J. S. Mill, Darwin, and John Dewey.
- C. Ethics and Social Philosophy: a study of the various systems of ethical thought, such as hedonism, Stoicism, eudaemonism, Christian ethics, materialism, intuitionism, pragmatism, and personalism: a consideration of the philosophical background of various contemporary social and economic trends.

N

- D. (Optional) The Nature of Mind: a study of the philosophical significance of the various contemporary psychological theories of mind.

The Associate Professor of Philosophy will act as adviser, guide the student in his reading and choice of courses, and offer a proseminar to assist in coordinating the various elements which make up the major.

AUDIT CERTIFICATE

We have examined the accounts and records of THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY relating to the Trust Funds, General Funds and Third and Fourth Divisions for the year ended August 31, 1936, and herewith submit the following comments in connection with the annexed report of the Comptroller.

Cash was verified by actual count and by certificates from the depositories. The amount of $15,012.26 shown as General Fund Cash on the Balance Sheet Exhibit "A", is comprised of the following:

Cash on Deposit.....		$6,622.26
Petty Cash Funds:
Cash.....	$7,036.93
Advances, Unreimbursed Vouchers, etc.	1,353.07	8,390.00
Total Cash.....		$15,012.26

Investments in Stocks, Bonds and Trust Notes Receivable were verified by inspection or confirmed by correspondence with the holders thereof. Securities and Plant Assets are stated at values as shown by the accounts of the University. Additions to Plant Assets were tested and found to be proper charges thereto. Subsequent to the date of this Balance Sheet there was transferred from the General Funds to The Richard E. Pairo Fund $25,071.73 for the purchase of Real Estate at the cost to the latter Fund. Bank Loans and Trust Notes Payable were confirmed directly with the holders thereof. The amount of $82,717.92 due for Construction in Progress was checked to creditors' statements. All other Balance Sheet accounts are stated in accordance with the accounts of the University. Our test of the income due from various Trust Funds indicates a proper accounting therefor.

We hereby certify that, in our opinion, the annexed Balance Sheet of the Trust Funds, the Balance Sheet of the General Funds and Third Division, and the Balance Sheet of the Fourth Division, as compiled by the Comptroller from the accounts of the University, subject to the foregoing comments, reflect the true financial condition of such Funds and Divisions of The George Washington University as at August 31, 1936, and that the relative Income and Expense accounts show the operating results for the year ended on that date.

Respectfully submitted,

R. G. RANKIN & Co.

OFFICERS OF THE UNIVERSITY

It is my pleasure to send the University's welcome to the ophthalmologists who will foregather at the Post Graduate Course. I am glad that the Ophthalmological Department is sponsoring this course which should mean much in the advancement of the sciences supporting ophthalmology.

CLOYD H. MARVIN, President,
George Washington University.

Dr. Earl B. McKinley, Dean of the George Washington University School of Medicine, who is on Sabbatical leave in the Orient engaged in research in leprosy and will therefore not have the pleasure of welcoming those attending the Post Graduate course.

On behalf of the Faculty of the School of Medicine may I extend to you an invitation to attend the Post Graduate course in Ophthalmology. It is a well recognized fact that Post Graduate work in medicine is a necessary adjunct to keeping abreast of modern medicine. Our Department of Ophthalmology has planned to present an intensive course in Ophthalmology, bringing together some of the most outstanding men in this field. We feel that this will prove of distinct value to all interested in this phase of medicine.

WALTER A. BLOEDORN, M.D.,
Assistant Dean of the School of Medicine (Acting Dean).

The George Washington University School of Medicine and Hospital

The idea of a university located in the Capital of the Nation was sponsored by George Washington, who during his public life urged the establishment of such an institution and in his will left fifty shares of stock in the Potomac (Canal) Company for the endowment of a university to be established in the District of Columbia: "to which the youth of fortune and talents from all parts thereof might be sent for the completion of their education in all branches of polite literature, in arts and sciences and in acquiring knowledge in the principles of Politics and Government."

On furtherance of that hope and project of the first President of the United States, this University, founded as Columbian College and now renamed George Washington University, was established.

With General Washington's idea in mind, John Quincy Adams, Secretary of State; William H. Crawford, Secretary of the Treasury; John C. Calhoun, Secretary of War; William Wirt, Attorney-General, and Return J. Meigs, Postmaster-General, became patrons of the new college and, together with thirty-two members of Congress, contributed to a fund raised for the purchase of the land and the development of the work.

The School of Medicine, established in 1821, was formally opened in 1825 and has been in continuous operation since that time.

Army Medical Center (Walter Reed General Hospital)

The Army Medical Center, Washington, D. C., is comprised of the Army Medical Schools and the Walter Reed General Hospital. The site embraces nearly ninety-seven acres. The Army Medical, Dental and Veterinary Schools have been located at the center since 1922 and thus permit their coordination with clinical teaching facilities at Walter Reed General Hospital. The Schools are post-graduate in nature and the Army Medical School courses are chiefly along lines of preventative medicine.

In the Department of Laboratories are produced all of the typhoid vaccine and many biologicals used by the Army, Navy, United States Public Health Service and many other government activities.

Walter Reed General Hospital is conducted as a general hospital, caring for all types of cases except active tuberculosis and mental cases requiring prolonged definitive treatment.

The Center is a point of interest to many Washington visitors and particularly to those interested in modern hospital equipment and medical research and education from at home and abroad.

The Army Medical Museum

The Army Medical Museum was built in 1885 and houses the Army Medical Museum and the Army Medical Library, originally called the Library of the Surgeon General. The Registry of Ophthalmic Pathology is perhaps the finest in the world.

The National Bureau of Standards

The National Bureau of Standards, established in 1901, is charged with the development, construction, custody and maintenance of reference and working standards and their inter-comparison, improvement and application in science, engineering, industry and commerce.

The Library of Congress

The Library of Congress houses one of the largest libraries in the world. On the second floor will be found the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence.

The Folger Library

The Folger Shakespearean Library is the splendid and generous gift of Henry Clay Folger. The building is beautiful and unique. The collection of Shakespeareana is the finest in the world. It consists of the original manuscripts, printed books and musical scores and a replica of the original Shakespearean Theatre.

Supreme Court of the United States

The Supreme Court of the United States is a perfect example of Corinthian architecture. The dominating features of the exterior are the great porticos, with their broad stairways, columns, sculptured pediments and the bronze entrance doors. The marble comes from Vermont, Georgia and Alabama.

The Library of Congress, the Folger Library and the Supreme Court of the United States are within a short walking distance of each other.

SUMMER STUDY IN WASHINGTON

The Summer Sessions offer an opportunity to continue University work during the summer period. The educational value of a term of study in the Capital of the Nation is of great importance. It forms a background for both intelligent and appreciative citizenship. History, political science, economics, literature, and current events are all vivified by a first-hand knowledge of our national institutions and traditions. The schedule of classes will give the student ample time to visit the great libraries and laboratories of the Capital, and to observe the Departments and Bureaus of the Government in operation. The many educational and scientific organizations with central offices and exhibits situated in Washington are accessible to students whose special interests draw on such resources. Excursions will be arranged to the many places of beauty and historic association in nearby Virginia and Maryland.

The National Capital stands in a region distinguished by the personal activities of George Washington, and in this area our national traditions were first expressed. A short distance down the Potomac River is Mount Vernon, the home of Washington and the place most intimately associated with his career. The nearest town, Alexandria, is extremely rich in its associations with the First President and with early American history. Directly across the Potomac from Washington are the hills of Arlington, which was the residence of General Robert E. Lee when he resigned from the army to assume charge of the Confederate forces at Richmond. Old historic Georgetown, now a part of the District of Columbia, has many memories of General Washington. It was in this village that he met local landowners and arranged for the purchase of land for the District of Columbia. Georgetown was the headquarters of Washington and Major L'Enfant when they supervised the work of the surveyors laying out the Capital of the Nation.

The city of Washington, situated on the east bank of the Potomac, with its many parks and shaded boulevards, has the reputation of being the most beautiful city in America. The monumental classic buildings which house the Departments of the Government, the elegant dignity of the White House, and the grandeur of the Capital dominate a city of handsome residences and wide avenues. The notable monuments, the parks and wooded drives contribute to an atmosphere of distinction expressive of the best spirit of our national life.

The Government has been likened to a great university offering special opportunity in the study of governmental administration, diplomacy, the practical application of our constitutional principles, the administration of law, and of political affairs generally. Bureaus, experimental stations, laboratories, museums, and observatories involve every science, and thousands of eminent specialists give to the Nation the results of study and research in a multitude of reports. Realizing the unique educational value of such activities, the Congress resolved "that the facilities for research and illustration in any governmental collections now existing or hereafter to be established in the city of Washington for the promotion of knowledge shall be accessible . . . to the scientific investigators and to students of any institution of higher education now incorporated . . . under the laws of Congress."

The Library of Congress is the greatest of our national institutions in its relation to research and learning. Its large collections include the rarest historical documents and publications; its unique manuscripts and records make up the richest body of source material bearing on the history of our Nation. It contains practically every book printed in America, as well as the most prized of foreign publications. The new Folger Shakespeare Library and special collections in other museums and institutions supplement the Library of Congress in placing Washington foremost as a center of research. The Government's broad educational program centers in the Office of Education, which advises with State, county, and urban school officers as to the administration and improvement of schools, and brings to teachers the results of national experiment and experience. The Bureau of Standards, a unique scientific laboratory, with its large staff of experts, conducts special investigations in the interests of science and technical subjects. The Smithsonian Institution, with its International Exchange Service, distributes a vast accumulation of scientific data and information. The National Museum, with many millions of specimens, is a vast organized collection of the ideas and works of man, illustrating how his simple arts and early beliefs developed into our modern complex culture.

In addition to these Federal institutions which contribute so largely to Washington as a center of learning, there are many other converging forces to make it the focus of educational, intellectual, and cultural achievement. Scientific and educational groups such as the Carnegie Institution of Washington, the American Council on Education, the National Academy of Sciences, the National Research Council, the National Education Association, and the National Geographic Society, with many others, are situated here. Many art galleries, such as the National, the Corcoran, and the Freer, with their priceless collections, are accessible to the student of Fine Arts. And with the increasing importance of the United States in world affairs, Washington also has become the crossroads of international life, in contact with old-world cultures and an internationally recognized center of influence. International groups, such as the Pan American Union and the Carnegie Institution for the Advancement of Peace, have made Washington their headquarters. The embassies and legations of foreign countries, with their staffs of diplomatic experts and assistants, also contribute largely to the international aspect of life in the Capital of the Nation.

Washington has become an ideal university city. In such an atmosphere it is not strange that many institutions of higher learning have developed. As early as 1791 Georgetown University opened its doors to students, and in its long history under the jurisdiction of the Jesuit Order it has grown into an institution of importance. Under the patronage of the Methodist Episcopal Church is American University, with its newly developed campus on the outskirts of the city. In Washington is situated the Catholic University of America, authorized by Pope Leo XIII in 1889 and supported by the Roman Catholic Church. Here also is The George Washington University, a nonsectarian university, which was founded in 1821.

Not only have these institutions derived stimulation from the presence of the other cultural influences in the Capital, but, reciprocally, the scholars of their faculties and the body of students in all branches of university work are contributing no small amount of influence to Washington as a seat of learning.

THE SUMMER SESSIONS

The Summer Sessions of 1936 of The George Washington University will present a full program of academic and professional courses. In addition, special curricula have been prepared in the School of Education and the School of Government. A large number of the regular members of the University Faculty will teach during the summer, and distinguished specialists from the Departments of the United States Government and from national economic and educational organizations have been added to the staff.

The Summer Sessions will be held as follows: nine weeks' term, June 15 to August 15; six weeks' term, July 6 to August 15. In the Law School the first term will be from June 15 to July 29, and the second term from July 30 to September 12.

Courses will be offered in the Junior College, Columbian College (the Senior College), the Law School, the School of Education, the School of Government, and the Division of University Students. Students in the School of Engineering, the Division of Fine Arts, and the Division of Library Science will have the opportunity to take many of their elective and required courses in the Junior College and Columbian College curricula.

ACADEMIC CREDIT

The Summer Sessions are an integral part of the University. Since the courses offered are the equivalent of the corresponding courses offered in the regular terms, academic credit for the completed work will be given toward the appropriate degrees in the various Schools and Divisions of the University.

The general catalogue should be consulted for information concerning regulations and requirements which apply to the various Colleges, Schools, and Divisions of the University.

MAXIMUM OF CREDIT

In general no student may take more than three courses, aggregating nine semester-hours of credit; no employed student may take more than two courses, aggregating six semester-hours of credit.

Students registered only during the six weeks' term may take not more than three courses, aggregating six semester-hours of credit; employed students in the six weeks' term may take not more than two courses, aggregating four semester-hours of credit.

Students in the Law School may obtain a maximum of four semester-hours of credit in each term.

Any exceptions to these general regulations must be made by the Dean of the School or College concerned.

STUDENT LIFE

Provision is made for the social and recreational side of student life during the Summer Sessions. The University receptions and dances are annual events, and special summer editions of the student newspaper are issued. The University's athletic facilities and equipment are available to summer students. Tours and excursions to places of interest, under the direction of competent guides, will be organized for out-of-town students. The numerous parks and golf courses of Washington, the riding trails, water sports on the Potomac and at nearby beaches, all offer a wide choice of outdoor recreation.

The University fee entitles all students in attendance to medical advice and treatment from the office of the University Physician.

A series of University lectures upon themes of contemporary interest by men distinguished in various phases of our modern life will be given during the Sessions.

CLUB PRIVILEGES

For the benefit of out-of-town students, summer privileges (subject to certain limitations) have been granted by the Washington Branch of the American Association of University Women and by the University Club of Washington. Under this arrangement many students may enjoy the use of these club houses and contact with the membership by applying to the Dean of the Summer Sessions.

LIVING QUARTERS AND COSTS

The University has no dormitories. For the benefit of out-of-town students the Residence Bureau maintains a list of rooms and apartments near the University. Single rooms usually cost from $15 to $25 a month, and double rooms, from $10 to $20 a month a person. Rooms with board, including breakfast and dinner, cost from $35 to $40 a month a person.

REDUCED RAILROAD FARES

In certain regions of the country the railroads offer reduced fares for students attending the Summer Sessions. Information and appropriate certificates concerning these reductions may be had from the Office of the Dean of the Summer Sessions.

UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS

The right is reserved to drop any student whenever, in the interest of the student or the University, the Faculty deems it advisable to do so.

The University is not responsible for the loss of personal property belonging to students in any University building.

The University and its various Colleges, Schools, and Divisions reserve the right to modify or change the requirements, rules, and fees of the University. Such regulations shall go into force whenever the proper authorities may determine and shall apply to all students of the University.

The graduation requirement in all undergraduate divisions of the University is the completion of a minimum of one year, or thirty semester-hours in residence. Summer Sessions work may be counted in residence, but in no case may the period of residence aggregate less than thirty weeks.

SPECIAL CURRICULA FOR 1936

Because of its situation, The George Washington University is in a position to organize certain types of academic work which profit especially by the resources of the Departments of the Federal Government and other institutions in the National Capital. In addition to a full program of regular courses in academic and professional divisions of the University, two special curricula are offered by the School of Government and the School of Education.

THE SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT

The School of Government presents a wide variety of courses in History, Economics, Business Administration, and Political Science. In all these courses the application of the material to the recent developments of the Federal Government is stressed. Special mention should be made of the following courses:

THE UNIVERSITY

The idea of a university located in the Capital of the Nation was sponsored by George Washington, who during his public life urged the establishment of such an institution and in his will left fifty shares of stock in the Potomac (Canal) Company for the endowment of a university to be established in the District of Columbia "to which the youth of fortune and talents from all parts thereof might be sent for the completion of their Education in all the branches of polite literature;—in arts and Sciences,—in acquiring knowledge in the principles of Politics & good Government".

The George Washington University is the successor of Columbian College in the District of Columbia, which was chartered by an act of Congress of February 9, 1821. In 1873 the name was changed to "Columbian University" and in 1904 to "The George Washington University".

In 1930 a new plan of academic organization was effected, resembling in principle the master-apprentice relation of the old guild system. The University as it is now organized consists of the Junior College, comprising the work of the freshman and sophomore years; a Senior College, known as "Columbian College", which awards the Bachelor's and Master's degrees; a Council for Graduate Study; the professional Schools and Divisions, which include Medicine, Law, Engineering, Pharmacy, Education, Government, Library Science, and Fine Arts; the Division of University Students; the Center of Inter-American Studies; and the Summer Sessions.

The George Washington University is located in the heart of the city of Washington, a short distance from the Potomac River and the Mall. Within a few blocks are the White House and the offices of many of the Departments of the Government, including the Department of State, the Treasury Department, the War Department, the Navy Department, the Department of Justice, the Department of the Interior, the Department of Commerce, and the Department of Labor. The Corcoran Gallery of Art, the Pan American Union Building, and the National Academy of Sciences are also nearby; and the Capitol and the Library of Congress can be reached by street car in twenty minutes from any of the University buildings.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES

Buildings, grounds, and equipment of the University are valued at $3,500,000. The buildings of the Colleges, Schools, and Divisions offering Summer Sessions work are located in the vicinity of Twenty-first and G Streets NW.

THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

The University Library, which comprises the General Library, the various divisional, departmental, and seminar libraries, the Medical Library, and the Law Library, contains more than 100,000 volumes.

The General Library includes, in addition to the general collection, the library of the late Professor Richard Heinzel, of the University of Vienna, which contains 7,200 books and pamphlets in Germanic philology and literature and cognate branches; the library of the late Professor Curt Wachsmuth, of the University of Leipzig, which contains 7,900 books and pamphlets in Greek and Roman literature, archeology, and history; the Mount Vernon Alcove, which contains 4,000 volumes in political history, international law, and the social sciences; a representative collection of Spanish-American books, the gift of the Governments of Hispanic America; the Chauncey Mitchell Depew Public Speaking Library of approximately 500 volumes, the gift of Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew; and the library of the Division of Fine Arts, which contains over 2,000 volumes, mainly on architecture, and the Russell Sturgis collection of 7,500 mounted photographs. About 1,000 of these latter volumes constitute a collection made available by the American Institute of Architects, to whom the library is always accessible.

The General Library, in Lisner Hall, Building I, 2023 G Street, is open from 8.30 a.m. to 9.30 p.m. Monday to Friday, and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

The Law Library, in Stockton Hall, Building U, 720 Twentieth Street, is open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday to Friday, and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

OTHER LIBRARY FACILITIES

Students have access also to the Library of Congress; the Public Library of the District of Columbia and its branches; the Library of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace; the Library of the Pan American Union; the Library of the Bureau of Railway Economics; the Library of the United States Department of Agriculture, with its scientific departmental collections; the Library of the United States Office of Education; the Army Medical Library; the Library of the Smithsonian Institution; and many of the other great special collections of the Government Departments.

GOVERNMENTAL INSTITUTIONS ACCESSIBLE TO STUDENTS

In order to promote research and the diffusion of knowledge, the Congress of the United States has made the scientific resources of the Government accessible to students under the terms of the following joint resolution, approved April 12, 1892:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the facilities for research and illustration in the following and any other Governmental collections now existing or hereafter to be established in the city of Washington for the promotion of knowledge shall be accessible, under such rules and restrictions as the officers in charge of each collection may prescribe, subject to such authority as is now or may hereafter be permitted by law, to the scientific investigators and to students of any institution of higher education now incorporated or hereafter to be incorporated under the laws of Congress or of the District of Columbia, to wit:

- One. Of the Library of Congress.
- Two. Of the National Museum.
- Three. Of the Patent Office.
- Four. Of the Bureau of Education.
- Five. Of the Bureau of Ethnology.
- Six. Of the Army Medical Museum.
- Seven. Of the Department of Agriculture.
- Eight. Of the Fish Commission.
- Nine. Of the Botanic Gardens.
- Ten. Of the Coast and Geodetic Survey.
- Eleven. Of the Geological Survey.
- Twelve. Of the Naval Observatory.

ADMISSION

The courses given in the Summer Sessions offer opportunities to qualified students of two distinct classes: first, persons interested in special subjects who do not desire credits for degrees from The George Washington University, and students of other institutions; secondly, students who have already matriculated, and new students who plan to work toward degrees in this institution.

I. ENTRANCE PROCEDURE FOR STUDENTS NOT SEEKING DEGREES

Interested persons should file with the Director of Admissions an application blank obtainable at the Office of Admissions, 2033 G Street NW. Such students will be admitted only to those courses for which they have adequate preparation and for which the approval of the instructor is obtained. Students in this group will register in the Division of University Students.

II. ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS FOR STUDENTS SEEKING DEGREES

The requirement for admission to the freshman class of the Junior College (which prepares for the professional Schools) and of the School of Engineering is a certificate of graduation from an accredited four-year high-school course, amounting to at least fifteen "units". For admission to the School of Engineering or to the premedical curriculum in the Junior College, these units must be distributed as specified in the general catalogue of the University.

The quality of work done must be satisfactory. A graduate of a school regionally accredited must rank in the upper four fifths of his class; a graduate of a school State accredited only, must rank in the upper two fifths of his class. Transfer students, in order to be admitted, must likewise rank well in the accredited institution previously attended.

Further information regarding requirements for admission, and regarding entrance examinations, may be found in the general catalogue of the University.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS TO STUDENTS SEEKING DEGREES

1. Prospective students should write to the Director of Admissions, The George Washington University, for an application blank, which should be filled out carefully and returned at once. All questions must be answered, and the Division to which admission is desired should be checked. Although this application does not bind the individual to attend the University, it gives important information and saves time during the student's registration procedure.

2. A student entering The George Washington University for the first time, and expecting to become a candidate for a degree here, should see that a transcript of his record from each institution of higher learning previously attended, is forwarded direct to this University.

Applicants for the premedical curriculum must have their high-school records sent in upon the University form, in addition to any other transcripts.

Students who have graduated from high school only should ask the Director of Admissions to mail them a special high-school-record form, which the student will then forward to his principal.

3. In order that credentials may be considered and the decision reported without delay, students are urged to file both application and record or records immediately upon deciding to apply for admission.

REGISTRATION

Before a student may be admitted to registration he must have satisfied the Admissions Office that he is qualified for entrance to the University (see "Admission", pages 21-22).

TIME AND PLACE OF REGISTRATION

Registration for the nine weeks' term in the Junior College, Columbian College, the School of Education, the School of Government, the Division of University Students, the Division of Library Science, and the Division of Fine Arts will be held on Monday, June 15. Registration will be conducted in Corcoran Hall, 725 Twenty-first Street NW., from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Registration for the six weeks' term in these Schools and Divisions will be held on Monday, July 6. Registration for the first term in the Law School will be conducted in Stockton Hall on Monday, June 15. Registration for the second term in the Law School will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 28 and 29.

REGISTRATION PROCEDURE

Instructions for registration will be issued to each student at the time of registration. A student who has previously matriculated in the University but who has not been in attendance during the semester prior to registration, should file an application blank in advance of registration.

LATE REGISTRATION

For registration after June 15 in the nine weeks' term, and after July 6 in the six weeks' term, a late-registration fee of $5 will be charged. Registration in all courses for credit closes on June 22 for the nine weeks' term and on July 13 for the six weeks' term.

All fees are payable at the Office of the Comptroller, 2101 G Street, NW. No student is permitted to complete registration or to attend classes until all fees are paid. All fees are due in advance at the time of registration. In exceptional cases, subject to the approval of the Comptroller, students registering for more than three semester-hours in the nine weeks' term may sign contracts for their charges permitting instalment payments as follows: One-half plus the University fee and deposits at the time of registration, and one-half on July 15th. Students whose fees are not paid in full on or before July 17th will be suspended and may not attend classes until they have paid all accrued fees, a reinstatement fee of $5.00 and have been officially reinstated. A suspended student may not be reinstated for the session after one week from the date of suspension. Applications for reinstatement are to be made to the Dean of the School or Director of the Division in which the student is registered.

Fees of students registering for the six weeks' courses are payable in full at the time of registration.

No student may register in any department of the University who owes fees in any other department of the University.

Auditors pay all fees chargeable to students registered for credit except the late-registration fee.

WITHDRAWALS AND REFUNDS

In the nine weeks' courses, if the notice of withdrawal or change in schedule is received by the Dean of the School or the Director of the Division in which the student is registered on or before July 14th, the second instalment will be cancelled or adjusted. Notification to an instructor is not an acceptable notice. In no case will any part of an initial instalment of tuition be reduced or refunded because of nonattendance upon classes.

In all six weeks' courses, including courses in the Law School, registrations are for the term and no refunds or rebates are allowed, unless the registration is in advance and the course is dropped before the day of registration for the term involved.

Any student in Chemistry who fails to check out of the laboratory on or before the date set by the instructor, unless excused by the instructor, shall forfeit the balance of his deposit. Students dropping a course before the end of the term are urged to check out at once.

No permission to withdraw and no certificate of work done will be given a student who has not a clear financial record.

As the fiscal year of the University ends on August 31, no requests for refunds can receive consideration after that date.

THE COLLEGE SCHOOLS AND DIVISIONS

THE JUNIOR COLLEGE

INTRODUCTORY

The Junior College includes the first two years of college work. Its curriculum is intended to continue the studies of a general cultural nature begun in the secondary schools, and to lay a foundation for the more specialized work which is to follow. During the freshman and sophomore years emphasis is accordingly laid (1) upon the social, cultural, biological, and physical background of civilization (history, political science, physical and biological sciences, literature, etc.) and (2) upon the discipline necessary to the effective prosecution of more advanced work (English rhetoric and composition, foreign languages, mathematics, etc.).

The Junior College also provides the preprofessional work required for admission to the Schools of Law, Medicine, Pharmacy, Education, and Government, and the Divisions of Library Science and Fine Arts.

In addition, it provides two two-year curricula, leading to the Junior Certificate, which are intended to meet the needs of students who do not look forward to a four-year college course.

ADVISORY SYSTEM

In order that students may have abundant opportunities, not only for assistance in planning their courses of study, but also for personal, educational, and vocational advice in every phase of their academic work during the first two years, a number of members of the Faculty serve as advisers to Junior College students. Incoming students will be assigned to advisers at the time of registration and will be required to consult them at least once during the summer. Students on probation and "warned" students are required to consult their respective advisers at such stated intervals as the Dean or adviser may direct. (See regulations on scholarship in the general catalogue, and "warnings", below.) All students are, however, encouraged to consult their advisers about their college problems at any time, irrespective of these requirements. Students are expected to consult with the same advisers throughout their freshman and sophomore years, it being understood that these members of the Faculty act in the capacity of general educational advisers rather than as representatives of their respective departments of instruction.

ADMISSION

For a statement of the general regulations and procedure for admission to the University, see pages 21-22.

THE CERTIFICATE OF JUNIOR STANDING

Upon the satisfactory completion of the requirements of the Junior College, a Certificate of Junior Standing is granted. This certificate is required for admission to the junior class of Columbian College and to the professional Schools which require two years of preprofessional work.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE CERTIFICATE

To be recommended for a certificate, a student must satisfy the admission, residence, scholarship, and curriculum requirements. The curriculum requirements include at least sixty-four semester-hours of credit. A semester-hour of credit is one recitation or lecture a week or one laboratory period a week for one semester. For further information, see the Junior College announcement in the general catalogue.

The scholarship requirements, as stated in detail in the general catalogue, are in effect during the Summer Sessions.

WARNINGS

At stated intervals during the Summer Sessions instructors shall file in the Office of the Registrar the names of those students who are doing work of D grade or lower. These "warnings" shall be transmitted to the students concerned and copies forwarded to their respective advisers. A warning constitutes notice to the student that he must consult his adviser within a reasonable time and in any case not later than two weeks after receipt of the warning.

"Warning periods" during the Summer Sessions are established as follows: six-week courses, third to fourth week; nine-week courses, fourth to fifth week.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Junior College students may not take second-group courses (courses numbered 101-200) without the written permission of the instructor and of the Dean of the Junior College. A student will not be permitted to postpone a first-group course, required under the curriculum for which he is registered, in order to take a second-group course for elective credit. The principle that first-group courses must be taken in the Junior College years and advanced courses in the Senior College and the professional Schools, will be rigidly adhered to in approving student programs.

COLUMBIAN COLLEGE

ADMISSION

Applicants for admission to Columbian College having the intention of becoming candidates for the degrees of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science must present a certificate of Junior Standing, based on the appropriate curriculum of the Junior College, or its equivalent.

Applicants for admission to Columbian College having the intention of becoming candidates for the degree of Master of Arts must present a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution and a transcript of studies previously pursued.

THE BACHELOR'S DEGREES

Upon the satisfactory completion of the undergraduate requirements of Columbian College, the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science is conferred.

In conjunction with the professional curricula the following combined curricula are offered: a six-year curriculum leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws, and a seven-year curriculum leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Doctor of Medicine.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREES

To be recommended for a baccalaureate degree a student must satisfy the admission, residence, scholarship, and curriculum requirements.

A minimum of one year, or thirty semester-hours, must be completed in residence. Summer Sessions work may be counted in residence, but in no case may the period of residence aggregate less than thirty weeks. Unless special permission is granted by the Dean to pursue work elsewhere, the work of the senior or final year must be completed in residence.

The scholarship requirements, as stated in detail in the general catalogue, are in effect during the Summer Sessions.

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

Every candidate for graduation must satisfy one of the four curricula listed below leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. The curriculum requirements include at least sixty semester-hours of credit beyond that of the Junior College.

In the case of curricula B-I, B-II-a, and B-II-b in Columbian College, the requirements for the major in the several departments of instruction are stated in the general catalogue immediately preceding the announcement of courses offered. The first year of Law or Medicine satisfies the requirements for the major in the combined Arts and Law and Arts and Medicine curricula respectively.

Students are required to select and file with the Registrar a choice of a major upon entering Columbian College. Students may change the major only with the consent of the Dean and the executive officers of the departments concerned.

BACHELOR OF ARTS

B-I.* General Curriculum.—The work of the junior and senior years, including a major, must be approved by the major department and the Dean.

D.* Combined Curriculum: Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws.—This curriculum contemplates three years of collegiate study (the final 30 semester-hours of which must be taken in Columbian College) and three years in The George Washington University Law School.

I.* Combined Curriculum: Bachelor of Arts and Doctor of Medicine.—This curriculum contemplates three years of collegiate study (the final 30 semester-hours of which must be taken in Columbian College) and four years in The George Washington University School of Medicine.

Students wishing to avail themselves of the opportunity offered by these combined curricula must obtain the approval of the Dean of Columbian College at the time of entering the professional School. Upon the completion of the first year of the regular curriculum in the professional School, and upon the recommendation of its Dean, the degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

The work of the junior and senior years, including a major in one of the six sciences mentioned below, must be approved by the major department and the Dean.

B-II-a.* Botany, Geology, and Zoology Curriculum.—Geology 21-22 must be taken if not elected earlier.

B-II-b.* Chemistry, Mathematics, and Physics Curriculum.—If Botany has been elected earlier, Geology 21-22 or Zoology 1-2 must be taken. If Geology has been elected earlier, either Botany 1-2 or Zoology 1-2 must be taken.

*See the table of the Junior College curricula in the general catalogue of the University, facing pages 90-91.

THE MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE

Upon the satisfactory completion of the graduate requirements of Columbian College, the degree of Master of Arts is conferred.

CANDIDACY

A student is formally recognized as a candidate for the Master's degree only when his application for candidacy has been approved by the major department and the Dean. This application is made on a form obtained at the Office of the Registrar, and such application must be approved before the student begins the last fifteen hours of work for the Master's degree. Also before being admitted to candidacy the student must show a reading knowledge (certified by the appropriate language department) of at least one modern foreign language to be selected by the major department. Examinations in modern foreign languages will be given on September 26, February 13, and July 16.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE

Candidates for the degree of Master of Arts must complete successfully a minimum of thirty semester-hours of work forming a consistent plan of study, of which at least eighteen semester-hours must be in the major subject. Not more than twelve semester-hours may be taken in another School or Division of the University, and such work may not be counted toward both a degree in that School or Division and the Master's degree in Columbian College. A thesis, counting six semester-hours of the above thirty semester-hours, may or may not be required at the discretion of the major department.

Advanced work in other institutions of learning may be credited toward the Master's degree to the extent of not more than six semester-hours upon presentation of detailed certificates of the work for which credit is sought. However, if such work in other institutions is done during the student's period of residence in The George Washington University, it will not be so counted unless the student has obtained the written permission of his major department before entering upon such work. Such allowance of credit will be at the discretion of the Committee on Admission and Advanced Standing.

Work completed here, or elsewhere, more than three years prior to registration for the Master's degree, will be counted only if the candidate successfully passes an examination on the subject matter of the work offered for credit.

Courses may be elected from one, two, or three departments with the approval of the major department. The program of study must include at least twelve semester-hours of third-group courses (numbered above 200), exclusive of the thesis, unless the major department gives written permission to count less.

Second-group courses (numbered 101-200) may be counted toward the Master's degree only when registration for advanced credit has been approved at the beginning of the course by the Dean of Columbian College and by the officer of instruction, and provided that the student shall have done such extra work in the courses as may be prescribed by the department concerned. No work counted toward a baccalaureate degree may be counted toward a Master's degree.

In addition to the course examinations, candidates must pass a general final examination on the major subject. The examination may be either oral or written, or both.

A minimum of one year must be completed in residence. Summer Sessions work may be counted in residence, but in no case may the period of residence aggregate less than twenty-seven weeks. Unless special permission has been granted by the Dean to pursue the work elsewhere, the last work before graduation must be completed in residence.

THE LAW SCHOOL

ADMISSION

The requirements for admission are the same as those for the regular session, as stated in the Law School announcement in the general catalogue. For candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws the requirement is the completion before admission of two years (sixty semester-hours) of college work. Students from other law schools may be admitted for the Summer Session only as regular or as unclassified students. Unclassified students must comply with the same entrance requirements as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

Qualified students are permitted to begin the study of Law in the first term of the Summer Session, but not in the second term.

THE DEGREES

The Law School offers the degrees of Bachelor of Laws and Master of Laws. Regarding requirements for these degrees, see the Law School announcement in the general catalogue.

RESIDENCE AND ATTENDANCE

The Summer Session is a regular part of the work of the School. The character of the instruction, the amount and grade of work required, and the rules and regulations as to residence, attendance upon classes, and grades, are the same as in the regular session of the academic year. Credit is given for subjects completed by regularly qualified students. Residence credit is given for one fifth of a part-time year for attendance in one term of the Summer Session. A part-time year is three fourths of a full-time year and one fourth of the residence requirement for the degree of Bachelor of Laws. In no case will residence credit amounting to more than this be allowed for attendance during the Summer Session. No student will be recommended for the degree for which he is a candidate unless he has completed the requirements for residence as well as those for semester-hours in subjects. A student who at the end of the Summer Session has completed subjects which equal in semester-hours the total number of semester-hours required for the degree for which he is a candidate, but has failed to complete the full residence requirements for that degree, must be in residence during the first semester of the next academic year and pass the examination in at least one subject.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION AND CREDITS

Students may obtain a maximum of four semester-hours of credit in each term by attendance aggregating ten periods a week.

THE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

INTRODUCTORY

It is the purpose of the School of Education to prepare teachers, supervisors, and administrators for the higher ranges of educational service and to offer opportunities to teachers of experience to extend their training. The School embraces the Departments of Education, Physical Education, and Home Economics, and it is affiliated with all the other departments of the University in which the student is likely to elect work. Both graduate and undergraduate work are offered.

ADMISSION

Admission to the undergraduate division of the School is based on (a) the satisfactory completion of two years of approved college work, or (b) graduation from an approved two-year normal school. Students meeting these requirements are admitted as regular students.

To be admitted to graduate standing a candidate must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited school or college or must have completed a course of study that is judged by the Faculty to be the equivalent. Candidates holding degrees from unaccredited institutions, whose work is judged by the Faculty to be more than twelve semester-hours short of a standard baccalaureate degree, must register for a Bachelor's degree.

THE BACHELOR'S DEGREES

Upon the satisfactory completion of the undergraduate requirements of the School of Education, the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education, Bachelor of Science in Home Economics, or Bachelor of Science in Physical Education is conferred.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREES

To be recommended for a degree a student must satisfy the admission, residence, scholarship, and curriculum requirements.

A minimum of one year, or thirty semester-hours, must be completed in residence. Summer Sessions work may be counted in residence, but in no case may the period of residence aggregate less than thirty weeks. Unless special permission is granted by the Dean to pursue the work elsewhere, the work of the senior or final year must be completed in residence.

The scholarship requirements, as stated in detail in the general catalogue, are in effect during the Summer Sessions.

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN EDUCATION

Students admitted with two years of approved college work are granted the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education upon the completion of sixty-six semester-hours of work. This work must include:

	Sem. hrs.
Educational Psychology.....	3
History and Principles of Education.....	3
Technique of Teaching.....	2
Elementary or Secondary Education.....	2
Special Methods.....	2
Observation and Practice Teaching.....	6
Electives in Education.....	9
Subject-matter group.....	24
Electives.....	15
Total.....	66

To the extent that courses in the foregoing list are offered for admission, the range of electives is increased, leaving room for the mastery of a minor teaching subject.

Graduates from approved two-year or three-year normal schools are granted such advanced standing as their credentials warrant. Their unfinished requirements are determined by the Dean.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

For detailed information concerning curricula leading to degrees of Bachelor of Science in Home Economics and Bachelor of Science in Physical Education, see the general catalogue.

THE HIGHER DEGREES

The work for a higher degree is conducted under the guidance of a consultative committee appointed by the Dean. It is the duty of this committee to outline and approve the student's program of studies, to advise and direct the student in the preparation of his thesis, and to arrange his general examinations. The chairman of the committee is the student's adviser.

Graduate work completed in other accredited institutions of learning may be credited toward the Master's degree but a minimum of 24 semester-hours must be completed in residence.

Advanced courses completed in excess of the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in The George Washington University may be credited toward the Master's degree to the extent of twelve semester-hours, provided the work fits in with the student's plan of specialization and is approved in writing by the Dean before it is undertaken.

Transferred work completed more than three years prior to registration for the Master's degree at The George Washington University will be credited only if the candidate successfully passes an examination given by his committee on the subject matter of the work offered for credit.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE

A candidate must pass in resident study at this University at least two semesters, or one semester and a nine-week summer term, or three nine-week summer terms, or four six-week summer terms.

A student whose previous preparation in his chosen field has been adequate may complete his class requirements, exclusive of the thesis, by a minimum of twenty-four semester-hours of work; others may be required to take as many as twelve semester-hours additional. The work may fall in one or two departments. At least six semester-hours of work must be chosen from courses numbered above 200.

Every candidate must present a thesis in his major subject. The thesis counts as a six-semester-hour course toward the degree and must be duly registered for. The thesis subject must be approved in writing by the student's adviser and recorded in the Office of Registrar not later than the beginning of the semester or summer session in which the thesis is due.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DOCTOR OF EDUCATION DEGREE

The degree of Doctor of Education is conferred upon the completion of three years of graduate work, including a thesis. The work required is given a practical instead of a theoretical bent and emphasizes the mastery and application of professional subject matter, both in the study requirements and in the thesis. The tools of investigation are not set, but are determined by the student's committee in relation to the student's needs. These tools may include statistical methods, historical criticism, and the use of one or more foreign languages. At least two semesters must be spent in residence at this University. Special emphasis is placed upon the candidate's success in teaching, supervision, administration, or publication.

For the requirements in detail, see the general catalogue.

The degree of Doctor of Philosophy, in which a major or minor in Education may be included, is under the jurisdiction of the Graduate Council.

THE SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT

INTRODUCTORY

The School of Government offers training to students who are interested in governmental, economic, and social problems, as well as to those who are preparing for the domestic and foreign service of the United States and for positions in business.

ADMISSION

Admission to undergraduate work is based upon a Junior Certificate in Government from the Junior College of this University, or its equivalent.

Admission to work for the Master's degree is based upon a Bachelor's degree which includes the proper basic training for the degree sought. For instance, admission to work for the Master's degree in Foreign Commerce is based upon a Bachelor's degree with training approximately equivalent to the Bachelor's degree in Foreign Commerce.

THE DEGREES

The degrees offered are Bachelor of Arts in Government and Master of Arts in Government. For a complete statement of the requirements for these degrees, see the announcement of the School of Government in the general catalogue.

THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARTS IN GOVERNMENT

The curricula leading to the Bachelor's degree are Public Affairs, Foreign Service, Foreign Commerce, Public Administration, Business Administration, Public Finance, and Public Accounting. The requirements of these curricula are set forth in the general catalogue.

THE DEGREE OF MASTER OF ARTS IN GOVERNMENT

For the Master's degree 30 semester-hours of work must be completed successfully. The curricula are in Public Affairs, Foreign Service, Foreign Commerce, Public Administration, Business Administration, Public Finance, and Public Accounting.

A student is formally recognized as a candidate for the Master's degree only when his application for candidacy has been approved by the Dean of the School of Government. Before being admitted to candidacy he must show a reading knowledge of at least one modern foreign language.

Advanced work in other institutions may be credited toward the Master's degree to the extent of not more than twelve semester-hours.

THE DIVISION OF UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

INTRODUCTORY

The Division of University Students was organized in 1930 in order to make the work of the University in its several divisions more fully accessible to mature students and to provide for the offering of special courses to meet special demands as they may arise from time to time. Students registered in this Division are designated "university" students, as distinguished from regularly matriculated undergraduate and graduate students.

ADMISSION

Men and women over twenty-one years of age may apply for admission as university students, to pursue courses for which they have had adequate preparation. In each case the approval of the instructor concerned must be obtained. Applicants for admission must present a complete statement of the work previously pursued, on the University form. Where a student is found unable to pursue with advantage a course for which he is registered, such student may be dropped from the rolls of that course upon the recommendation of the instructor and with the approval of the Dean.

Qualified students, not candidates for degrees in The George Washington University, who desire to pursue courses in the Summer Sessions, may be enrolled in the Division of University Students. In each case the approval of the instructor concerned must be obtained.

In special instances, with the permission of the instructor, a person may be registered as an "auditor" in a class without being required to take active part in the exercises or to pass examinations, but no credit will be allowed for such attendance.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS IN THE LAW SCHOOL

A limited number of persons who cannot qualify as candidates for a degree in Law, but who are over twenty-five years of age and because of their maturity, educational training, and practical experience seem qualified to pursue the study of Law, may be admitted as university students upon the approval of the Faculty of the Law School.

Candidates for admission as university students in the Law School must file written applications, setting forth their qualifications in detail, and letters and certificates to prove the facts stated therein as to their education and experience. Work done by such university students will not be counted toward a degree.

TRANSFER TO REGULAR STATUS

University students may be transferred, at their request, to other Colleges, Schools, and Divisions of the University only upon complying with the regulations of the specific Colleges, Schools, and Divisions as stated in the general catalogue.

THE GRADUATE COUNCIL

The Graduate Council offers work leading only to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. Because the basis for work under the Graduate Council is primarily creative research, regular study in specific courses is considered quite incidental and is therefore not emphasized in connection with the curricula of the Summer Sessions. A student wishing to work under the disciplines of the Graduate Council will consult the Chairman of the Graduate Council for information concerning credentials and candidacy.

More complete general information concerning procedures and requirements for work with the Graduate Council may be found in the general catalogue of the University.

THE SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

The School of Engineering will offer no courses in departments of Civil Engineering, Electrical Engineering, and Mechanical Engineering this summer. Undergraduate students in the School of Engineering will find an opportunity, however, to take other required courses and electives, such as Chemistry, Economics, English, languages, Mathematics, Physics, and Political Science.

Students in the School of Engineering are urged to consult with Dean John R. Lapham and departmental advisers in planning to take required courses and electives in the Summer Sessions.

THE DIVISION OF LIBRARY SCIENCE

The Division of Library Science will offer no courses in the Department of Library Science this summer. Students of Library Science will find an opportunity, however, to take other required courses and electives, such as History, Psychology, Statistics, etc., which may be credited toward the degree.

Students in the Division of Library Science are urged to consult with Director Alfred F. W. Schmidt and departmental advisers in planning to take required courses and electives in the Summer Sessions.

THE DIVISION OF FINE ARTS

The Division of Fine Arts will offer no courses in the Department of Art this summer. Students of Fine Arts will find an opportunity, however, to take other required courses and electives, such as Economics, English, History, and Psychology.

Students in the Division of Fine Arts are urged to consult with Director Norris Ingersoll Crandall and departmental advisers in planning to take required courses and electives in the Summer Sessions.

THE DIVISION OF FIVE ARTS

The Division of Five Arts will offer its courses in the Department of the Five Arts, which will have an opportunity to take other required courses and electives, such as those in the Division of the Arts and Sciences, and the Division of the Sciences. The Division of the Arts and Sciences will offer its courses in the Division of the Arts and Sciences, and the Division of the Sciences will offer its courses in the Division of the Arts and Sciences.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

HISTORY

The idea of a university located in the Capital of the Nation was suggested by George Washington, who during his public life urged the establishment of such an institution and to his will left fifty shares of stock in the Potomac (Canal) Company for the endowment of an university to be established in the District of Columbia "in which the youth of various and talents from all parts thereof might be able to the completion of their Education in all the branches of polite literature, in arts and sciences,—in acquiring knowledge in the principles of Politics & good Government."

In pursuance of that benevolent project of the first President of the United States, this University, founded as Columbian College and now named The George Washington University, has its origin in the establishment of the Federal University of the District of Columbia, which was established by the Federal Government in 1821. The first act of Congress, passed on March 3, 1821, authorized the establishment of a college in the District of Columbia, and it was necessary to "raise money" for the purpose of the purchase of the land and the construction of the work.

In 1821 the Reverend Luther Rice, a Baptist missionary, returned to Washington to buy land for the use of a college in the City of Washington. At this General Washington's idea in which John Quincy Adams, Secretary of State of the United States; William H. Crawford, Secretary of the Treasury; John C. Calhoun, Secretary of War; William Wirt, Attorney General; and Robert J. May, Postmaster General, having been of the new college and, together with thirty-two members of Congress, contributed to the first raised for the purchase of the land and the construction of the work.

On the 12th of a tract of approximately thirty acres, with "extending from the north of Montgomery Street (Florida Avenue) and extending north and south from 15th Street to 17th Street", was purchased, and Columbian College, District of Columbia, a non-sectarian institution, under the name of the District of Columbia, was established. The first President of the college was James Moore, President of the United States, and the first building was chartered by an act of Congress of February 2, 1822.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

HISTORY

The idea of a university located in the Capital of the Nation was sponsored by George Washington, who during his public life urged the establishment of such an institution and in his will left fifty shares of stock in the Potomac (Canal) Company for the endowment of a university to be established in the District of Columbia "to which the youth of fortune and talents from all parts thereof might be sent for the completion of their Education in all the branches of polite literature;—in arts and Sciences,—in acquiring knowledge in the principles of Politics & good Government".

In furtherance of that hope and project of the first President of the United States, this University, founded as Columbian College and now named The George Washington University, was established. The stock which General Washington willed toward such an institution became valueless owing to the failure of the canal properties, and it was necessary for "the College" established in the District of Columbia to obtain funds from other sources.

In 1819 the Reverend Luther Rice, a Baptist missionary, formed an association to buy land for the use of a college in the city of Washington. With General Washington's idea in mind, John Quincy Adams, Secretary of State of the United States; William H. Crawford, Secretary of the Treasury; John C. Calhoun, Secretary of War; William Wirt, Attorney General; and Return J. Meigs, Postmaster General, became patrons of the new college and, together with thirty-two members of Congress, contributed to a fund raised for the purchase of the land and the development of the work.

From this fund a tract of approximately forty-seven acres, "extending about one-half mile northwest of Boundary Street (Florida Avenue) between 14th and 15th Streets", was purchased, and Columbian College in the District of Columbia, a non-sectarian institution, under the distinguished favor of James Monroe, President of the United States, and his Cabinet, was chartered by an act of Congress of February 9, 1821.

By 1822 the main building was completed sufficiently to use. Dr. William Staughton was elected first President of the institution. Two years later, when the first commencement was held on December 15, 1824, President Monroe, John Quincy Adams, John C. Calhoun, Henry Clay, and the Marquis de Lafayette headed the eminent company attending the exercises.

The School of Medicine, established in 1821, was formally opened in 1825 and has been in continuous operation since that time. In 1826 the Law School was organized, to be discontinued the following year and reestablished in 1865. It is the oldest law school in Washington.

By an act of Congress of March 3, 1873, the name of the college was changed to "Columbian University", in recognition of the enlarged scope of the institution. The following year the institution was moved from its first location on "College Hill", now Columbia Heights, to the new University Hall built for it at Fifteenth and H Streets. Nearby buildings accommodated the Medical and Preparatory Schools.

By an act of Congress of January 23, 1904, the University was removed from the denominational control under which it had operated from 1899 and was provided with a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees empowered to change its name. In accordance with this act, the title "The George Washington University" was adopted in the same year.

Subsequently all the Schools and Divisions of the University except the School of Medicine, which is situated on H Street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets, were brought together at the present location or on immediately surrounding the city block bounded by Twentieth, Twenty-first, G, and H Streets.

In 1930 a new plan of academic organization was effected, resembling in principle the master-apprentice relation of the old guild system. The University as it is now organized consists of a Junior College, comprising the work of the freshman and sophomore years; a Senior College, known as "Columbian College", which awards the Bachelor's and Master's degrees; a Council for Graduate Study; the professional Schools and Divisions; the Division of University Students; the Center of Inter-American Studies; and the Summer Sessions.

LOCATION

The George Washington University is located in the heart of the city of Washington, a short distance from the Potomac River and the Mall. Within a few blocks are the White House and the offices of many of the Departments of the Government, including the Department of State, the Treasury Department, the War Department, the Navy Department, the Department of Justice, the Department of the Interior, the Department of Commerce, and the Department of Labor. The Corcoran Gallery of Art, the Pan American Union Building, and the National Academy of Sciences are also nearby, and the Capitol and the Library of Congress can be reached by street car in twenty minutes from any of the University buildings.

GOVERNMENT

The government and general educational management of The George Washington University is vested in a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees, with the President of the University an ex-officio member. The members of the Board are named for a period of three years and are divided into three classes. The members of one class are elected at each annual meeting to fill the places of the members whose terms of office expire. Two members of each class are nominated by the Alumni Association. "Persons of every religious denomination shall be capable of being elected Trustees."

ENDOWMENT

The endowment of The George Washington University, not including the value of buildings, grounds, and equipment, is $2,511,456.07.

The General Library includes, in addition to the general collection, the library of the late Professor Richard Heinzel, of the University of Vienna, which contains 7,200 books and pamphlets in Germanic philology and literature and cognate branches; the library of the late Professor Curt Wachsmuth, of the University of Leipzig, which contains 7,900 books and pamphlets in Greek and Roman literature, archeology, and history; the Mount Vernon Alcove, which contains 4,000 volumes in political history, international law, and the social sciences; a representative collection of Spanish-American books, the gift of the Governments of Hispanic America; the Chauncey Mitchell Depew Public Speaking Library of approximately 500 volumes, the gift of Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew; and the library of the Division of Fine Arts, which contains over 2,000 volumes, mainly on architecture, and the Russell Sturgis collection of 7,500 mounted photographs. About 1,000 of these latter volumes constitute a collection made available by the American Institute of Architects, to whom the library is always accessible.

OTHER LIBRARY FACILITIES

Students have access also to the Library of Congress; the Public Library of the District of Columbia and its branches; the Library of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace; the Library of the Pan American Union; the Library of the Bureau of Railway Economics; the Library of the United States Department of Agriculture, with its scientific departmental collections; the Library of the United States Office of Education; the Army Medical Library; the Library of the Smithsonian Institution; and many of the other great special collections of the Government Departments.

GOVERNMENTAL INSTITUTIONS ACCESSIBLE TO STUDENTS

In order to promote research and the diffusion of knowledge, the Congress of the United States has made the scientific resources of the Government accessible to students under the terms of the following joint resolution, approved April 12, 1892:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the facilities for research and illustration in the following and any other Governmental collections now existing or hereafter to be established in the city of Washington for the promotion of knowledge shall be accessible, under such rules and restrictions as the officers in charge of each collection may prescribe, subject to such authority as is now or may hereafter be permitted by law, to the scientific investigators and to students of any institution of higher education now incorporated or hereafter to be incorporated under the laws of Congress or of the District of Columbia, to wit:

- One. Of the Library of Congress.
- Two. Of the National Museum.
- Three. Of the Patent Office.
- Four. Of the Bureau of Education.
- Five. Of the Bureau of Ethnology.
- Six. Of the Army Medical Museum.
- Seven. Of the Department of Agriculture.
- Eight. Of the Fish Commission.
- Nine. Of the Botanic Gardens.
- Ten. Of the Coast and Geodetic Survey.
- Eleven. Of the Geological Survey.
- Twelve. Of the Naval Observatory.

HOURS OF INSTRUCTION

There are both morning and late afternoon sections in most courses of instruction, and many other courses are given in the morning and in the late afternoon in alternate years; thus students may take work during the forenoon and early afternoon or in the period between 5.10 and 7 p.m. according to their convenience. By taking the late afternoon, or the late afternoon and summer courses, and by extending the time of study beyond the customary four years, a student able to give only part time to college work may complete a curriculum and obtain a degree.

The courses of instruction, with the hours when the courses are offered, are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 197.

ADMISSION

All departments of the University accept men and women.

Students may enter any School or Division of the University except the School of Medicine and the Law School at the beginning of either semester or either of the summer terms. Entrance to the School of Medicine is permitted only at the beginning of the first semester of the academic year. Entrance to the Law School is permitted at the beginning of either semester and at the beginning of the first summer term.

INFORMATION REGARDING ADMISSION

Students who wish to obtain information as to curricula or courses offered, and as to entrance requirements or procedure, are requested to write to, or confer with, the Director of Admissions, 2033 G Street NW., Washington, D.C.

Timely inquiry helps to avoid difficulties in meeting entrance requirements. Students contemplating the study of Medicine or Engineering are particularly urged to make early inquiry regarding entrance requirements. Likewise, students who are now enrolled in other higher institutions of learning, but who contemplate later transfer to this University as candidates for degrees, are advised to consult the Director of Admissions regarding courses in which they should register prior to transfer, as the possibility of loss of credit is thus minimized.

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

Students desiring admission should write for an application blank and should return it properly filled out. In addition to the information furnished on the application blank, applicants will request from each institution attended transcripts of records of scholastic work previously undertaken. The high-school principal or the college registrar in each case will mail the record direct to the Admissions Office of this University. The high-school record should be on the blank provided by this institution. It will be sent to the applicant at the time the application blank is forwarded. Except for premedical students, the transcript form of the college attended is usually accepted.

EVALUATION

As soon as all the applicant's credentials are filed, the eligibility for admission is determined and the applicant is notified. High-school work is considered only as fulfilling entrance requirements; it is never credited toward advanced standing. If the applicant has completed additional work of a college grade, such additional work may, under the rules of the School or Division concerned, be credited toward the requirements of an appropriate curriculum in that School or Division. It should be remembered, however, that some college subjects may not count toward certain curricula which include but few electives.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

The following factors are considered in determining the eligibility of an applicant for admission:

1. The adequacy of previous academic work as preparation for the course of study now contemplated. This includes the amount and quality of work and the standing of the institution in which it was done.
2. The aptitude of the student if bent upon study for a profession.
3. The character of the student.

The University reserves the right to refuse admission to any student whose previous work has been of such grade as to create doubt of his ability to pursue college work successfully, or who for any other reason would not be a desirable student.

Detailed requirements for admission are stated in the announcements of the Schools and Divisions in this bulletin.

The Junior College.—A certificate of graduation from an accredited secondary school, with a minimum of fifteen "units", is required for admission to the Junior College. A unit represents a year's study in a secondary-school subject, including in the aggregate not less than 120 sixty-minute hours of prepared classroom work. Under the heading "Certificates", below, appears a statement of the conditions under which a certificate covering satisfactory units will be accepted. Immediately following are statements showing under what conditions a student will be required to take College Board Examinations and the George Washington University Examinations, respectively.

CERTIFICATES

Certificates will be accepted from accredited schools subject to the following conditions: (1) If the school is accredited by the Regional Association, the student must have attained a rank not lower than the fourth fifth of his class. (2) If the school is not on the Regional Association list, but has been accredited by the State Accrediting Agency, the student shall be required to have attained a rank in the upper two fifths of his class; if he has attained a rank below this, College Entrance Board Examinations or the George Washington University Entrance Examinations will be required for admission.

The Director of Admissions will, on application, furnish certificate blanks to the school principals. All records shall be certified on the blank provided by the University and must come directly to the Director of Admissions from the school concerned.

COLLEGE ENTRANCE BOARD EXAMINATIONS

Candidates for admission who furnish certificates of graduation from unaccredited high schools shall take the examinations in the entrance subjects offered by the College Entrance Examination Board. An applicant who fails to pass in at least fifteen units in the entrance examination will not be admitted.

The examinations of the College Entrance Examination Board are held each spring in Washington as well as in other centers. These examinations will be given in Washington at The George Washington University June 13-20, inclusive, and September 21-25, inclusive, 1936. Applications for the June examinations should be addressed to the College Entrance Examination Board, 431 West 117th Street, New York City; applications for the September examinations should be addressed to the University.

Students planning to take College Entrance Board Examinations should secure the definitions of requirements in subjects as published by the Board.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

Candidates for admission who present certificates of graduation from accredited schools but who have not attained the required rank in class, as described above, may request permission to take the George Washington University Entrance Examinations. Each applicant who satisfactorily passes these examinations will be admitted to the College, School, or Division of the University for which he or she is eligible.

There are two George Washington University Entrance Examinations: (1) A psychological college-ability examination; (2) an examination covering the principal high-school or preparatory-school subjects (English, History, Science, and Mathematics).

The George Washington University Entrance Examinations will be given for each session on the following dates: First semester 1936-37, Saturday, September 5, 1936; second semester 1936-37, Saturday, January 23, 1937. On both dates the examinations will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 and from 1 to 2.30 p.m.

ENTRANCE UNITS ACCEPTED

Subject to the special requirements of the premedical and Engineering curricula, it may be stated that such courses as are offered by accredited high schools toward their own certificates of graduation may be presented to meet the entrance requirements of this University. Students from unaccredited high schools should inquire of the College Entrance Examination Board (431 West 117th Street, New York City) for its published statement of the scope of the several fields in which it examines.

ADMISSION TO THE PREMEDICAL CURRICULUM

The several State Medical Boards govern the granting of licenses to practice; hence their requirements as to high-school credits must be met exactly. A high-school record from each high school attended (including junior high schools) must be filed, rather than a record from the last school only. The fifteen units required must include three in English, two in one foreign language, one in Algebra, one in Geometry, one in History, and one in Science. Eleven of the units offered must be in the above subjects. No candidate can be accepted with a condition in secondary-school work. (Should a student be admitted with a clear record to other than the premedical curriculum and complete college work acceptable toward that other curriculum, and then desire to enter premedical work, a deficiency in his secondary-school work would invalidate all college work previously taken. The deficiency would have to be cleared before proceeding with college courses that would apply toward the premedical-college requirements.) The premedical-college requirements must be fulfilled in all respects.

ADMISSION TO THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

The statements made above concerning premedical applicants apply directly to students who believe themselves ready to enter the School of Medicine. Graduation from the Junior College of this institution or attainment of junior standing in another college or university does not automatically admit to the School of Medicine. A fee of $3 to defray the costs of completing the records for final consideration for admission to the School of Medicine must accompany each application.

ADMISSION TO THE LAW SCHOOL

Candidates for admission must have had conferred upon them the degree of Bachelor of Arts or an equivalent degree by an accredited college or university.

Persons who have satisfactory credits in an approved curriculum of the Junior College and Columbian College of The George Washington University for three years' (90 semester hours') work toward the bachelor's degree may be admitted to the Law School to the combined six-year arts and law curriculum.

Persons who have satisfactory credits in the Engineering School of The George Washington University for three years (96 semester hours) toward the degree of Bachelor of Science, consistent with the curriculum requirements for the degree may be admitted to the Law School to the combined six-year engineering and law curriculum.

Transfer students may present work satisfactorily completed in other accredited institutions toward a part of the three full years of courses required by Columbian College and the School of Engineering in their respective combined degree courses described above, provided that at least the last thirty semester-hours shall have been completed at The George Washington University, and the work to be transferred shall be consistent with the curriculum requirements.

ADMISSION TO THE SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING

The School of Engineering admits from high school on certificate as described above under the heading "Certificates". Twelve of the fifteen units required for entrance must be distributed as follows: Three in English, two in one foreign language, two in Algebra, one in Plane Geometry, one half in Solid Geometry, one half in Plane Trigonometry, one in History, one in Physics, and one in Chemistry. A graduate of an approved high school who does not offer for admission the particular subjects required for the Engineering curriculum, but who does present not less than fifteen acceptable units, may be admitted on condition, if such deficiency in the distribution of units does not exceed two units.

ADMISSION TO COLUMBIAN COLLEGE (THE SENIOR COLLEGE) AND THE PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS AND DIVISIONS (EXCEPT MEDICINE, LAW, AND ENGINEERING)

Two years of Junior College work leading to the Junior Certificate, or the lower-division work in institutions not organized on the junior-senior college plan, following a specified curriculum, meets the minimum requirements of Columbian College or the professional School to which admission is sought. In addition, however, scholarship requirements for admission may be set somewhat higher than those for the Junior Certificate. Thus a selective process of choosing the most promising students may be employed.

APPLICANTS FOR ADVANCED STANDING (TRANSFER STUDENTS)

A student who has previously attended other higher institutions and is an applicant for advanced standing must request the registrar of each such institution attended to send directly to the Admissions Office of this University a transcript of his record, even though credits were not earned, together with an honorable dismissal from the institution last attended. An evaluation of these records will be made in accordance with practice established by the School or Division to which entrance is sought. Properly certified courses of study taken in accredited colleges and universities may thus be applied toward a degree at this University. It is again emphasized, however, that certain courses completed with satisfactory grade at another college or university may not count toward a particular degree representing largely required courses and few, if any, elective ones.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

REGULAR STUDENTS

Regular students are those who have met the entrance requirements for candidacy for certificates or degrees.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

Persons of mature age, as specified in the rules of the Division of University Students, may be admitted to that Division to pursue courses for which they have had adequate preparation. In special instances, with the permission of the instructor, a person may register as an auditor in a class without being required to take active part in the exercises or to pass examinations, but no credit will be allowed for such attendance. (See the announcement of the Division of University Students, pages 177-79.)

REGISTRATION

Before a student may be admitted to registration he must have satisfied the Admissions Office that he is qualified for entrance to the University (see "Admission", pages 49-54).

Registration is for the semester unless otherwise indicated on the registration paper. No registration is accepted for less than a semester or one summer term.

A student may not register concurrently in The George Washington University and another institution without the permission of the Dean or Director of the School or Division in which he is registered in The George Washington University. Allowance of credit for work done concurrently will be at the discretion of the Committee on Admission and Advanced Standing.

TIME AND PLACE OF REGISTRATION

Registration for the first semester will be conducted on September 19, 21, and 22, 1936. Registration for the second semester will be conducted on February 3 and 4, 1937. Registration for all Schools and Divisions of the University except the Law School will be conducted in Corcoran Hall, 725 Twenty-first Street NW., from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Registration for the Law School will be conducted in Stockton Hall, 720 Twentieth Street NW., from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

REGISTRATION PROCEDURE

Instructions for registration will be issued to each student at the time of registration. A student who has previously matriculated in the University but who has not been in attendance during the semester prior to registration, should file an application for re-admission in advance of registration.

LATE REGISTRATION

For registration after September 22 in the first semester, and after February 4 in the second semester, a late-registration fee of $5 will be charged. Registration in all courses for credit closes on October 6 for the first semester, and on February 18 for the second semester.

CHANGES IN REGISTRATION AND WITHDRAWALS

A student may not change or drop courses or change his status to that of auditor except with the permission of the Dean or Director of the School or Division in which he is registered, upon the presentation of adequate reasons for such change. (See "Withdrawal from Courses", page 74.) Changes from one section to another of the same course may be made at any time with the permission of the Dean or Director of the School or Division concerned.

A student desiring to change his major subject should make application to his Dean or Director. In making such change all requirements specified in the course of study to which the change is made must be satisfied before graduation.

A student desiring to transfer from one College, School, or Division to another should make application to the Director of Admissions. Such change may be made only with the approval of the Deans concerned.

A student who is obliged to withdraw from the University during the semester must immediately report in person or in writing to the Dean or Director of the School or Division in which he is registered. No permission to withdraw from the University will be given to a student who has not a clear financial record (see "Fees and Financial Regulations", pages 57-61).

A student is liable for all charges for courses for which he has registered unless changes have been made with the approval of the Dean or Director, as stated above. Reporting the dropping of a course to an instructor does not effect its discontinuance.

REGISTRATION PROCEDURE

Instructions for registration will be issued to each student at the time of registration. A student who has previously matriculated in the University but who has not been in attendance during the semester prior to registration, should file an application for re-admission in advance of registration.

LATE REGISTRATION

Registration after September 22 in the first semester, and after February 4 in the second semester, is late registration. Late registration in all courses for credit closes on October 4 in the first semester, and on February 12 for the second semester.

CHANGES IN REGISTRATION AND WITHDRAWALS

A student may not change or drop courses or change his status in the University except with the permission of the Dean or Director of the School or Division in which he is registered, upon the presentation of adequate

PAYMENT OF FEES

All fees are payable at the Office of the Comptroller, 2033 G Street NW. No student is permitted to complete registration or to attend classes until all fees are paid. Fees for each semester are due and payable in advance at the time of registration.

In exceptional cases, subject to the approval of the Comptroller, students registering for more than three semester-hours may sign contracts for semester charges, except for the University fee and deposits, permitting installment payments as follows: First semester—one third at the time of registration, plus the University fee and deposits; one third on November 1; one third on December 1. Second semester—one third at the time of registration, plus the University fee and deposits; one third on March 1; one third on April 1. Students registering for three hours or less, and students in the School of Medicine, are not privileged to sign contracts for installment payments.

Students who fail to meet installment payments by the sixteenth of the month will be suspended and may not attend classes until they have paid all accrued fees, a reinstatement fee of $5 and have been officially reinstated. A suspended student may not be reinstated for the semester after two weeks from the date of suspension. Applications for reinstatement are to be made to the Dean of the School or Director of the Division in which the student is registered.

No student may register in any department of the University who owes fees in any other department of the University.

Auditors pay all fees chargeable to students registered for credit except the late-registration fee.

WITHDRAWALS AND REFUNDS

Applications for withdrawal from the University or for changes in class schedules must be made in person or in writing to the Dean of the School in which the student is registered. Notification to an instructor is not an acceptable notice. (See "Withdrawal from Courses", page 74.)

In authorized withdrawals and changes in schedules financial adjustments will be made on the principle of the three instalments a semester, as follows:

First semester: Withdrawals dated on or before October 31, cancellation of the second and third instalments; withdrawals dated on or before November 30, cancellation of the third instalment; no refunds or rebates will be allowed on withdrawals dated subsequent to November 30.

Second semester: Withdrawals dated on or before February 28, cancellation of the second and third installments; withdrawals dated on or before March 31, cancellation of the third installment; no refunds or rebates will be allowed on withdrawals dated subsequent to March 31.

In no case will any part of an initial installment of tuition be refunded, and in no case will tuition be reduced or refunded because of nonattendance upon classes.

Any student in Chemistry who fails to check out of the laboratory on or before the date set by the instructor, unless excused by the instructor, shall forfeit the balance of his deposit. Students dropping a course before the end of the semester are urged to check out at once.

No permission to withdraw and no certificate of work done will be given a student who has not a clear financial record.

FELLOWSHIPS, SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOANS

FELLOWSHIPS

The following fellowships are available in the University. Forms on which to make application for these fellowships will be supplied, on request, by the Registrar of the University. Having been properly filled out, they should be submitted for consideration not later than March 1 of any year for the academic year beginning the following September.

Isabella King Research Fellowship.—A fellowship of the value of $1,200 annually is offered in Biology. It is open to candidates holding the Bachelor's degree and is intended to foster research for which the libraries and scientific establishments in Washington offer special facilities.

Eli Lilly Fellowship.—This fellowship in Biochemistry in the amount of $800 and tuition is maintained by Eli Lilly & Co. for research in insulin.

Thomas Bradford Sanders Fellowships.—These fellowships and scholarships were established by Miss Addie Sanders in memory of her late brother, Thomas Bradford Sanders. They are offered in the following departments, each with a stipend of $600 in addition to tuition: Chemistry, two fellowships; Economics, two fellowships; History, one fellowship; Physics, two fellowships; Psychology, one fellowship.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Student scholarships are administered by the University Committee on Student Loans and Scholarships. Application for scholarships must be made on forms which may be obtained from the Registrar of the University and must be filed in the Office of the Registrar not later than May 15 preceding the academic year for which the scholarship is to be awarded. Scholarships are awarded for one year, unless otherwise specified. They may be renewed. Further information may be obtained from the Registrar of the University.

Byron Andrews Scholarships.—Two scholarships in the amount of $100 each, founded by Mrs. Belle Fisk Andrews in memory of her husband, the late Byron Andrews, are available "for ambitious and needy students, who desire to pursue courses in English, Latin, Journalism, History, Literature, or Political Science."

Emma K. Carr Scholarships.—These scholarships, founded in 1932 by Mrs. Emma K. Carr, are awarded annually to "young men (of the white race) for undergraduate or postgraduate work, considering character, capacity, and need", and number as follows: three in the amount of $240, and twelve in the amount of $100. In making the awards preference is given to applicants with at least one year's attendance at this University. The holders must maintain in their studies an average grade of B or better.

Henry Harding Carter Scholarships.—These four scholarships, founded in 1896 by Mrs. Maria M. Carter in memory of her husband, Henry Harding Carter, are of the annual value of $50 each and may be awarded to deserving students who are preparing for the civil-engineering profession.

Maria M. Carter Scholarship.—This scholarship, in the amount of $40 to be awarded annually to a young man, was given to the University in 1871 by Mrs. Maria M. Carter.

Citizens' Military Training Camps Scholarship.—The University awards each year, through the Citizens' Military Training Camps of the Third Corps Area, a scholarship carrying tuition (this does not include the University fee, laboratory fees, or deposits) for one year in any one of the undergraduate departments. REGULATIONS

A student enrolled in the University is required to conform to the general University regulations and to comply with the rules and regulations of the College, School, or Division in which he is registered.

ATTENDANCE

Students are not permitted to attend classes until registration has been completed and fees due have been paid. Regular attendance is required except in the case of students registered for courses under the independent study plan. For undue absence in any class a student may be dropped from the class. Tuition charges are made on a semester basis, and in no case will tuition be refunded or reduced because of nonattendance upon classes.

Students who have been suspended, either for delinquency in payment of fees or for any other reason, are not permitted to attend classes during the period of suspension.

NONCONTINUOUS ATTENDANCE

Students absent for one semester or more may reenter and continue their work only under the rules and regulations in force at the time of their return.

For further regulations regarding attendance, consult the announcements of the several Schools and Divisions.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

Regular freshman and sophomore courses in Physical Education are arranged for men and women students in the Junior College and the School of Engineering.

These courses in Physical Education are required of all freshman and sophomore students. However, students taking less than three subjects, and students who, because of regular employment during the day (or for other reasons satisfactory to the Dean), must take all their classes in the late afternoon hours, are exempt from the requirements in Physical Education. Exemptions may be granted only on written application approved by the Dean on recommendation of the Physical Education Department concerned.

Exemption from the requirements in Physical Education for reasons of a physical nature is conditioned on the recommendation of the University medical staff to the Executive Officer of Physical Education in the department concerned. This applies equally to men and women.

Students entering the University with advanced standing are not exempt from the Physical Education requirement unless they have satisfactorily met the requirement elsewhere. Courses in military training are not accepted in satisfaction of this requirement.

The required medical and physical examinations will be given September 18 and 19, 1936.

SCHOLARSHIP REQUIREMENTS

A student who fails to maintain the scholarship requirements of the School in which he is registered may be placed on probation or dropped from the University.

EXAMINATIONS

Examinations are scheduled in all courses at the end of each semester or at the completion of the course.

Students guilty of dishonesty in examinations may be deprived of credit for the courses in which dishonesty occurs and suspended from the University.

For further regulations regarding examinations, consult the announcements of the several Schools and Divisions.

GRADES

Grades are not given out by instructors but are mailed to the student through the Office of the Registrar at the close of each semester. Upon request, a copy of the student's grades will be forwarded to his parent or guardian.

The following grading system is used in all undergraduate divisions of the University: A (90-100 per cent), excellent; B (80-89 per cent), good; C (70-79 per cent), average; D (60-69 per cent), passing; E, conditioned, not passing; F (below 60 per cent), failure; Inc., incomplete; W, withdrawn. W is followed by a letter grade indicating the quality of work the student was doing at the time of withdrawal. A course failed must be repeated with a passing grade in order to be credited. No student may repeat for credit a course in which he has received a grade above E without the permission of the faculty of the School in which he is registered. A condition may be removed within one year on terms specified by the instructor, but in no case will a final grade above D be given, unless the course is repeated in class. A grade of "incomplete" cannot be altered after the lapse of one calendar year except by Faculty action.

In all graduate divisions of the University, grades are indicated as "satisfactory", "unsatisfactory", or "incomplete".

For the grading system of the Law School and the School of Medicine, see the explanations in the announcements of those Schools.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES

Withdrawal from any course must be approved by the Dean of the School in which the student is registered. The grade of F (failure) will be given in a course dropped without the permission of the Dean. Applications for withdrawal from any course within one month before the end of the semester or two weeks before the end of the summer sessions will be approved only in exceptional cases and must receive special action to regularize them. Forms upon which to make requests for withdrawal may be obtained by applying at the Dean's office. (See "Withdrawals and Refunds", page 61.)

QUALITY-POINT INDEX

Quality-points are computed from grades as follows: A, four points; B, three points; C, two points; D, one point; E, no points; F, minus one point, for each semester-hour for which the student has registered.

Scholarship is computed in terms of the quality-point index obtained by dividing the number of quality-points by the number of semester-hours for which the student has registered, both based on the complete collegiate record. Courses marked W or Inc. are not considered in determining the index.

The successful repetition of a course in which a grade of F was received removes the minus quality-points involved, and the appropriate quality-points for the grade received are assigned.

CREDIT

Credit toward a degree is given only after regular registration for and satisfactory completion of the required work of classes in the University, or upon the granting of advanced standing in accordance with the regulations of the several Schools and Divisions.

On request the Registrar will furnish to students balance sheets showing the amount of work completed and the amount necessary to complete the requirements for a degree.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

To be recommended for graduation a student must have met the admission requirements of the School or Division in which he is registered, have completed satisfactorily the residence, scholarship, and other requirements for the certificate or degree for which he is registered, and be free from all indebtedness to the University.

Summer Sessions work may be counted in residence, but in no case may the period of residence aggregate less than thirty weeks. Unless special permission is granted by the Dean of the School or Director of the Division concerned to pursue work elsewhere, the work of the senior or final year must be completed in residence.

Graduate students must meet the residence requirements for the particular degree for which they are registered.

Scholarship Requirements.—In all undergraduate divisions of the University the scholarship requirement for graduation is a quality-point index of at least 2.00.

Presence at Graduation.—Candidates are required to be present at the graduation exercises unless excused by the President of the University upon the recommendation of the Dean of their College or School or the Director of their Division.

HONORS

In all undergraduate divisions of the University the degree may be conferred "with distinction", at the discretion of the Faculty, upon those students attaining a quality-point index of 3.50 or higher. To be eligible for this honor a student must have completed at this institution at least one half of the work required for the degree.

SPECIAL HONORS

Special honors may be awarded by the Faculty to members of the graduating class for outstanding achievement in the student's major field of work on recommendation of the major department under the following regulations:

Washington, should have the means of support for at least one semester. A minimum budget of $100 a month is recommended.

Many out-of-town students secure positions in the Departments of the Government in Washington by taking the United States Civil Service examinations in their home States. The hours of employment permit them to pursue a college course in the late afternoon and evening.

Control and direction of all student activities are vested in the Committees on Extracurricular Activities, which in turn are subject to the supervision and control of the President's Council.

ELIGIBILITY FOR STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The following rules apply to activities which are open to all students registered in the University:

The faculty adviser of each activity shall be held responsible for the verification, through the office of the Registrar, of the eligibility of all participants. In activities which have no faculty adviser, the ranking student officer shall verify, through the office of the Registrar, the eligibility of all participants and shall submit the eligible list to the Eligibility Committee for approval.

I. ACADEMIC AND SOCIAL CLUBS OR SOCIETIES

Students on probation may not be officers or chairmen of committees.

II. CAMPUS AND INTRA-MURAL ACTIVITIES*

1. Except where such activities may be of a graduate nature, membership or participation is restricted to undergraduate students registered for at least six semester-hours and not on probation.

2. Membership or participation is limited to not more than four years in any one activity at this University.

3. Students are ineligible after having been registered for six years in any college. Registration for any part of any year will count as a year of participation.

III. COMPETITIVE INTERCOLLEGIATE ACTIVITIES*

1. To represent the University in any undergraduate competitive intercollegiate activity, students must be undergraduate candidates for a degree and not on probation.

* A classification of student activities may be obtained from the Faculty Committee on Eligibility.

2. Such students must be registered for at least nine semester-hours for minor activities and at least twelve semester-hours for major activities.

3. Previous to each season of participation except for freshman contests, students must have been in residence at this University at least two semesters or one semester and a summer session, during which they must have completed not less than eighteen semester-hours for minor activities or not less than twenty-four semester-hours for major activities.

4. No student may participate in any one intercollegiate activity for a total of more than three annual seasons at this University or elsewhere, exclusive of freshman competition.

5. Students are ineligible after having been registered for six years in any college. Registration for any part of any year will count as a year of participation.

RECOGNITION OF STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

No student clubs or societies (except social fraternities, sororities, scholastic honor societies, religious or professional clubs or societies) organized as a branch or affiliate of a non-George Washington University organization will be recognized by the Student Life Committee.

ASSEMBLIES

Chapel exercises are held on Friday of each week at 12.10 p.m. in Corcoran Hall.

University Assemblies are held from time to time. The attendance of students may be required.

PROPERTY RESPONSIBILITY

RESERVATION OF RIGHT TO CHANGE RULES

The University and its various Colleges, Schools, and Divisions reserve the right to modify or change the requirements, rules, and fees of the University. Such regulations shall go into force whenever the proper authorities may determine and shall apply to all students in the University.

For further information, catalogues, and application blanks, address the Director of Admissions, The George Washington University, 2033 G Street NW., Washington, D.C.

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

The Junior College curricula are intended to continue the studies of a general cultural nature begun in the secondary schools, and to lay a foundation for the more specialized work which is to follow. During the freshman and sophomore years emphasis is accordingly laid (1) upon the social, cultural, biological, and physical background of civilization (history, political science, physical and biological sciences, literature, etc.) and (2) upon the discipline necessary to the effective prosecution of more advanced work (English rhetoric and composition, foreign language, mathematics, etc.).

The Junior College also provides the preprofessional work required for admission to the Schools of Medicine, Law, Pharmacy, Education, and Government, and the Division of Library Science.

In addition it provides two two-year curricula, leading to the Junior Certificate, which are intended to meet the needs of students who do not look forward to a four-year college course.

ADVISORY SYSTEM

In order that students may have opportunities, not only for assistance in planning their courses of study, but also for personal, educational, and vocational advice in every phase of their academic work during the first two years, a number of members of the Faculty serve as advisers to Junior College students. Incoming students will be assigned to advisers at the time of registration and will be required to consult them at least once each semester. Students on probation and "warned" students are required to consult their respective advisers at such stated intervals as the Dean or adviser may direct. (See regulations on scholarship and "warnings", below.) All students are, however, encouraged to consult their advisers about college problems at any time, irrespective of these requirements. Students are expected to consult with the same advisers throughout their freshman and sophomore years, it being understood that these members of the faculty act in the capacity of general educational advisers rather than as representatives of their respective departments of instruction.

ADMISSION

For a statement of the general regulations and procedure for admission to the University, see pages 49-54.

Candidates for admission to the Junior College must submit at least fifteen units of accredited secondary-school work. For regulations regarding distribution of these units, particularly for admission to the premedical curriculum, see below.

No candidate will be accepted with any condition in secondary-school work.

Special students and auditors are referred to the Division of University Students.

METHODS OF ADMISSION

The following are the methods of admission to the Junior College:

A. BY CERTIFICATE FROM AN ACCREDITED SCHOOL

(a) Quality of Work.—The quality of work done must be satisfactory. A graduate of a school regionally accredited must rank in the upper four-fifths of his class; a graduate of a school State-accredited only, must rank in the upper two-fifths of his class.

(b) Distribution of Units.—Except for admission to the premedical curriculum (see pages 121-22), certification by the principal that the student has satisfied all curriculum requirements of the school will be accepted in lieu of any prescribed distribution of units. Attention is called, however, to the necessity of completing stated prerequisite studies during the secondary-school period for admission to certain curricula. For a statement of the foreign-language requirements, see page 93.

B. BY THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

These examinations are open to graduates of properly accredited schools whose scholarship does not warrant admission on certificate.

C. BY COLLEGE ENTRANCE BOARD EXAMINATIONS

Admission may be by College Entrance Board Examinations in fifteen specified units, for which passing grades are achieved, when it is not possible to present a certificate covering satisfactory units earned in an accredited school. These units shall include, for curricula other than the premedical curriculum, subjects from each of the following fields: English, foreign languages, Mathematics, and Science. The exact number of units in each of these fields must be approved by the Director of Admissions.

SCHOLASTIC-APTITUDE TESTS

Candidates admitted under any of the above methods will be required, in addition, to pass the scholastic-aptitude tests of the University.

REGISTRATION

For information and regulations regarding registration, see pages 55-56.

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For a statement of fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUNDS

Scholarships are administered by the University Committee on Student Loans and Scholarships. Application should be made to the Registrar of the University in accordance with instructions stated on page 62.

For particulars regarding scholarships, prizes, and loan funds, see pages 62-71.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the Junior College are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

AMOUNT OF WORK

Fifteen or sixteen semester-hours, not including required Physical Education, constitutes normal work. Students not on probation may be permitted by the Dean to take seventeen semester-hours.

Students having a total quality-point index of 3.50 may, with the permission of the Dean, take eighteen or nineteen semester-hours. No student may take more than nineteen semester-hours, except with the permission of the Scholarship Committee.

For employed students working more than twenty-four hours a week, nine semester-hours, not including required Physical Education, is normal work. Employed students not on probation may be permitted by the Dean to take ten semester-hours. Employed students having a total quality-point index of 3.50 may be permitted by the Dean to take twelve or thirteen semester-hours.

ATTENDANCE

The student is held responsible to the instructor in charge of the course for which he is registered for all the work of the course, and all absences must be excused before provision will be made for him to make up the work missed.

With the exceptions noted below, occasional absences, not to exceed in number for each semester the semester-hours of credit for the semester, will be automatically excused. (Where a course has distinct divisions, such as lectures, laboratories, recitations, etc., these excuses apply pro rata to such separate divisions.) In applying this rule, absences adjacent to holiday periods are to be counted double.

Such automatic excuses are intended to cover the occasional minor exigencies and not to constitute an indiscriminate privilege. Students on probation are allowed no automatic excuses.

Excuses for absences from two or more consecutive class periods and for absences from examinations which have been announced in advance, can be obtained only by making written application to the Dean of the Junior College. All other absences may be excused by the instructor in charge.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

A student who has satisfactorily completed at least thirty-two semester-hours of work, including eighteen semester-hour credits in his curriculum requirements, shall be classed as a sophomore.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 197.

THE CERTIFICATE OF JUNIOR STANDING

Upon the satisfactory completion of the requirements of the Junior College, a Certificate of Junior Standing is granted. This certificate is required for admission to the junior class of Columbian College and to the professional Schools which require two years of preprofessional work (see "Curriculum Requirements", below).

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE CERTIFICATE

To be recommended for a certificate a student must satisfy the admission, residence, scholarship, and curriculum requirements. Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements on pages 74-75.

SCHOLARSHIP

The system of grading and of computing scholarship is described in detail on pages 73-74.

In order to receive a Junior Certificate a student must have a quality-point index of at least 2.00 on his complete record.

Honor Roll.—The names of those students who have a quality-point index of 3.50 or higher on the basis of their complete record will be placed on the honor roll and published. No consideration is given to those who have completed a total of less than fifteen semester-hours. A place on the honor roll does not necessarily mean that the student will receive honors upon graduation.

Probation.—Students must maintain a quality-point index of at least 2.00 or they are placed on probation. The cases of students having a quality-point index between 1.50 and 2.00, however, will be considered individually by the Scholarship Committee, which may retain or remove their probation. A student remains on probation as long as his quality-point index is below 2.00, or until his probation is removed by the Scholarship Committee.

Dismissal.—A student who has a total quality-point index below 1.50 will be dropped. The cases of students having a total quality-point index between 1.35 and 1.50, however, will be considered individually by the Scholarship Committee, which may retain them on probation or drop them.

A student who receives a grade of E or F in two courses in any two out of three successive semesters will be dropped.

Students who fall under probation for the third semester, whether successive or after an interval, will be dropped.

For the purpose of these rules, the Summer Sessions are considered a semester.

Students dropped for poor scholarship may apply for readmission after an interval of a calendar year. A student applying for readmission under this rule must submit evidence to the Committee on Admission and Advanced Standing that during his absence from the University he has so conducted himself as to indicate that he will profit by readmission. Students dropped twice for poor scholarship will not be readmitted. (See the University ruling covering dismissal, page 77.)

In the case of students with limited schedules, the foregoing scholarship rules are applied only when the student has undertaken fifteen semester-hours or multiples thereof, unless he receives a grade of E or F in two courses in any two out of three successive semesters.

Warnings.—At stated intervals during the academic year instructors shall file in the Office of the Registrar the names of those students who are doing work of D grade or lower. These "warnings" shall be transmitted to the students concerned and copies forwarded to their respective advisers. Upon request a parent or guardian may receive a copy of a warning notice sent to a student. A warning constitutes notice to the student that he must consult his adviser within a reasonable time and in any case not later than two weeks after receipt of the warning. "Warning periods" are established as follows: First semester—November 1 to 15. Second semester—March 15 to 30. Summer Sessions—six-week courses, third to fourth week; nine-week courses, fourth to fifth week.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education requirement consists of the prescribed assignments (see the announcement of Physical Education courses, pages 276-284) to be taken in the freshman and sophomore years by all students.

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

The following curricula lead to the Junior Certificate and, with the exception of the specialized Junior College curricula, qualify the holder to apply for admission to Columbian College (the Senior College) and the professional Schools and Divisions. Provision is made for certain differentiations to meet the needs of preparing for the several professional fields. Graduation from the Junior College does not, however, automatically admit a student to the Senior College or a professional School or Division.

A detailed statement of the various Junior College curricula will be found in the table facing pages 94-95.

After selecting a curriculum, a student is not permitted to change to another except with the permission of the Dean and on condition that he fulfill the requirements of the curriculum to which he changes.

The curriculum requirements include at least sixty-four semester-hours of credit.

All entering students are required to enroll in the freshman English course unless enrollment is postponed by the Dean. Properly qualified students may be certified by the English Department as exempt from English 1 and may then be allowed to enroll in English 2. No exemptions are granted from English 2.

Junior College students may not take second-group courses (courses numbered 101-200) without the written permission of the instructor and of the Dean of the Junior College. A student will not be permitted to postpone a first-group course, required under the curriculum for which he is registered, in order to take a second-group course for elective credit. The principle that first-group courses must be taken in the Junior College years and advanced courses in the Senior College and the professional Schools, will be rigidly adhered to in approving student programs.

A. THE JUNIOR COLLEGE CURRICULA (TWO YEARS)

I. General Curriculum.—This curriculum is intended for students who do not look forward to a four-year college course or to advanced study in the liberal arts or in the sciences. Through study with the best thought in the fields of human endeavor, it aims to provide the essential intellectual background of an educated person and to lay the foundations upon which may be built a solid structure of broad knowledge and training for good citizenship.

II. Business and Secretarial Curriculum.—This curriculum, when supplemented by adequate training and experience in shorthand, type-writing, office practice, etc., is intended to furnish a fundamental business education in preparation for positions as secretaries and minor business executives.

B. CURRICULA FOR ADMISSION TO COLUMBIAN COLLEGE

I. Curriculum Leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Arts.—This curriculum comprises the first two years of a standard four-year course in arts and letters, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts, which is granted by Columbian College. It satisfies the requirements for the first two years of the combined course leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws (see pages 137-38).

II. Curricula Leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Science.—These curricula constitute two-year courses with emphasis upon the sciences. Students intending to study in Columbian College for the Bachelor of Science degree in Biology, Botany, Geology, or Zoology, should follow curriculum B-II-a. Those desiring the Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry, Mathematics, or Physics, should follow curriculum B-II-b.

C. CURRICULA FOR ADMISSION TO THE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

I. Curriculum Leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education.—This curriculum covers the required college work for entrance to the School of Education. The requirements may be modified in some instances on the basis of the work presented for entrance.

II. Curriculum Leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Home Economics.—This curriculum covers the first two years of preparation for majors in Home Economics, for prospective teachers and others, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Home Economics.

III-IV. Curricula Leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Physical Education.—These curricula cover the first two years of a four-year course in Physical Education for Men and Physical Education for Women, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Physical Education.

D. CURRICULUM FOR ADMISSION TO THE SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT

This curriculum covers the work required for entrance to the following curricula which are offered in the School of Government: Public Affairs, Foreign Service, Foreign Commerce, Public Administration, Business Administration, Public Finance, and Public Accounting.

E. CURRICULUM FOR ADMISSION TO THE DIVISION OF LIBRARY SCIENCE

This curriculum is planned for students who expect to enter the Division of Library Science. It provides for a reading knowledge of French and German and outlines the work necessary as a basis for the technical work to follow.

F. CURRICULUM FOR ADMISSION TO THE SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

This curriculum covers the required college work for entrance to the School of Pharmacy and comprises the first two years of a four-year course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy.

G. CURRICULUM FOR ADMISSION TO THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

This curriculum covers the required college work for entrance to the School of Medicine and satisfies the requirements of the first two years of the combined course leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Doctor of Medicine (see page 127).

FOREIGN-LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS

The curriculum requirement in foreign languages is articulated with the admission requirements. For the Junior Certificate a student must have completed satisfactorily the equivalent of two college years in a single foreign language.

A student offering for admission four acceptable high-school units of a single foreign language, or the equivalent, is not required to take any foreign language. If he offers three units, he must complete the second semester of the second-year college course in the same language. If he offers two units, he must complete the entire second-year college course in the same language. If he offers one unit, he must complete the second semester of the first-year college course and the entire second-year course in the same language.

In some instances foreign languages are required or recommended as a preparation for advanced work in the Senior College and the professional Schools. Students should consult their advisers as to these requirements, so that appropriate foreign languages may be included, when necessary, in their Junior College programs.

EXAMINATIONS FOR WAIVING CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS*

A student desiring to omit a required course may take such examination as the department prescribes, and, on passing satisfactorily, he may be relieved of the curriculum requirements in that subject and qualify for registration in an advanced course. Passing of this examination shall not entitle the student to any hours of credit toward the degree. Students desiring to take such examinations should make the request of the Dean.

A fee of $5 for each examination is to be paid at the Comptroller's Office and the receipt exhibited at the door of room 27, Building Q, on September 18 or 19 at 2 p.m. for the first semester, and on January 29

* This provision does not apply to premedical students, all of whose required premedical work must be taken in a recognized college of arts and sciences.

HONORS

Honorable mention with the Junior Certificate may be granted to those students who have a total quality-point index of 3.50 or higher.

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

Columbian College was founded in 1821, during the presidency of James Monroe. A charter was obtained from Congress establishing "The Columbian College in the District of Columbia" for the "sole and exclusive purpose of educating youth in the English, learned and foreign languages, the liberal arts, sciences and literature", with full power to confer all degrees "usually granted and conferred in colleges".

Since the founding of old Columbian College, many other Schools and Divisions have been established to form the present George Washington University. In 1930 the name "Columbian College" was bestowed upon the Senior College.

ADMISSION

For a statement of the general regulations and procedure for admission to the University, see pages 49-54.

Special students and auditors are referred to the Division of University Students.

FOR THE BACHELOR'S DEGREES

Applicants for admission to Columbian College having the intention of becoming candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts must present a Certificate of Junior Standing based on curriculum A-I or B-I in the Junior College, or its equivalent (see pages 91-92 and table facing pages 94-95). Students taking the combined Arts and Law or Arts and Medicine curriculum are subject to this regulation, and those taking the latter must include all the special premedical requirements (see pages 121-22).

Applicants for admission to Columbian College having the intention of becoming candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science must present a Certificate of Junior Standing based on curriculum B-II-a (Botany, Geology, or Zoology) or B-II-b (Chemistry, Mathematics, or Physics) in the Junior College, or its equivalent (see page 92 and table facing pages 94-95).

FOR THE MASTER'S DEGREE

Applicants for admission to Columbian College having the intention of becoming candidates for the degree of Master of Arts must present a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution and a transcript of the studies previously pursued. Students from unaccredited institutions may be admitted at the discretion of the Dean's Council, but such students are required to take extra work above the minimum requirements as may be prescribed. In case the student's undergraduate curriculum did not include a program of study substantially equivalent to a major in his chosen field, he must complete this work in addition to that required for the Master's degree.

REGISTRATION

For information and regulations regarding registration, see pages 55-56.

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For a statement of fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61.

FELLOWSHIPS, SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUND

Details regarding qualifications and application for fellowships will be found on page 62.

Scholarships are administered by the University Committee on Student Loans and Scholarships. Application should be made to the Registrar of the University in accordance with instructions stated on page 62.

For particulars regarding scholarships, prizes, and loan funds, see pages 62-71.

DIVISIONAL ORGANIZATION

The instructional organization of Columbian College is contained in the divisions. The divisional and departmental officers administer the educational requirements for students majoring within the divisions.

INDEPENDENT STUDY PLAN

Under the independent study plan a student of demonstrated capacity with special interest in the subject matter of a course, may be permitted to undertake independent study under the personal direction of an instructor in accordance with the rules of the division in which the subject falls. Credit under this plan is limited to the specific course credits as designated in the list of courses of instruction in this catalogue.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in Columbian College are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

AMOUNT OF WORK

Full-time students who are not on probation may take ordinarily not more than seventeen semester-hours. Students employed more than twenty-four hours a week, who are not on probation, may take not more than ten semester-hours.

Full-time students whose quality-point index is 3.50 or higher, may take not more than nineteen semester-hours.

ATTENDANCE

The student is held responsible for all the work of the courses in which he is registered, and all absences must be excused by the instructor in charge before provision is made for him to make up the work missed.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

A student who has completed less than thirty semester-hours in Columbian College, and who has registered his major at the Office of the Registrar, is classed as a junior.

A student who has completed thirty semester-hours in Columbian College, including at least one course in his major, is classed as a senior.

A student who has satisfactorily completed the work for the baccalaureate degree, and who has registered his major at the Office of the Registrar, is classed as a master in course.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 197.

THE BACHELOR'S DEGREES

Upon the satisfactory completion of the undergraduate requirements of Columbian College, the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science is conferred.

In conjunction with the professional curricula the following combined curricula are offered: A six-year curriculum leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws, and a seven-year curriculum leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Doctor of Medicine.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREES

To be recommended for a degree a student must satisfy the admission, residence, scholarship, and curriculum requirements. Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements on pages 74-75.

SCHOLARSHIP

The system of grading and of computing scholarship is described in detail on pages 73-74.

In order to graduate a student must have a quality-point index of at least 2.00. In addition he must have a quality-point index of at least 2.50 in his major subject.

Probation.—Students must maintain a quality-point index of at least 2.00 or they are placed on probation. Students remain on probation as long as their quality-point index on all work taken is below 2.00.

Suspension.—Students having a quality-point index below 1.00 or who are placed on probation for a third semester, whether successive or after an interval, are suspended.

Students suspended for poor scholarship may apply for readmission after an interval of a calendar year. A student applying for readmission under this rule must submit evidence to the Committee on Admission and Advanced Standing that during his absence from the University he has so conducted himself as to indicate that he will profit by readmission. Students suspended twice for poor scholarship are not readmitted. (See the University ruling covering dismissal, page 77.)

For the purpose of these rules, the Summer Sessions are considered a semester.

In the case of students with limited schedules, the foregoing scholarship rules are applied only when the student has undertaken fifteen semester-hours or more.

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

Every candidate for graduation must satisfy one of the four curricula listed below leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. The curriculum requirements include at least sixty semester-hours of credit beyond that of the Junior College.

After selecting a curriculum, a student may not change to another except by permission of the Dean and on condition that he fulfil the requirements of the curriculum to which he changes.

The freshman and sophomore years of each curriculum will be found in the announcement of the Junior College.

In the case of curricula B-I, B-II-a, and B-II-b in Columbia College, the requirements for the major in the several departments of instruction are stated immediately preceding the announcement of courses offered (see pages 197-313). The first year of Law or Medicine satisfies the requirements for the major in the combined Arts and Law and Arts and Medicine curricula respectively.

Students are required to select and file with the Registrar a choice of a major upon entering Columbia College. Students may change the major only with the consent of the Dean and the executive officers of the departments concerned.

BACHELOR OF ARTS

B-I.* General Curriculum.—The work of the junior and senior years, including a major, must be approved by the major department and the Dean.

B-I.* Combined Curriculum: Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws.—This curriculum contemplates three years of collegiate study (the last thirty semester-hours of which must be taken in Columbia College) and three years in The George Washington University Law School.

G.* Combined Curriculum: Bachelor of Arts and Doctor of Medicine.—This curriculum contemplates three years of collegiate study (the last thirty semester-hours of which must be taken in Columbia College) and four years in The George Washington University School of Medicine.

Students wishing to avail themselves of the opportunity afforded by the combined curricula must obtain the approval of the Dean of Columbia College at the time of entering the professional School. Upon the completion of the first year of the regular curriculum in the professional School, and upon the recommendation of its Dean, the degree of Bachelor of Arts will be conferred.

The entire work must be upon the scholarship level required for graduation. Credit is not given for professional work taken in another institution.

Students entering the School of Medicine of The George Washington University with two or more years of preprofessional work of satisfactory quality, who thereupon complete the requirements for a degree in the School of Medicine and present the recommendation of its Dean, may obtain the degree of Bachelor of Arts upon the completion of thirty semester-hours of satisfactory work in Columbian College.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

The work of the junior and senior years, including a major in one of the six sciences mentioned below, must be approved by the major department and the Dean.

B-II-a.* Botany, Geology, and Zoology Curriculum.—Geology 21-22 must be taken if not elected earlier.

B-II-b.* Chemistry, Mathematics, and Physics Curriculum.—If Botany has been elected earlier, Geology 21-22 or Zoology 1-2 must be taken. If Geology has been elected earlier, either Botany 1 and 2 or Zoology 1-2 must be taken.

EXAMINATIONS FOR WAIVING CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

A student desiring to omit a required course may take such examination as the department prescribes, and, on passing satisfactorily, he may be relieved of the curriculum requirement in that subject and qualify for registration in an advanced course. Passing of this examination shall not entitle the student to any hours of credit toward the degree. Students desiring to take such examinations should make the request of the Dean.

A fee of $5 for each examination is to be paid at the Comptroller's Office and the receipt exhibited at the door of room 27, Building Y, on September 18 or 19 at 2 p.m. for the first semester, and on January 29 or 30 at 2 p.m. for the second semester. Two hours will be allowed for the examination. Should a student wish to take more than one examination, arrangements will be made accordingly.

THE MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE

Upon the satisfactory completion of the graduate requirements of Columbian College, the degree of Master of Arts is conferred.

CANDIDACY

A student is formally recognized as a candidate for the Master's degree only when his application for candidacy has been approved by the major department and the Dean. This application is made on a form obtained at the Office of the Registrar, and such application must be approved before the student begins the last fifteen hours of work for the Master's degree. Also before being admitted to candidacy the student must show a reading knowledge (certified by the appropriate language department) of at least one modern foreign language to be selected by the major department. Examinations in modern foreign languages will be given between September 23 and 29, February 5 and 11, and July 6 and 12.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE

Candidates for the degree of Master of Arts must complete successfully a minimum of thirty semester-hours of work forming a consistent plan of study, of which at least eighteen semester-hours must be in the major subject. Not more than twelve semester-hours may be taken in another School or Division of the University, and such work may not be counted toward both a degree in that School or Division and the Master's degree in Columbian College. A thesis, counting six semester-hours of the above thirty semester-hours, may or may not be required, at the discretion of the major department.

Advanced work in other institutions of learning may be credited toward the Master's degree to the extent of not more than six semester-hours upon presentation of detailed certificates of the work for which credit is sought. However, if such work in other institutions is done during the student's period of residence in The George Washington University, it will not be so counted unless the student has obtained the written permission of his major department before entering upon such work. Such allowance of credit will be at the discretion of the Committee on Admission and Advanced Standing.

Work completed here, or elsewhere, more than three years prior to final registration for the Master's degree, will be counted only if the candidate successfully passes an examination on the subject matter of the work offered for credit.

Courses may be elected from one, two, or three departments with the approval of the major department. The program of study must include at least twelve semester-hours of third-group courses (numbered above 200), exclusive of the thesis, unless the major department gives written permission to count less.

Second-group courses (numbered 101-200) may be counted toward the Master's degree only when registration for advanced credit has been approved at the beginning of the course by the Dean of Columbian College and by the officer of instruction, and provided that the student shall have done such extra work in the courses as may be prescribed by the instructor concerned. No work counted toward a baccalaureate degree may be counted toward a Master's degree.

In addition to the course examinations, candidates must pass a general final examination on the major subject. The examination may be either oral or written, or both.

A student who expects to continue his studies for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy after receiving the Master's degree is strongly advised so to plan his program from the beginning that work for the lower degree may count for the higher.

Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements on pages 74-75.

RESIDENCE

A minimum of one year must be completed in residence. Summer Sessions work may be counted in residence, but in no case may the period of residence aggregate less than twenty-seven weeks. Unless special permission has been granted by the Dean to pursue the work elsewhere, the last work before graduation must be completed in residence.

No credit is granted for work done in absentia, i.e., without formal instruction here or at some other institution of learning, except for the thesis, which may be completed in absentia with the permission of the department concerned.

SCHOLARSHIP

Students whose scholarship is unsatisfactory may be suspended upon recommendation of the major department to the Dean. Regarding the system of grading, see pages 73-74.

THE THESIS

In case a thesis is required by the major department, it must be registered for not later than the beginning of the final year, unless the professor in charge of the thesis permits registration at the beginning of the final semester. For this purpose the nine weeks' term of the Summer Sessions is considered as a semester. The choice of the thesis subject must be approved by the professor in charge of the major and recorded in the Office of the Registrar by the date announced in the University calendar. The typewritten thesis in its final form must have the approval of the professor and must be presented to the Dean by the student not later than the date announced in the University calendar. Requirements regarding the form of the thesis are stated on page 76.

GENERAL INFORMATION

PURPOSE

The purpose of the Graduate Council of The George Washington University is to create a fellowship between the Masters of Research in the various fields and the students who have apprenticed themselves to these Masters, and through this fellowship to foster a creative spirit in the graduate studies leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. The basic conception of this degree is the attainment of a mastery of related fields of knowledge, achieved without regard to specific courses of instruction and culminating, through original research, in a contribution to knowledge. It is hoped that in the development of this program the historical relationship of master and apprentice may be revived. In keeping with this idea a student, after satisfying certain requirements, is responsible solely to the Master under whom he has signified his desire to work.

* The President of the University is an ex-officio member of the committee.

APPLICATION TO UNDERTAKE DOCTORATE DISCIPLINES

A student wishing to undertake work under the Graduate Council must possess an adequate academic preparation for advanced study in the proposed field, as evidenced by satisfactory Bachelor's and Master's degrees, or their equivalent, together with acceptable personal qualities and capacity for creative work.

After an applicant's credentials have been filed with the Director of Admissions of the University, the Chairman of the Graduate Council will appoint a Consultative Committee (usually composed of five members), which will evaluate the records submitted and interview the applicant. The applicant will then meet the Personnel Committee of the Graduate Council. When the recommendations of the Consultative and Personnel Committees have been presented, the Graduate Council will act upon the application for candidacy to Fellowship in the Graduate Council.

CANDIDACY FOR FELLOWSHIP

If accepted, the candidate must demonstrate his ability to read French and German and satisfy such other prerequisites for advanced study as shall be specified by the Consultative Committee. The necessary examinations will be arranged by the Chairman of the Graduate Council.

The Consultative Committee will, after consultation with the candidate, designate a program of study in the several fields of learning on which the candidate must stand examination as a part of the requirements for admission to Fellowship in the Graduate Council. These fields of learning will be selected from any of the following "divisions": (1) The Division of Languages and Literatures, which comprises the Departments of Classical Languages and Literatures, English, Germanic Languages and Literatures, and Romance Languages and Literatures; (2) the Division of Mathematics and the Physical Sciences, which comprises the Departments of Biochemistry, Chemistry, Mathematics, Pharmacology, Physics, and Statistics; (3) the Division of the Natural Sciences, which comprises the Departments of Anatomy, Bacteriology, Biology, Botany, Geology

Neurology, Pathology, Physiology, Psychology, and Zoology; (4) the Division of the Social Sciences, which comprises the Departments of Business Administration, Economics, Education, History, Law, Philosophy, Political Science, Public Speaking, and Sociology.

The candidate will be directed by his Consultative Committee throughout the entire period of preparation for this Council-Fellowship examination.

THE COUNCIL-FELLOWSHIP EXAMINATION

Upon application of the Consultative Committee the Chairman of the Graduate Council will set a date for the Council-Fellowship examination and appoint an Examining Committee, composed of the members of the Consultative Committee and at least two other members of the Graduate Council. The Council-Fellowship examination will be a written examination, conducted during a period of one week. The candidate, in consultation with the Chairman of the Graduate Council, will have designated the Master with whom he wishes to undertake research if admitted as a Fellow. If he is successful in the Council-Fellowship examination and is accepted by the Master, the candidate will be nominated to the Graduate Council for election as a Fellow.

FELLOWSHIP IN THE GRADUATE COUNCIL

When a student has been admitted as a Fellow of the Graduate Council, his Consultative Committee will be discharged and he will become responsible to his Master alone for the development of his field, the selection of a thesis subject, and the preparation of his thesis. He will be formally inducted into Fellowship, which carries with it the privilege of membership in the Graduate Council, including participation in its general meetings and unrestricted use of all the academic facilities of the University. The Master may refer the Fellow to other institutions for special study, under arrangements made by the Council.

THE THESIS

Not later than the date specified in the University calendar the Fellow must submit to the Chairman of the Graduate Council one typewritten original and two legible carbon copies of his thesis in its final form and also a typewritten summary of the thesis consisting of not more than 2,500 words. Requirements regarding the form of the thesis are stated on page 76.

The summaries of accepted theses will be printed in a volume forming a number of the University Bulletin. The successful candidate for the doctorate is required to pay, before receiving his degree, a fee to cover the expense of printing the summary of his thesis.

THE FINAL EXAMINATION

After the presentation of the Fellow's thesis, the Chairman of the Council, upon application of the Master, will set the date of the final examination and appoint the Final-Examination Committee. The examiners will include at least five members of the Graduate Council other than the Master, and at least two qualified experts in the Fellow's special field from other institutions of research. The Master will present the Fellow to the Examining Committee. In this final examination, which will be oral, the Fellow will defend his thesis in relation to the field of learning in which it lies. The examination will be public.

THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY

If the Fellow satisfies this committee in respect to the high quality of his contribution to knowledge and his mastery of the field, he will be recommended by the committee to the Graduate Council and, if approved, nominated by the Council to the Board of Trustees of the University for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For information regarding fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61.

TEACHING FELLOWSHIPS AND LOAN FUNDS

Teaching fellowships are available in the Departments of Anatomy, Biochemistry, Botany, Chemistry, Economics, History, Physics, Psychology, and Zoology. Details regarding qualifications and application for these fellowships will be found on page 62.

For particulars regarding loan funds, see pages 70-71.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Candidates and Fellows in the Graduate Council are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

CHANGE OF ASSIGNMENT AND WITHDRAWAL

A candidate or Fellow desiring to change his assignment must secure the permission of the Chairman of the Graduate Council. In case of withdrawal from the University, prompt notice should be sent to the Chairman of the Graduate Council.

RIGHT TO DROP STUDENTS

The right is reserved to drop any student whenever, in the interest of the student or the University, the Graduate Council deems it advisable to do so.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

Ordinarily courses of instruction are assigned by the Consultative Committee only to make up deficiencies. The descriptions of courses will be found in alphabetical order beginning on page 197.

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

The School of Medicine of The George Washington University, the eleventh medical school established in the United States, opened in March 1825. The University Hospital and Dispensary were established in 1898 and made a part of the organization of the School.

The School is a member of the Association of American Medical Colleges and is one of the medical colleges which has been designated continuously as class "A" by the American Medical Association. The degrees of the School of Medicine are recognized by all State examining boards.

LOCATION AND ADVANTAGES

The city of Washington, with more than a half-million inhabitants, provides ample clinical material. The University Hospital and Dispensary furnish clinical facilities and a large proportion of the materials studied in the courses in Pathology and Clinical Microscopy.

The Library of the Surgeon General's Office of the United States Army is the most complete general medical library in the world. In addition to its great collections of medical works, all leading medical periodicals of the world are available. This Library, as well as the Library of Congress, the Public Library, and the many excellent libraries of the various Government departments, is open to medical students.

The Army Medical Museum affords opportunity for studying the conditions met in military and general medicine and surgery. Its collection of anatomical and pathological specimens is unequaled by any other museum in this country. The Museum of Hygiene, the National Museum, the Smithsonian Institution, the Botanic Gardens, and the Department of Agriculture, all afford opportunities for study in Medicine and its allied sciences.

EQUIPMENT

Medical School Building.—The building housing the School of Medicine is a modern, five-story structure with lecture- and classrooms, laboratories, and students' rooms, equipped with modern improvements. A four-story laboratory building is adjacent to the main medical building.

Laboratories.—The major laboratories are for Anatomy, Biochemistry, Histology and Embryology, Physiology and Pharmacology, Bacteriology, Hygiene and Preventive Medicine, Clinical Microscopy, and Pathology. They are fully equipped to enable students to pursue adequately the laboratory courses and acquire the technical skill necessary in modern clinical and investigative work.

Medical Library.—The Library contains a selected reference collection of more than 3,000 volumes, and provision is made to add to it the important new medical works. The principal medical periodicals are received regularly.

For purposes of advanced study and research the Library of the Surgeon General of the Army is available to all students and teachers through a service maintained by the Medical School Library.

CLINICAL FACILITIES

The University Hospital and the University Dispensary.—The Hospital and Dispensary are part of the educational equipment of the University. They are adjacent to the School of Medicine and are controlled by the Faculty of Medicine. The Dispensary has a large out-patient service in all departments, to which several thousand visits are made annually. The Faculty believes that clinical teaching should be thoroughly systematized. To this end, all clinics are under the supervision of the Assistant Dean, who is also Medical Director of the Hospital. This insures the highest possible utilization of available clinical material for teaching purposes and proper supervision of clinicians and students; it brings the individual student into direct contact with patients and requires him to do under authoritative supervision the clinical and laboratory work necessary for diagnosis and treatment; and it permits proper interpretation of the conditions occurring during the progress of cases and promotes the keeping of adequate records. Clinical and clinicopathological conferences are held in which the history of cases, the physical findings, laboratory records, and the post-mortem pathology when available, are presented and correlated. The Assistant Dean assigns the students to the different clinics, and supervises the records, the attendance, and the instruction of students. Third-year students are assigned in rotation by sections for clinical instruction in the Dispensary.

Gallinger Municipal Hospital.—Clinical instruction is available in all branches of Medicine. A great wealth of clinical material is afforded in this hospital by ordinance of the municipal authorities of the District of Columbia, whereby one half of the patients are assigned for treatment and clinical teaching to members of the Faculty of this School, nominated by this University.

Children's Hospital.—Clinical instruction in Pediatrics and General and Orthopedic Surgery.

Emergency Hospital and Central Dispensary.—Clinical instruction in Medicine, Surgery (particularly in emergency surgery, fractures, and dislocations), Dermatology, and Orthopedics.

Garfield Memorial Hospital.—Clinical instruction in Medicine, including contagious diseases, Surgery, Gynecology, and Obstetrics.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital.—Clinical instruction in mental and nervous diseases, Medicine, Surgery, post-mortem work, and Gross Pathology. This hospital, with four thousand beds, is maintained by the United States Government. The psychiatric clinic is one of the largest in the world.

The Episcopal Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Hospital.—Clinical instruction in Ophthalmology, Otology, Laryngology, and Rhinology.

ADMISSION

The minimum requirement for admission is two years of college work, totaling at least sixty semester-hours, taken in an accredited college of arts and sciences.

SPECIFIC EDUCATIONAL REQUIREMENTS

SECONDARY-SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS

Of the fifteen secondary-school units required, three must be in English, two in one foreign language (ancient or modern), one in Algebra, one in Geometry, one in History, and one in Science (Botany, Chemistry, Physics, or Zoology). Eleven of the units offered must be in English, foreign language, Mathematics, Science, and History. No candidate will be accepted with any condition in secondary-school work.

PREMEDICAL-COLLEGE REQUIREMENTS

(60 semester-hours)

1. Chemistry, twelve semester-hours as follows: (a) Eight semester-hours of General Inorganic Chemistry, of which at least four semester-hours are laboratory work. Qualitative Analysis may be counted as General Inorganic Chemistry. (b) Four semester-hours of Organic Chemistry, of which two semester-hours are laboratory work. It is strongly recommended, however, that an additional four semester-hours of Organic Chemistry be taken.

2. Physics, eight semester-hours, of which at least two semester-hours are laboratory work. It is recommended that this course be preceded by one in Trigonometry.

3. Biology, eight semester-hours, of which at least four semester-hours are laboratory work. This requirement may be satisfied by a course of eight semester-hours in either General Biology or Zoology, or by a course of four semester-hours each in Zoology and Botany, but not by Botany alone.

4. English composition and literature, six semester-hours. The usual introductory college course, or its equivalent. The student should develop facility in English expression.

5. Modern foreign language. A reading knowledge, preferably of French or German.

6. Electives. It is recommended that the remaining semester-hours required include: (a) Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy; (b) Qualitative and Quantitative Chemistry; (c) Social Science and Psychology.

No student will be accepted with any condition in college work.

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

1. Forms upon which to submit records of secondary-school and college work will be furnished on request.

All credentials submitted are to be made out by the proper school and college authorities and mailed by them to the Director of Admissions, The George Washington University, 2029 G Street NW., Washington, D.C. Photostat copies of credentials without the original signature of the certifying authority will not be accepted.

Each form must cover only work done at the school or college which fills out the form.

2. A recent photograph, with signature, is required of each applicant.

3. As the number of qualified applicants for admission to the School each year far exceeds its capacity, those who wish to insure admission are urged to secure from the schools and colleges attended completely compiled premedical credentials and forward them for evaluation as long a time as possible before the opening of the School of Medicine in September.

4. A fee of $3 to defray the costs of completing the records for final consideration for admission must accompany each application.

ADVANCED STANDING

Students who have satisfactorily attended one or more terms at any other class-A medical school and who have the necessary preliminary educational requirements, may be admitted to advanced standing. No student, however, will be admitted to advanced standing in the senior class.

LEGAL STANDARDS

The laws relating to the preliminary educational qualifications required of physicians differ in many of the States, and candidates are advised that if they meet the premedical and other requirements of this School they will be able to comply with the legal demands of all State Examining Boards in the United States.

REGISTRATION AND ADMISSION TO CLASSES

Registration in the School of Medicine is for a period of one year. After the student has entered the courses of instruction he is obligated for the full tuition for the year. No part of the tuition will be refunded upon withdrawal or dismissal for any cause. Acceptance by the School of a student's fees does not in any way obligate the School to accept the student for any subsequent year, and the right is reserved to drop any student from the School whenever, in the interest of the student or the School, the Faculty deems it advisable to do so.

Students are admitted to classes on presentation of the Comptroller's ticket which is issued when all required fees have been paid.

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For a statement of fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61.

Fees for each semester (including the University fee) are $275, payable in advance.

All fees are payable at the Office of the Comptroller of the University, 2033 G Street NW. Fees due must be paid at the time of registration; no student is permitted to complete registration or to attend classes until fees are paid.

On account of the many applications for admission, and as the size of the freshman class is limited, places can be reserved only for those qualified applicants who remit a deposit of $100, which will be credited toward the tuition of the first semester. Should unusual circumstances arise whereby the matriculant is unable to attend, this initial payment, less a charge of $50 for registration, transfer, etc., will be returned up to one month before the opening of the session.

Students will be required to pay for injury to apparatus and other college property. All breakage and loss not directly traceable to an individual student is assessed pro rata. Each student is required, at the completion of laboratory courses, to replace or pay for all articles of equipment which he has lost, broken, or destroyed. Credit for work will not be given until this is done.

COST OF TEXTBOOKS AND STUDENT EQUIPMENT

The minimum cost of necessary textbooks and student equipment (microscope, drawing materials, glass slides, clinical thermometer, stethoscope, hemocytometer, etc.) is approximately as follows: first year, $150; second year, $87; third year, $60; fourth year, $60; total, $357.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUNDS

The John Hitz Metzgerott Scholarship is available to students in the School of Medicine.

The Ordranax Prize of $80 is awarded to the member of the graduating class of the School of Medicine who has completed the four-year medical course with the highest scholastic standing.

The following loan funds are available to students in the School of Medicine: Daughters of the American Revolution Loan Fund; Harmon Foundation Loan Fund; Henry Strong Educational Foundation Loan Fund; and the University Loan Fund.

For particulars regarding scholarships, prizes, and loan funds, see pages 62-71.

DEPARTMENTS OF INSTRUCTION

The work of the School is organized under the following departments: Anatomy; Bacteriology, Hygiene, and Preventive Medicine; Biochemistry; Dermatology and Syphilology; Experimental Medicine; Medicine; Neurology; Obstetrics and Gynecology; Ophthalmology; Oto-rhinolaryngology; Pathology; Pediatrics; Pharmacology and Therapeutics; Physiology; Psychiatry; Surgery; and Urology.

CLINICS

Courses of clinical instruction are included in the announcements of the clinical departments. The Assistant Dean prepares schedules of clinics and of student section assignments to the various hospitals and dispensaries.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the School of Medicine are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

ATTENDANCE

Absence consists in being away from a class or clinic during a scheduled period, entering after the class or clinic has begun, or leaving before either is dismissed. Absence is not allowed unless an excuse is obtained from the Dean or the instructor. Excuse for absence due to sickness must be accompanied by a certificate signed by the attending physician and must be filed in the office of the Dean. For every unexcused absence a department will deduct one half of one percent from the student's final grade in the subject involved.

GRADES

Proficiency in all subjects is marked on a basis of A (90-100); B (80-90); C (75-80); D (65-74), condition; E (below 65), failure; I, incomplete. The passing grade in each subject is C.

ADVANCEMENT

Any student who has satisfactorily completed the required work of the first, second, or third year of the course and has passed all examinations is eligible for advanced standing, if approved by the Scholarship Committee. No student may be enrolled for the clinical work of the third and fourth years without first having qualified in all the premedical sciences.

FAILURE

A student who has failed in any subject will not be advanced until such failure is removed and then only by authority of the Scholarship Committee. All conditions must be removed at the next make-up examination period provided for this purpose.

EXAMINATIONS

Examinations may be written, oral, or practical, and will be held at the end of the first semester and at the end of the academic year. Comprehensive examinations are held during the senior year.

A student who fails to appear at a regularly scheduled final examination will not be examined until the next regular examination, except by special permission of the Scholarship Committee. For make-up examinations to remove conditions, a fee of $5 will be charged for each subject.

SPECIAL UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE ADVANTAGES IN THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

The payment of the University fee, charged all students, entitles them to certain health services described under the Department of Health Administration, page 243. Payment of this fee also secures for students certain student-activity privileges, which are explained on page 58.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS

All first-year students are given a comprehensive physical examination by the Department of Health Administration upon admission to the School of Medicine. The students are informed of the findings and advised regarding such measures as will tend to maintain a high standard of health.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Interns are appointed annually in the University Hospital. Similar appointments are made to graduates and undergraduates of this School in the following hospitals of the District: Casualty Hospital; Children's Hospital; Columbia Hospital for Women; Emergency Hospital; Episcopal Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Hospital; Gallinger Municipal Hospital; Garfield Memorial Hospital; Providence Hospital; St. Elizabeth's Hospital; Sibley Hospital; Tuberculosis Hospital; and Walter Reed United States Army General Hospital.

Students who, after graduation, desire internships in hospitals outside the District of Columbia, should apply directly to the institutions which they wish to enter. A list of hospitals approved for intern training is published annually in the Journal of the American Medical Association, and a copy of the list may be consulted in the office of the Dean.

COMMISSION ON LICENSURE, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Graduates who wish to take the examinations of the Commission on Licensure, District of Columbia, or desire to use the District license for reciprocity with the States, should apply to the Secretary, Commission on Licensure, Healing Arts Practice Act, District Building, Washington, D.C.

UNIVERSITY MEDICAL SOCIETY

The George Washington University Medical Society was established in 1905. All alumni and members of the Faculty are eligible for membership on election. Meetings of the society are held in the School of Medicine on the third Saturday evening of each month from October to May. Senior students may be invited to attend the meetings of this society.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 197.

THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

Upon the satisfactory completion of the requirements of the School of Medicine, the degree of Doctor of Medicine is conferred. The degree of Doctor of Medicine given by this University is recognized by all State Examining Boards in the United States.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE

Every candidate for graduation with the degree of Doctor of Medicine must be at least twenty-one years of age, of reputable character, and free of all indebtedness to the University. He must have satisfied the admission requirements, completed satisfactorily not less than four years of study as a matriculated student in Medicine, completed all required courses, and passed satisfactorily all prescribed examinations. Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements on pages 74-75.

COMBINED ARTS AND MEDICINE CURRICULUM

Candidates register in the Junior College for the freshman and sophomore years of the premedical curriculum and in Columbian College for the junior year. In order to be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, candidates must complete at least ninety-four semester-hours of prescribed college work, including Physical Education (at least thirty semester-hours and one year of residence must be completed in Columbian College), and the first year of the medical curriculum. Upon completion of the fourth year in the medical curriculum the student becomes eligible for the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

In certain selected cases where students have completed three years of work in an approved college of arts, other than The George Washington University, with an excellent scholastic record, such students may be recommended to the University by the Faculty of Medicine for the degree of Bachelor of Arts in the University at large upon the completion of the first year in Medicine, provided a high standard of scholarship is maintained in the School of Medicine.

PLAN OF INSTRUCTION

Each year of the medical curriculum is divided into two semesters of sixteen weeks each. The curriculum for the degree of Doctor of Medicine must begin with the fall semester.

Under the order of the work there is a coordination in the offerings of the several departments which enables the student to concentrate his attention upon the subject materials in such a way that they can be readily understood and recognized as integrated parts of a unified training. The salient features in the method of instruction are thorough laboratory training, demonstrations, and clinical teaching, with recitations and lectures to clarify the many problems presented. The clinical material in the various hospitals and out-patient departments is utilized to the fullest extent for both clinical instruction and laboratory work.

HONORS

Candidates who have completed the four-year medical course with an average grade of A may be recommended for graduation "with distinction".

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

The George Washington University Law School, established in 1826, discontinued later, and reorganized in 1865, is the oldest in the District of Columbia. The course of instruction for the degree of Bachelor of Laws, originally requiring two years, was increased in 1898 to three years. A course leading to the degree of Master of Laws was added in 1877. In 1900 the School took part in the organization of the Association of American Law Schools and has been a member of the Association since that time. In 1911 the School became coeducational. In 1924 the late afternoon course for students with limited schedules was increased to four years. On September 1, 1925, the entrance requirements were increased to two years of college work; in 1936 they were increased to a college degree. The School is approved by the Council of Legal Education of the American Bar Association. Since September 1, 1925, it has occupied a new building, designed and constructed for its use. This building is named Stockton Hall in honor of the late Rear Admiral Charles Herbert Stockton, President of the University from 1910 to 1918.

THE LIBRARY

The Law School Library of nearly 18,000 volumes contains the decisions of the highest courts of all the States, the reports of the United States Supreme Court and lower Federal courts, the English Reprint and English Law Reports, the United States Statutes, the statutes of all the States, the English statutes, the principal English and American digests, legal encyclopedias and collections of annotated cases, and the leading case books, textbooks, and legal periodicals.

The library is open from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. each class day (Saturday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.) and from 2 to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

THE LAW REVIEW

The George Washington Law Review, published quarterly by the University, is edited by the faculty and students of the Law School. It is devoted exclusively to the field of governmental and federal public law. The location of the University in the National Capital, where the primary sources of federal public law may be observed in operation, affords a unique opportunity for specialization in this field. Among the subjects included in this field are administrative law, admiralty, conflict of laws, constitutional law, international law, interstate commerce, immigration, patents, copyrights, trade marks, taxation, trade regulation, tariff, radio law, and veterans' administration.

The editorial work of the Review is in charge of a faculty editor-in-chief, a faculty board of associate editors, a board of departmental advisory editors, and a board of student editors. The student editors are chosen each year from those students who have completed forty semester-hours or more with an average grade of B or better.

ADMISSION

For a statement of the general regulations and procedure for admission to the University, see pages 49-54.

Applications for admission and supporting certificates should be filed with the Director of Admissions not later than two weeks before the registration period.

ADVANCED STANDING

Advanced standing toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws and Juris Doctor may be granted for work successfully completed in other law schools which are on the approved list of the American Bar Association or are members of the Association of American Law Schools. Students transferring from other approved law schools must satisfy the requirements for admission to the Law School of The George Washington University.

Applicants for admission with advanced standing must file certified transcripts of record showing high-school, college, and law credits. The right is reserved to refuse such credit, in whole or in part, or to allow it conditionally or after examination, and credit given may be withdrawn for subsequent poor work. No student admitted with advanced standing will be recommended for the degree of LL.B. or J.D. until he has completed in this school at least one full year of residence and passed successfully 28 semester-hours with the required average for the degree. No student will be admitted who has been in attendance at another law school and is ineligible, because of poor scholarship, to return to that school.

Students intending to attend summer-school sessions at other law schools and desiring to use credits obtained at such schools in their course at this Law School, must first have the courses they wish to take approved by the Dean. In no event will credits be recognized in excess of those which might be obtained in a similar period in this School.

FOR THE BACHELOR OF LAWS DEGREE

Candidates for this degree must have received, before admission, the degree of Bachelor of Arts or an equivalent degree from an approved college or university. The conferring of this degree must be evidenced by proper certificates.

Persons who have satisfactory credits in an approved curriculum of the Junior College and Columbian College of The George Washington University for three years' (90 semester-hours') work toward the bachelor's degree may be admitted to the Law School to the combined six-year arts and law curriculum.

Transfer students may present work satisfactorily completed in other approved colleges toward the 90 semester-hours required, provided that at least the last 30 semester-hours shall have been completed at The George Washington University, and the work to be transferred is consistent with the curriculum requirements.

Persons who have satisfactory credits in the Engineering School of The George Washington University for three years (96 semester-hours) toward the degree of Bachelor of Science may be admitted to the Law School to the combined six-year engineering and law curriculum.

Transfer students may present work satisfactorily completed in other approved schools of engineering toward the 96 semester-hours required, provided that at least the last 30 semester-hours shall have been completed at The George Washington University, and the work to be transferred shall be consistent with the curriculum requirements.

FOR THE DEGREE OF JURIS DOCTOR (J.D.)

Candidates for this degree must have received before admission the degree of Bachelor of Arts or an equivalent degree from an approved university or college.

FOR THE MASTER OF LAWS DEGREE

Candidates for this degree must, at the time of their admission, have received the degree of Bachelor of Laws or an equivalent degree from an accredited law school, and must have attained in the course for the law degree an average grade equivalent to the grade of B in this Law School or must be admitted by special action of the Dean's Council.

UNCLASSIFIED STUDENTS

Persons eligible for admission to regular standing may, in the discretion of the Dean, be admitted as unclassified students, to courses aggregating not more than four hours a week.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS IN THE LAW SCHOOL

A limited number of persons who cannot qualify as candidates for a degree in Law, but who are over twenty-five years of age and because of their maturity, training, and experience seem qualified to pursue the study of Law, may be admitted to the Division of University Students. Candidates for admission as "university" students in Law must file written applications, setting forth their qualifications in detail, and letters and certificates to prove the facts stated therein as to their education and experience. Each application must first be submitted to the faculty of the Law School and approved by them. Approval will be granted only in unusual cases where some special reason justifies admission. Work done by such university students will not be counted toward a degree.

REGISTRATION

Before attending classes each student must present himself in person for registration. No student will be registered in the Law School until proper credentials have been filed and approved by the proper officers of the University (see "Admission", above).

In a case in which a student is permitted to drop a year course at the end of the first semester he must register for the second semester of that subject not later than one calendar year from the time the attendance in the first semester was completed.

Registration is permitted at the beginning of either semester. Students beginning the study of Law in the second semester, however, may pursue only a limited schedule. Such students may pursue other first-year courses in the succeeding summer session.

Qualified students who are entitled to advanced standing on records from other approved law schools or who have completed courses at this Law School during former periods of attendance, may register at the beginning of the second semester for subjects which commence at that time, but not for year subjects.

Registration days for the academic year 1936-37 will be Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday, September 19, 21, and 22, 1936, and Wednesday and Thursday, February 3 and 4, 1937. A late-registration fee of $5 will be charged each student who is permitted to register after the regular registration days. No registration may be made for a semester subject after the first two weeks of a semester, or for a year subject after the first four weeks of the year.

Registration may be changed only with the permission of the Dean. For further information regarding registration, see pages 55-56.

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For a statement of fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUNDS

Scholarships are administered by the University Committee on Student Loans and Scholarships. Application should be made to the Registrar of the University.

The following prizes are awarded annually in the Law School: Ellsworth Prize; Samuel Herrick Prize; John Bell Lerner Prize; and the John Ordronaux Prizes.

For further particulars regarding scholarships, prizes, and loan funds, see pages 62-71.

ORDER OF THE COIF

The Order of the Coif is a national honor society with chapters in thirty-two law schools, the purpose of which is "to foster a spirit of careful study and to mark in a fitting manner those who have attained a high grade of scholarship." The George Washington University Chapter was established in 1926. Students are elected each year from the highest ranking 10 per cent of the graduating class of the Law School.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the Law School are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

AMOUNT OF WORK

A student who takes a majority of his courses in the full-time sections, from 9.10 a.m. to 1 p.m., may, with the permission of the Dean, take work not exceeding fifteen hours a week. For such students the minimum period of attendance is three academic years.

A student who takes a majority of his courses in the afternoon sections may not register for more than ten hours a week. For such students the minimum period of attendance is four academic years.

The amount of work carried by any student may be restricted when, in the judgment of the Dean, the best interests of the student require it.

ATTENDANCE

GRADES

The grade of a student in each subject is indicated by the letters P (55), pass, or F (below 55), failed. The meaning of these grades is as follows:

P, pass, means that the work has been successfully completed and full credit given for the subject.

F, failed, means that the work in the subject has been a failure and that no credit will be given. To obtain credit the student must repeat the subject; but a student who, in the work of the year, has received a grade of F in one subject only and obtained a general average of C, may take the next regular examination in that subject, and if on such re-examination he attains the grade of C or better, he will be given a grade of D (60) in the subject.

At the end of each academic year each student is given an average numerical grade for his work for the year. These numerical grades rank as follows: A (85-100), excellent; B (75-84), very good; C (65-74), good; D (60-64), poor; U (below 60), unsatisfactory.

EXAMINATIONS

Written examinations are held at the close of the first semester in subjects which are then completed and at the close of the second semester in all other subjects. All students are required to take the regular examinations in the subjects pursued, unless excused by the Dean. A student who, with the consent of the Dean, does not take the final examination in a subject with the class in which he is enrolled, may take the next regular examination given in the subject.

No student shall be given an examination in, nor permitted to receive credit in, less than an entire subject. In any case where a student is permitted to register for one semester only of a year subject, he may not take the examination in that subject until the other semester has been completed. If no regular examination in that subject is scheduled at the time the other semester is completed, then the student shall not be given a special examination but shall be required to take the next regular examination.

No special examinations will be given; except, that upon written application to the Dean's Council, showing sufficient cause, a candidate for a degree at a convocation before the next regular examination, if he would be entitled to take a postponed examination, may, in the discretion of the Dean's Council, be given a special examination not less than sixty days after the date of the one which he failed to take.

EXCLUSION AND PROBATION FOR POOR SCHOLARSHIP

Any student who during an academic year fails in more than one full-year subject or the equivalent in half-year subjects or fails to make an average for the year of at least 60, shall be excluded and denied registration in the future.

Any student not subject to exclusion under the foregoing rule who fails to secure an average during the academic year of at least C (65) in the subjects which he has passed shall be on probation during the succeeding academic year. Students on probation must reduce their programs of study by at least one full-year subject or such further amount as the Dean may direct. Any student who fails to make, during the academic year in which he is on probation, an average grade of at least C (65) in the subjects which he has passed shall be excluded and denied registration in the future.

No student shall be put on probation or excluded on the work of one semester only or on the work of the summer session or as the result of a program of less than four hours a week during the academic year.

A student who has been excluded from the school under the above rules may be readmitted by the Committee on Reinstatement upon such conditions as that Committee shall prescribe. Written application must be made to the Committee setting forth the reasons for the reinstatement and the applicant will be accorded an oral hearing if he so desires. Reinstatement will be granted only in special cases.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

Students are divided into classes on the completion of semester-hours of credit as follows: First year, to twenty-seven; second year, twenty-eight to fifty-five; third year, fifty-six or more.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction in Law are listed on pages 250-54.

THE DEGREES

Upon the satisfactory completion of the requirements of the Law School, the degree of Bachelor of Laws, Juris Doctor, or Master of Laws is conferred.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BACHELOR OF LAWS DEGREE

To be recommended for this degree a student must satisfy the admission, residence, and scholarship requirements and must complete the prescribed number of credits and required subjects.

RESIDENCE

The residence requirement for this degree is three academic years for full-time students or four academic years for students with limited schedules. A year's attendance in the late afternoon classes for students with limited schedules is counted as residence for three-fourths of a year. In the case of students admitted with advanced standing, at least one full year of this residence requirement must be spent in The George Washington University.

A student who at the end of any regular period of residence—the first semester, the second semester, or the summer session—has completed subjects which equal in semester-hours the total number of semester-hours required for the degree for which he is a candidate, but has failed to complete the full residence requirements for that degree, must be in residence during additional periods sufficient to satisfy completely the residence requirements. In all such cases the student must be in residence during the entire period and must satisfy the attendance requirements of, and pass the examination in, at least one subject.

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

The curriculum leading to the degree of Bachelor of Laws is set forth in the "Plan of Study" below. The successful completion of the courses there listed is required for the degree. The credit requirement is a minimum of eighty semester-hours.

PATENT LAW CURRICULUM

To provide training for students who plan to specialize in Patent Law, the courses in Substantive Patent Law, Patent Office Practice, and Patent Moot Court are offered as third-year electives. They may be counted toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws or Juris Doctor, or they may be taken by qualified students not candidates for a degree.

COMBINED ARTS AND LAW CURRICULUM

The University will confer the degree of Bachelor of Arts upon the completion of three years of college work and the first year in the Law School.

In order to be certified as having satisfactorily completed one year of law work, the student must have completed the first twenty-eight semester-hours taken in the Law School, with an average of 70 or better (see the Columbian College announcement, page 101. The Bachelor of Laws degree will be conferred upon the completion of the remainder of the work for that degree.

COMBINED ENGINEERING AND LAW CURRICULUM

The University will confer the degree of Bachelor of Science in Engineering upon the completion of the first three years of the curriculum for that degree in the School of Engineering and the first year in the Law School. The student must complete the first twenty-eight semester-hours taken in the Law School with an average of not less than 70. The Bachelor of Laws degree will be conferred upon the completion of the remainder of the work for that degree.

SCHOLARSHIP

The eighty semester-hours of work required for the LL.B. degree must be completed with an average grade of at least C (65).

HONORS

The degree of Bachelor of Laws "with distinction" will be awarded students who obtain an average grade of A in the work for that degree.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF JURIS DOCTOR (J.D.)

To be recommended for this degree the student must have received the degree of Bachelor of Arts or an equivalent degree before his admission to the Law School. He must have completed a residence period of three academic years for full-time students or four academic years for students with limited schedule. He must have completed eighty semester-hours with an average grade of at least B (75) and must have completed, in addition to the subjects required for the degree of Bachelor of Laws, the course in Roman Law and Principles of the Civil Law and the course in Current Decisions and Legislation.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MASTER OF LAWS DEGREE

Candidates for the degree of Master of Laws must complete twenty semester-hours of work in subjects not counted toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

This degree will not be conferred until one academic year after the candidate receives the degree of Bachelor of Laws. All requirements must be completed in not exceeding two years after registration for the work for the degree.

SCHOLARSHIP

All courses taken for the Master's degree must be completed with a grade of at least C in each subject and an average grade of not less than B.

REQUIRED SUBJECTS

Trusts, Conflict of Laws, and Constitutional Law must be included in the course for the degree of Master of Laws if not previously taken. No first-year subject and no second-year required subject may be counted toward this degree.

PLAN OF STUDY

The subject matter is so arranged in the curriculum as to give an understanding of the relations between subjects. For this reason the subjects, except where special permission has been given, must be taken in the order provided for in the plan of instruction.

Candidates for the degree of Juris Doctor (J.D.) must complete the required subjects shown below in the Plan of Study and in addition the courses in Roman Law and Principles of the Civil Law and Current Decisions and Legislation.

Candidates for the degree of Master of Laws may elect and count toward that degree third-year subjects not already counted toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

Electives in the freshman, sophomore, and junior years of the foregoing curriculum for the Bachelor of Science degree should be taken from the following list: Chemistry, Economics, Electrical laboratory, foreign language, Geology, Machine Drawing, Mathematics, Mechanical laboratory, Mechanism, Physics, Surveying, and Structures.

No student whose quality-point index is below 2.00 will be admitted to the senior year of the curriculum leading to the Bachelor of Science degree. The purpose of the senior year of this curriculum is to allow students who have demonstrated their ability to do better than passing work, to center their attention upon a group of subjects in which they have special interest. The student's choice of electives for the entire twenty-eight hours must be submitted to the Dean's Council for approval before the beginning of the senior year. Senior schedules must be approved by the department concerned and shall be subject to such requirements as to preparation and grades as the department may prescribe. This work must be taken in The George Washington University.

THE PROFESSIONAL DEGREES

Professional degrees of Civil Engineer, Electrical Engineer, or Mechanical Engineer may be conferred upon graduates of the School of Engineering who have demonstrated their professional ability.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREES

1. Application may not be made sooner than three years after graduation nor unless the candidate has had responsible charge of engineering work.

2. A detailed statement of the candidate's experience, references, the degree sought, and the title of the thesis must be filed with the Dean eight months before the Commencement at which the degree is to be conferred.

3. If his application is accepted, the candidate must prepare his thesis as required by the executive officer of the department concerned.

4. One typewritten original and two legible carbon copies of the thesis must be presented to the Dean not later than the date announced in the University calendar. Requirements regarding the form of the thesis are stated on page 76.

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

In 1867 the foundation for the National College of Pharmacy was laid by the Apothecaries' Association of the District of Columbia. The College was opened in 1872 and continued until 1906, when it became affiliated with The George Washington University.

The School of Pharmacy is a member of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy.

Washington offers many opportunities for the study of Pharmacy. Not only are the facilities of Government laboratories and libraries open to students, but the School of Pharmacy is located only a few blocks from the American Institute of Pharmacy building, in which have been established a pharmaceutical museum and library, and research laboratories which have brought to Washington the outstanding men of the profession.

ADMISSION

For a statement of the general regulations and procedure for admission to the University, see pages 49-54.

Candidates for admission to the School of Pharmacy must submit a Junior Certificate or its equivalent.

Applicants for admission to the School of Pharmacy who present a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution may satisfy the requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy in three years by completing the curriculum announced on page 152. In the case of students whose course has included adequate fundamental sciences, this time may be reduced, but in no case can the requirements for the degree be satisfied in less than two full academic years.

REGISTRATION

For information and regulations regarding registration, see pages 55-56.

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For a statement of fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61.

* Elected by the Faculty.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUNDS

Scholarships are administered by the University Committee on Student Loans and Scholarships. Application should be made to the Registrar of the University.

For particulars regarding scholarships, prizes, and loan funds, see pages 62-71.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the School of Pharmacy are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

AMOUNT OF WORK

Normal work for any year is that outlined under the head of "Curriculum Requirements", below. A student who wishes to take more than the normal amount of work may do so only with the permission of the Committee on Scholarship, who shall be guided in their decision by his scholastic record and the extent to which he is employed. A student on probation shall be limited in the amount of work he may carry.

ATTENDANCE

Candidates for the degree must have attended at least 80 per cent of all required instruction and must be present at the time specified for the final examinations.

EXAMINATIONS

Examinations are held at the end of the course in each subject. Students who fail to appear at a regular examination will not be examined until the next regular examination except by special permission of the Scholarship Committee of the Faculty. For special examinations a fee of $5 will be charged for each subject.

ELIGIBILITY FOR EXAMINATION BEFORE STATE BOARDS OF PHARMACY

To be eligible for examination before most State Boards of Pharmacy, applicants are required to present satisfactory evidence of college graduation and in addition must have had from one to four years of practical experience in a pharmacy where prescriptions are compounded. Students are not encouraged to obtain this professional experience while attempting a full course of study. In the case of students who maintain a quality-point index of 2.00 or higher, permission may be granted by the Dean to acquire a limited amount of this professional experience by work in a pharmacy while carrying a full schedule. Students who fall below a quality-point index of 2.00 will be required to reduce their academic load or to limit their professional-experience time to less than twenty-four hours a week.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 197.

THE DEGREE

Upon the satisfactory completion of the requirements of the School of Pharmacy, the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy is conferred.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE

To be recommended for a degree a student must satisfy the admission, residence, scholarship, and curriculum requirements. Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements on pages 74-75.

Every candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy must be at least twenty-one years of age and of good character.

SCHOLARSHIP

The system of grading and of computing scholarship is described in detail on pages 73-74.

In order to graduate a student must have a quality-point index of at least 2.00.

Probation.—Students must maintain a quality-point index of at least 2.00 or they are placed on probation. Students remain on probation as long as they fail to attain this index.

Suspension.—Students having a quality-point index below 1.00 or who are placed on probation for a third semester, whether successive or after an interval, are suspended.

Students suspended for poor scholarship may apply for readmission after an interval of a calendar year. A student applying for readmission under this rule must submit evidence to the Dean of the School of Pharmacy that during his absence from the University he has so conducted himself as to indicate that he will profit by readmission. Students suspended twice for poor scholarship are not readmitted. (See the University ruling covering dismissal, page 77.)

For the purpose of these rules, the Summer Sessions are considered a semester.

In the case of students with limited schedules, the foregoing scholarship rules are applied only when the student has undertaken fifteen semester-hours or more.

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

The laboratory method of teaching is used. Recitation classes are held in connection with each course in order to provide systematic drill in the subjects. Students in Pharmacy have the advantage of obtaining instruction in any department of the University.

The curriculum requirements include at least 124 semester-hours of credit. The following curriculum leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy.

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

It is the purpose of the School of Education to prepare teachers, supervisors, and administrators for the higher ranges of educational service and to offer opportunities to teachers of experience to extend their education. The School embraces the Departments of Education, Physical Education, and Home Economics, and it is affiliated with all the other departments of the University in which the student is likely to elect work. Both graduate and undergraduate work are offered.

The schedule of courses is arranged to meet the convenience of both full-time and part-time students. By attending afternoon, Saturday, and summer classes, teachers in the schools of Washington and vicinity may complete all the requirements for a degree without giving up their positions.

ADMISSION

For a statement of the general regulations and procedure for admission to the University, see pages 49-54.

FOR THE BACHELOR'S DEGREES

Admission to the undergraduate division of the School is based on (a) the satisfactory completion of two years of approved college work, or (b) graduation from an approved two-year normal school. Students meeting these requirements are admitted as regular students. Others may be admitted to the Division of University Students on the presentation of evidence that they are qualified to pursue the work to advantage.

Students transferring from other colleges or from normal schools should request their high schools and their colleges or normal schools to transmit their credentials of work to the Director of Admissions at least one month before the beginning of the session that they wish to enter. All credentials must be in hand before the student may register. Credentials are official and acceptable only when transmitted directly from school to school, without passing through the hands of the student.

FOR THE HIGHER DEGREES

To be admitted to graduate standing a candidate must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited school or college or must have completed a course of study that is judged by the Faculty to be the equivalent. Candidates holding degrees from unaccredited institutions, whose work is judged by the Faculty to be more than twelve semester-hours short of a standard baccalaureate degree, must register for a Bachelor's degree; others may remove their deficiencies while registered for the higher degree.

REGISTRATION

For information and regulations regarding registration, see pages 55-56

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For a statement of fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUNDS

Scholarships are administered by the University Committee on Student Loans and Scholarships. Application should be made to the Registrar of the University.

For particulars regarding scholarships, prizes, and loan funds, see pages 62-71.

INDEPENDENT STUDY PLAN

A student of demonstrated capacity with special interest in a course may, upon the approval of his project by the instructor in charge and by the Dean, be permitted to undertake independent study under the personal direction of the instructor.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the School of Education are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

AMOUNT OF WORK

A normal program of work for undergraduate students is sixteen or seventeen hours a week. Students with a quality-point index of 3.00 or higher may, with the Dean's permission, take nineteen hours. More than nineteen hours may not be taken except by special permission of the Scholarship Committee.

For employed students nine hours a week constitutes a normal program of work. Students with a quality-point index of 3.00 or higher for the preceding semester may be permitted by the Dean to take twelve or thirteen hours.

For graduate students twelve hours a week, exclusive of the thesis, constitutes a normal program of work. Employed students may not take more than nine hours a week.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 197. The system of numbering courses is explained on page 199.

THE BACHELOR'S DEGREES

Upon the satisfactory completion of the undergraduate requirements of the School of Education, the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education, Bachelor of Science in Home Economics, or Bachelor of Science in Physical Education is conferred.

The program of work of each student will be planned with the assistance of a faculty adviser. Since each student's program of work will be defined by his particular needs, it is important that the student have a clear conception of his major interest in Education, and also that he be familiar with the teaching certificate requirements in the locality in which he expects to teach.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREES

To be recommended for a degree a student must satisfy the admission, residence, scholarship, and curriculum requirements. Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements on pages 74-75.

SCHOLARSHIP

The system of grading and of computing scholarship is described in detail on pages 73-74.

In order to graduate a student must have a quality-point index of at least 2.00.

Probation.—Students who fail to maintain a quality-point index of at least 2.00 are placed on probation. Students remain on probation as long as they fail to attain this index.

Suspension.—Students who fail to pass (i.e., receive a grade of E or F) in half or more of their work, based on a minimum of sixteen semester-hours, are suspended.

A student who has been suspended for poor scholarship may within ten days appeal his case to the Scholarship Committee through the Dean. If the case appears to be remediable and the student appears likely to improve in his scholarship thereafter, the committee may readmit him on probation. A student who has been denied readmission on probation may petition the Scholarship Committee through the Dean for readmission after the lapse of one semester. A student who has been suspended twice will not be readmitted. (See the University ruling covering dismissal, page 77.)

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

In any of the following curricula at least thirty semester-hours of work must consist of courses numbered above 100.

BACHELOR OF ARTS IN EDUCATION

Students admitted with two years of approved college work are granted the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education upon the completion of sixty-six hours of work. This work must include:

	Sem. hrs.
*Education (including Observation and Cadet Teaching).....	18
Educational Psychology.....	2 or 3
Educational Sociology.....	2 or 3
Subject-matter Field.....	24 to 36
Electives.....	6 to 20

To the extent that courses in the foregoing list are offered for admission, the range of electives is increased.

Normal-School Graduates.—Graduates from approved two-year or three-year normal schools are granted such advanced standing as their credentials warrant. Their unfinished requirements are determined by the Dean.

Subject-Matter Field.—Under the guidance of his adviser, each student before graduation shall have fulfilled the requirement for the major in the department of his subject-matter field. Relevant work completed in normal school or junior college may be counted with the approval of the department of his subject-matter field. A student preparing for elementary-school teaching, junior-high-school teaching, or for supervision may, with the approval of his adviser, combine courses from two subject-matter fields, in which case a minimum of thirty-six semester-hours is required. The subject-matter fields are: Art, Biology, Botany, Chemistry, Classical Languages, Commercial Education, English, Geology, Germanic Languages, History, Mathematics, Physics, Political Science, Psychology, Public Speaking, Romance Languages, Social Science, Sociology, Statistics, and Zoology.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN HOME ECONOMICS

The program of work of each student will be planned with the assistance of a faculty adviser in the Home Economics Department.

The purpose of the general home-making course is to educate young women for the important responsibility of home-making and adequately to prepare them for modern living.

* The choice of electives in Education and the number of hours elected in excess of 18 will depend largely upon the certification requirements that the student wishes to meet. Courses listed on page 211 as "Closely Related Courses in Other Departments" are accepted in fulfilling the requirement of 18 hours in Education.

Since there will be variation in the needs of each student, the general home-making program can be adapted with the assistance of the faculty adviser to meet any special requirements.

THE HIGHER DEGREES

Upon the satisfactory completion of the graduate requirements of the School of Education, the degree of Master of Arts or the degree of Doctor of Education is conferred.

GENERAL INFORMATION

COURSES ACCEPTABLE

Fully qualified graduate courses are numbered 201 and above. Courses numbered 101-200 may be credited toward a higher degree when approved by the student's committee and after the completion of additional work in them has been certified by the instructors in charge. Courses numbered 1-100 may not be credited toward a higher degree but may in certain instances be required as a basis for advanced work.

TRANSFERRED WORK

Graduate work completed in other accredited institutions of learning may be credited toward the Master's degree but a minimum of twenty-four semester-hours of work must be completed at The George Washington University.

Advanced courses completed in excess of the requirements for the baccalaureate degree in The George Washington University may be credited toward the Master's degree to the extent of twelve semester-hours, provided the work fits in with the student's plan of specialization and is approved in writing by the Dean before it is undertaken.

Transferred work completed more than three years prior to registration for the Master's degree at The George Washington University will be credited only after the candidate has passed an examination given by his committee on the subject matter of the work offered for credit.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE

GUIDANCE

The Master of Arts degree in Education is a professional degree, designed to prepare the student for some particular type of educational service. The program of studies leading to the degree will be selected by the candidate and his consultative committee from the various related departments of the University to give the student an adequate background in his chosen vocational field. For prospective high-school and junior-high-school teachers this will ordinarily include study in the subject which the candidate is planning to teach as well as in the field of Education.

RESIDENCE

REQUIREMENTS

A student whose previous preparation in his chosen field has been adequate may complete his requirements, including the thesis, by a minimum of thirty semester-hours of work; others may be required to take as many as twelve semester-hours additional.

THE THESIS

The program of study will usually be integrated through a thesis which must be duly registered for (Education 291-92) and which will count as six semester-hours' credit toward the degree. Upon the recommendation of the student's adviser, an approved program of study, research, and reports in connection with an additional seminar may be substituted for a thesis. In case a thesis is required, the thesis subject must be approved in writing by the student's adviser and recorded in the Office of the Registrar by the date announced in the University calendar. One type-written original and two legible carbon copies of the thesis in its final form must be presented to the Dean by the student not later than the date announced in the University calendar. Requirements regarding the form of the thesis are stated on page 76.

FINAL EXAMINATION

In addition to the course examinations, the candidate must pass a final comprehensive examination. Those who write a thesis will be examined on the thesis and its related field; those who do not write a thesis will be examined on the fields of study included in the program of work for the Master of Arts degree. The examination may be either oral or written, or both.

If the thesis is submitted more than three years after the course requirements have been completed, a written examination covering the student's complete program of study will also be required.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DOCTOR OF EDUCATION DEGREE

The requirements for the degree of Doctor of Education cannot be stated in semester-hours, but they consist in general of at least three full years of work beyond a standard Bachelor's degree. It is the function of these requirements to prepare students for advanced teaching, administrative, and supervisory positions, and to train them to investigate and report the problems that arise in the varied phases of Education. The work is given a practical instead of a theoretical bent and emphasizes the mastery and application of subject matter, both in the study requirements and in the thesis. Special emphasis is placed on the candidate's success as teacher, supervisor, administrator, or writer.

Three basic purposes in planning the work for this degree are recognized. These are (a) administration and supervision, (b) the teaching of Education in normal school or college, and (c) the teaching of an academic subject in school or college.

QUALIFICATIONS OF THE APPLICANT

The candidate for the degree of Doctor of Education must (1) have completed graduate work in fields prerequisite to his objective equivalent to that required for the degree of Master of Arts in The George Washington University and (2) have had at least three years of successful educational experience.

ADMISSION TO CANDIDACY

To be admitted to candidacy for the degree the applicant must be accepted by the Faculty of the School of Education on the basis of an examination conducted by a committee appointed by the Dean. This examination will usually include the following aspects: (1) a written examination in one or more subjects selected from the applicant's previous background; (2) a scholastic-aptitude test; (3) an oral examination.

CONSULTATIVE COMMITTEE

If the applicant is accepted as a candidate, his consultative committee shall counsel the candidate and guide his work.

The consultative committee, in cooperation with the candidate, shall (1) determine the candidate's fields of study, in each of which the candidate must pass a written examination at least eight months before he comes up for the degree; (2) furnish the candidate a list of course requirements and of readings that will assist him in preparing for these examinations; and (3) designate the tools of investigation that will be needed by the candidate in the prosecution of his study. These tools may include one or more foreign languages, statistical methods, historical criticism, and any others considered essential by the committee. An examination in the tools designated must be passed by the candidate before he takes his comprehensive examination.

THESIS ADVISER

After the candidate has satisfied the requirements enumerated in the preceding section, his committee is dissolved and he is assigned to a member of the Faculty in whose field the topic of his thesis falls. It is the duty of this person to serve as the candidate's adviser on his thesis and in his field of specialization and to recommend him to the Dean for the final oral examination when, in his judgment, the candidate's thesis is acceptable.

THE DOCTORAL THESIS

Not later than the date specified in the University calendar the candidate shall submit to the Dean of the School of Education three copies of his thesis—one typewritten original, on official thesis paper, and two legible carbon copies—and also a typewritten summary of the thesis consisting of not more than 2,500 words. Requirements regarding the form of the thesis are stated on page 76.

The successful candidate is required, before receiving his degree, to pay a fee to cover the expense of printing the summary of his thesis.

THE FINAL EXAMINATION

At least three weeks before the degree is to be conferred the candidate must pass an oral examination on his thesis and on his field of specialization before a committee of the Faculty appointed by the Dean, supplemented by two experts from outside the University appointed by the President. This examination is open to the public, and all are privileged to question the candidate. The Dean, or a member of the Faculty designated by him, will preside at this examination.

selection in one or more subjects selected from the applicant's previous work. The selection is made by the School of Education, and the results are communicated to the applicant by the Registrar.

Conservative Committee. The Conservative Committee is the body which is responsible for the selection of the candidates for the examination. It is composed of the following members: the Registrar, the Headmaster of the School of Education, and the representatives of the various educational bodies in the district. The Committee meets at least once a year, and its decisions are final.

Large Answer. The Large Answer is the answer to the question which is asked in the examination. It is the answer which is given by the candidate, and it is the answer which is marked by the examiner. The Large Answer is the answer which is given by the candidate, and it is the answer which is marked by the examiner. The Large Answer is the answer which is given by the candidate, and it is the answer which is marked by the examiner.

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

The George Washington University School of Jurisprudence and Diplomacy existed from 1898 to 1913, when it was discontinued as a separate school. The courses were given, however, in Columbian College until September 1928, when training in foreign service and governmental theory and administration was reestablished as a separate branch under the School of Government.

It is the purpose of the School to give the students an understanding of the responsibilities under the Constitution of the United States in the conduct of public office—domestic and foreign. This can be accomplished, not through any single course, but through a curriculum which ties together social, economic, political, historical, and psychological studies.

The courses in domestic government train in the theory of, and practice in, local, State, and national positions. The courses in Foreign Service train students for the many opportunities offered in the foreign fields to carry out the ideals for which America stands, not only in governmental work but in the much wider field of foreign trade as conducted by private enterprise in all parts of the world. This training fits the student especially to assist American citizens who have occasion to travel or to do business abroad, to understand their reciprocal rights and duties, and to protect them in these rights without infringing upon the rights of others, as well as to collect and report information concerning commercial conditions and opportunities abroad. The student thus gains an insight into international affairs from both the American and the foreign point of view, with a resultant broader understanding of economic and political problems.

ADMISSION

For a statement of the general regulations and procedure for admission to the University, see pages 49-54.

Special students and auditors are referred to the Division of University Students.

FOR THE BACHELOR'S DEGREE

Applicants for admission to the School of Government must present a Certificate of Junior Standing based on the proper curriculum in Government in the Junior College, or its equivalent.

FOR THE MASTER'S DEGREE

Applicants for admission to the School of Government having the intention of becoming candidates for the degree of Master of Arts must present a baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution, or evidence of a course of study that is judged by the faculty to be the equivalent, and a transcript of the studies previously pursued. Students from unaccredited institutions may be admitted at the discretion of the Dean, but such students are required to take such extra work above the minimum requirements as may be prescribed.

The course of study pursued for the Bachelor's degree must be approved by the Dean as having provided the proper basic training to justify registration for the higher degree. The Dean may permit deficiencies to be made up concurrently with work for the degree.

Registration for the degree does not constitute formal candidacy. The further requirements for formal candidacy are stated on page 174.

REGISTRATION

For information and regulations regarding registration, see pages 55-56.

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For a statement of fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUNDS

Scholarships are administered by the University Committee on Student Loans and Scholarships. Application should be made to the Registrar of the University.

For particulars regarding scholarships, prizes, and loan funds, see pages 62-71.

INDEPENDENT STUDY PLAN

Under the independent study plan a student of demonstrated capacity with special interest in the subject matter of a course, may be permitted to undertake independent study under the personal direction of an instructor in accordance with the rules of the division in which the subjects falls. Credit under this plan is limited to the specific course credits at designated in the list of courses of instruction in this book.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the School of Government are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

AMOUNT OF WORK

Full-time students not on probation may take ordinarily not more than seventeen semester-hours. Students employed more than twenty-four hours a week, who are not on probation, may take not more than ten semester-hours.

Full-time undergraduate students whose quality-point index is 3.50 or higher, may take not more than nineteen semester-hours. Undergraduate students employed more than twenty-four hours a week, whose quality-point index is 3.50 or higher, may take up to twelve semester-hours.

Exceptions to these rules will require the approval of the Dean.

ATTENDANCE

The student is held responsible for all the work of the courses in which he is registered, and all absences must be excused by the instructor in charge before provision is made for him to make up the work missed.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

A student who holds a Certificate of Junior Standing from the Junior College, or its equivalent from an accredited institution, and who has registered his choice of one of the prescribed curricula at the Office of the Registrar, is classed as a junior.

A student who has completed thirty semester-hours in the School of Government is classed as a senior.

A student who has satisfactorily completed the work for the baccalaureate degree, and who has registered his choice of one of the prescribed fields of study at the Office of the Registrar, is classed as a master in course.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 197.

THE BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE

Upon the satisfactory completion of the undergraduate requirements of the School of Government, the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Government, with a designation of the major field of study, is conferred. The major fields are Public Affairs, Foreign Service, Foreign Commerce, Public Administration, Business Administration, Public Finance, and Public Accounting.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE

To be recommended for a degree a student must satisfy the admission, residence, scholarship, and curriculum requirements. Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements on pages 74-75.

SCHOLARSHIP

The system of grading and of computing scholarship is described in detail on pages 62-71.

In order to graduate, a student must have a quality-point index of at least 2.00.

Probation.—Students must maintain a quality-point index of at least 2.00 or they are placed on probation. Students remain on probation as long as their quality-point index on all work taken is below 2.00.

Suspension.—Students having a quality-point index below 1.00 or who are placed on probation for a third semester, whether successive or after an interval, are suspended.

For the purpose of these rules, the Summer Sessions are considered a semester.

Students suspended for poor scholarship may apply for readmission after an interval of a calendar year. A student applying for readmission under this rule must submit evidence to the Dean that during his absence from the University he has so conducted himself as to indicate that he will profit by readmission. Students suspended twice for poor scholarship are not readmitted. (See the University ruling covering dismissal, page 77.)

In the case of students with limited schedules, the foregoing scholarship rules are applied only when the student has undertaken fifteen semester-hours or more.

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

For recommendation for graduation the School of Government requires, in addition to the appropriate Junior College work (see page 92 and table facing pages 94-95), a minimum of sixty semester-hours during the two senior-college years, as set forth in one of the following curricula. The third and fourth years of these seven curricula lead to the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Government with a designation of the major field of study; the graduate years as here outlined lead to the Master of Arts degree (see pages 173-75) in the respective fields. Electives as well as other subjects must be approved by the Dean.

EXAMINATIONS FOR WAIVING CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

A student desiring to omit a required course may take such examination as the department prescribes, and, on passing satisfactorily, he may be relieved of the curriculum requirement in that subject and qualify for registration in an advanced course. Passing of this examination does not entitle the student to any hours of credit toward the degree. Students desiring to take such examinations should make the request of the Dean.

A fee of $5 for each examination is to be paid at the Comptroller's Office and the receipt exhibited at the door of room 27, Building Q, on September 18 or 19 at 2 p.m. for the first semester, and on January 29 or 30 at 2 p.m. for the second semester. Two hours will be allowed for the examination. Should a student wish to take more than one examination, arrangements will be made accordingly.

THE MASTER OF ARTS DEGREE

Upon the satisfactory completion of the graduate requirements of the School of Government, the degree of Master of Arts in Government, with a designation of the major field of study, is conferred. The major fields are Public Affairs, Foreign Service, Foreign Commerce, Public Administration, Business Administration, Public Finance, and Public Accounting.

CANDIDACY

A student is formally recognized as a candidate for the Master's degree only when his application for candidacy has been approved by the Dean. Applications are made on a form obtainable at the Office of the Registrar, and such applications must be approved before the student becomes a formal candidate.

Before being admitted to candidacy the student must show a reading knowledge (certified by the appropriate language department) of at least one modern foreign language to be selected by the Dean. Examinations in modern foreign languages will be given between September 23 and 29, February 5 and 11, and July 6 and 12.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE

A minimum of thirty semester-hours of work, as outlined in the curricula on pages 170-73, must be completed successfully. Variations from these curricula require the permission of the Dean.

Not more than twelve semester-hours of work may be taken in another professional School; and work so taken cannot be counted toward degrees in both Schools.

Advanced work in other institutions of learning may be credited toward the Master's degree to the extent of not more than twelve semester-hours upon presentation of detailed certificates of the work for which credit is sought. However, if such work in other institutions is done during the student's period of residence in The George Washington University, it will not be so counted unless the student has obtained the written permission of the Dean before entering upon such work.

A second-group course (numbered 101-200) may be counted toward the Master's degree only when registration for advanced credit has been approved at the beginning of the course by the Dean and by the officer of instruction, and provided that the student shall have done such extra work in the course as may be prescribed by the instructor.

Work completed here, or elsewhere, more than three years prior to registration for the Master's degree, will be counted only if the candidate successfully passes an examination on the subject matter of the work offered for credit.

In addition to the course examinations, candidates must pass a general final examination in the major subject. The examination may be either oral or written, or both.

Second-group courses (numbered 101-200) taken in the senior year of college may be counted, provided that the student shall notify the Dean of the School of Government at the beginning of such courses of his desire to count them, and provided that the student shall have done such extra work on the courses as may be prescribed by the professors concerned. No work counted toward a baccalaureate degree may be counted toward a Masters' degree.

A student who expects to continue his studies for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy after receiving the Master's degree is strongly advised so to plan his program from the beginning that work for the lower degree may count for the higher.

Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements on pages 74-75.

RESIDENCE

A minimum of one year must be completed in residence. Summer Sessions work may be counted in residence, but in no case may the period of residence aggregate less than twenty-seven weeks. Unless special permission has been granted by the Dean to pursue the work elsewhere, the last work before graduation must be completed in residence.

No credit is granted for work done in absentia, i.e., without formal instruction here or at some other institution of learning, except for the thesis, which may be completed in absentia with the permission of the department concerned.

SCHOLARSHIP

Students whose scholarship is unsatisfactory may be suspended by the Dean. Regarding the system of grading, see pages 73-74.

THE THESIS

In case a thesis is required, it must be registered for not later than the beginning of the final year, unless the professor in charge of the thesis permits registration at the beginning of the final semester. For this purpose the nine weeks' term of the Summer Sessions is considered as a semester. The choice of the thesis subject must be approved by the professor in charge and recorded in the Office of the Registrar by the date announced in the University calendar. The typewritten thesis in its final form must have the approval of the professor in charge and must be presented to the Dean by the student not later than the date announced in the University calendar. Requirements in regard to the form of the thesis are stated on page 76.

on the contrary as may be indicated by the professor concerned. Work counted toward a baccalaureate degree may be counted toward a master's degree, but not vice versa. The student who expects to continue his studies for the degree of doctor of philosophy must receive the master's degree as a condition of admission to his program from the beginning of work for the latter degree.

A minimum of one year must be completed in residence. Unless special permission has been granted by the Dean to pursue the work elsewhere, residence must be completed in residence. THE DIVISION OF UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

Cloyd Heck Marvin, Ph.D., LL.D., President of the University.

Elmer Louis Kayser, Ph.D., Dean of University Students.

INTRODUCTORY

The Division of University Students was organized in 1930 in order to make the work of the University in its several divisions more fully accessible to mature students and to provide for the offering of special courses to meet special demands as they may arise from time to time. Students registered in this Division are designated "university" students, as distinguished from regularly matriculated undergraduate and graduate students.

ADMISSION

Men and women over twenty-one years of age may apply for admission as university students, to pursue courses for which they have had adequate preparation. In each case the approval of the instructor concerned must be obtained. Applicants for admission must present a complete statement of the work previously pursued, on the University form. Where a student is found unable to pursue with advantage a course for which he is registered, such student may be dropped from the rolls of that course upon the recommendation of the instructor and with the approval of the Dean.

In special instances, with the permission of the instructor, a person may be registered as an "auditor" in a class without being required to take active part in the exercises or to pass examinations, but no credit will be allowed for such attendance.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS IN THE LAW SCHOOL

A limited number of persons who cannot qualify as candidates for a degree in Law, but who are over twenty-five years of age and because of their maturity, educational training, and practical experience seem qualified to pursue the study of Law, may be admitted as university students upon the approval of the Faculty of the Law School.

Candidates for admission as university students in the Law School must file written applications, setting forth their qualifications in detail, and letters and certificates to prove the facts stated therein as to their education and experience. Work done by such university students will not be counted toward a degree.

REGISTRATION

For information and regulations regarding registration, see pages 55-56

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For a statement of fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the Division of University Students are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

SCHOLARSHIP

The system of grading and of computing scholarship is described in detail on pages 73-74.

Probation.—Students must maintain a quality-point index of at least 2.00 or they are placed on probation. The cases of students having a quality-point index between 1.50 and 2.00, however, will be considered individually. A student remains on probation as long as his quality-point index is below 2.00, or until his probation is removed.

Dismissal.—A student who has a total quality-point index below 1.50 will be dropped. The cases of students having a total quality-point index between 1.35 and 1.50, however, will be considered individually.

A student who receives a grade of E or F in two courses in any two out of three successive semesters will be dropped.

Students who fall under probation for the third semester, whether successive or after an interval, will be dropped.

Students dropped for poor scholarship may apply for readmission after an interval of a calendar year. A student applying for readmission under this rule must submit evidence that during his absence from the University he has so conducted himself as to indicate that he will profit by readmission. Students dropped twice for poor scholarship will not be readmitted. (See the University ruling covering dismissal, page 77.)

For the purpose of these rules, the Summer Sessions are considered a semester.

Warnings.—At stated intervals during the academic year instructors shall file in the Office of the Registrar the names of those students who are doing work of D grade or lower. These "warnings" shall be transmitted to the students concerned and copies forwarded to their respective advisers. Upon request a parent or guardian may receive a copy of a warning notice sent to a student. A warning constitutes notice to the student that he must consult the Dean within a reasonable time and in any case not later than two weeks after receipt of the warning. "Warning periods" are established as follows: First semester—November 1 to 15. Second semester—the two weeks immediately preceding the Easter recess. Summer Sessions—six-week courses, third to fourth week; nine-week courses, fourth to fifth week.

In the case of students with limited schedules, the foregoing scholarship rules are applied only when the student has undertaken fifteen semester-hours or multiples thereof, unless he receives a grade of E or F in two courses in any two out of three successive semesters.

TRANSFER TO REGULAR STATUS

University students may be transferred, at their request, to other Colleges, Schools, and Divisions of the University only upon complying with the regulations of the specific Colleges, Schools, and Divisions as stated herein.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 197.

EXTENSION COURSES

Special courses may be offered at the University or away from the University whenever the demand exists and the University is able to furnish proper facilities for instruction. Such courses may be credit or noncredit courses, according to University regulations. If they are for credit, the work will be of the same character and standard as that offered by the University in its regular courses.

Extramural classes may be formed by local groups. Such groups may determine, upon consultation with the Dean, the possibility of organizing the type of extramural work which they desire. Extramural courses generally will be arranged to meet in one period for one hour and forty minutes weekly, for fifteen weeks. This constitutes two class-hours of fifty minutes each and, when credit is granted, will count for two semester-hours' credit. Such courses must be approved in advance by the department concerned. Tuition will be charged at the rate of $8 a semester-hour, plus the University fee for extension students. Announcements of extension courses will be issued from time to time and may be obtained upon application at the Office of the Registrar.

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

The Division of Library Science was organized in 1927 as a result of the development of the courses offered in the Department of Library Science in Columbian College. It has as its objective the training of library assistants for service in public, college, high-school, special, and government libraries.

ADMISSION

For a statement of the general regulations and procedure for admission to the University, see pages 49-54.

FOR THE BACHELOR'S DEGREE

The Certificate of Junior Standing from the Junior College, or its equivalent, will be accepted for admission to the Division of Library Science. It is recommended that students expecting to enter the Division have at least two years of French and of German in order to meet the required reading examinations, courses in general psychology and social history, and a knowledge of typewriting.

Careful consideration will be given to the aptitude and personal qualifications for library work of all applicants. Library experience will not be credited toward graduation. However, students with adequate professional experience may be released from the practice work required in connection with classroom instruction.

REGISTRATION

For information and regulations regarding registration, see pages 55-56.

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For a statement of fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUNDS

Scholarships are administered by the University Committee on Student Loans and Scholarships. Application should be made to the Registrar of the University.

For particulars regarding scholarships, prizes, and loan funds, see pages 62-71.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the Division of Library Science are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

AMOUNT OF WORK

The normal program of studies for full-time students is set forth below under "Curriculum Requirements". Nine hours a week constitutes a normal program of work for students with limited schedules.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 197.

PRACTICE AND EXPERIENCE

Practice and experience in the University Library go with the periods of classroom instruction and discussion and constitute integral parts of the course.

Students who have had adequate library experience will be released from this requirement. A limited number of students, who have the qualifications and personality necessary for that service, will gain their experience in the Public Library of the District of Columbia, and a few others in special libraries, both governmental and institutional.

THE BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE

Upon the satisfactory completion of the requirements of the Division of Library Science, the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Library Science is conferred.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE

To be recommended for a degree a student must satisfy the admission, residence, scholarship, and curriculum requirements. Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements on pages 74-75.

SCHOLARSHIP

The system of grading and of computing scholarship is described in detail on pages 73-74.

In order to graduate a student must have a quality-point index of at least 2.00.

Probation.—Students must maintain a quality-point index of at least 2.00 or they are placed on probation. Students remain on probation as long as they fail to attain this index.

Suspension.—Students who receive a grade of E or F in two courses in two successive semesters are suspended.

Students who fall under probation for the third semester, whether successive or after an interval, are suspended.

Students suspended for poor scholarship may apply for readmission after an interval of a calendar year. A student applying for admission under this rule must submit evidence to the Director of the Division that during his absence from the University he has so conducted himself as to indicate that he will profit by readmission. Students suspended twice for poor scholarship will not be readmitted. (See the University ruling covering dismissal, page 77.)

For the purpose of these rules, the Summer Sessions are considered a semester.

In the case of students with limited schedules, the foregoing scholarship rules are applied only when the student has undertaken fifteen semester-hours or multiples thereof, unless he receives a grade of E or F in two courses in two successive semesters.

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

This curriculum is planned to give students professional training that will prepare them to enter upon active library service. A librarian must have, in addition to executive training, scholarly attainments based on deep cultural interests and sympathies. He should be trained in the modern languages and in history, sociology, literature, and science. The curriculum, as outlined, combines these features with the technical subjects.

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

A Department of Architecture was created as a part of the University in 1892, and a School of Fine Arts in 1894. In the reorganization of the University in 1928 a Division of Fine Arts was created.

The Department of Architecture is registered by the Division of Professional Licensure of the University of the State of New York, the District of Columbia Board of Examiners and Registrars of Architects, and the American Academy in Rome, and cooperates with the Beaux Arts Institute of Design.

THE LIBRARY

The library contains about two thousand volumes, including most of the standard works on architecture, sculpture, and painting; the Russell Sturgis collection of 7,500 carefully selected photographs of architecture, sculpture, and painting; and the important architectural and art periodicals. Library rooms are adjacent to the design studios.

ART COLLECTIONS

The National Gallery of Art, housed in the National Museum, the Freer Gallery of Art, the Corcoran Gallery of Art, and the Phillips Memorial Gallery, as well as the extensive collection of prints in the Library of Congress, are all available to the student.

ADMISSION

For a statement of the general regulations and procedure for admission to the University, see pages 49-54.

Special students and auditors are referred to the Division of University Students.

FOR THE BACHELOR'S DEGREES

Admission to the Division of Fine Arts is based on a Junior Certificate or on the evidence of the satisfactory completion of two years of college work. Candidates for admission are required to present a certificate stating that the work of the pre-Art curriculum has been satisfactorily completed.

FOR THE MASTER'S DEGREE

To be admitted to candidacy for the Master of Arts degree, a student must present a Bachelor of Arts degree from an accredited institution. To be admitted to candidacy for the Master of Fine Arts degree, a student must present either a Bachelor of Architecture degree or a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree or its equivalent from an accredited institution. Students from unaccredited institutions may be admitted, at the discretion of the Faculty, if recommended by the major department. Such students shall complete one semester's work in the Division of Fine Arts and receive the recommendation of the major department before registering for the degree.

ADVANCED STANDING

Advanced credit from art and architecture schools which are not affiliated with an accredited college or university may be established by registering in more advanced work of the same type for which credit is desired. If the work is satisfactory, the credit will be transferred from the institution at which previous training was received. Practical experience alone will not be accepted for advanced credit.

REGISTRATION

For information and regulations regarding registration, see pages 55-56. All schedules must be approved by the Director of the Division.

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

For a statement of fees and financial regulations, see pages 57-61.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUNDS

Scholarships are administered by the University Committee on Student Loans and Scholarships. Application should be made to the Registrar of the University.

For particulars regarding scholarships, prizes, and loan funds, see pages 62-71.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the Division of Fine Arts are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated on pages 49-61 and 72-77.

AMOUNT OF WORK

The normal program of studies for full-time students is set forth below under "Curriculum Requirements". Students with limited schedules will take a proportionately longer time to complete the curricula.

ATTENDANCE

Regular attendance is required in all classes and at all criticism periods. Irregular attendance may cause the work of any student to be rejected. All drawing-room work must be done in the drawing rooms of the University.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

Students are classified as follows: juniors, those who have earned sixty-four semester-hours of credit; seniors, those who have earned ninety-four semester-hours of credit; professionals, those who are registered for a professional degree; graduates, those who are registered for a graduate degree.

LIBRARY BOOKS

Students are held responsible for any books removed from the library and will be required to pay for loss, mutilation, or damage done.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 197.

THE BACHELOR'S DEGREES

Upon the satisfactory completion of the undergraduate requirements of the Division of Fine Arts, the degree of Bachelor of Arts with a designation of the major field of study is conferred. The major fields are Architecture, Building, Illustration, and Art. Upon the completion of further specified requirements, the professional degree of Bachelor of Architecture or Bachelor of Fine Arts is conferred.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREES

To be recommended for a degree a student must satisfy the admission, residence, scholarship, and curriculum requirements. Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements on pages 74-75.

SCHOLARSHIP

The system of grading and of computing scholarship is described in detail on pages 73-74.

In order to graduate a student must have a quality-point index of at least 2.00.

A student taking twelve semester-hours or more, whose scholarship is below a D average in values during any one semester, shall be dropped. A student taking less than twelve semester-hours, whose scholarship is below a D average in values during any two successive semesters, shall be dropped.

A student whose scholarship is below a C average in values shall be placed on probation. A student shall be taken off probation after he has attained a C average or higher in values. A student who has been on probation for two successive semesters shall be dropped.

After an interval of one semester a student who has been dropped may apply for readmission. A student who has been dropped twice for poor scholarship will not be readmitted. (See the University ruling covering dismissal, page 77.)

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

The curriculum requirements include, for the Bachelor of Arts degree, a total of at least 124 semester-hours of credit, and for the Bachelor of Architecture and Bachelor of Fine Arts degrees, at least 154 semester-hours of credit.

THE MASTER'S DEGREES

Upon the satisfactory completion of the graduate requirements of the Division of Fine Arts, the degree of Master of Arts or Master of Fine Arts is conferred.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Because of its situation in the heart of the National Capital, The George Washington University is able to offer certain types of academic work and to promote and foster studies which profit especially by the resources of the Federal Government, the Library of Congress, the Pan American Union, the various embassies and legations, and other institutions located in Washington. Particularly do these advantages apply to the work concerning the nations of the Americas. It is intended that the Center shall take advantage of these manifold opportunities not only by offering regularly constituted courses and special lectures, but also by encouraging directed research and scholarly publications in the broad field of inter-American problems. The Center further aims to facilitate the interchange of university students and professors and to promote closer cooperation in historical, bibliographical, scientific, philosophical, artistic, and literary matters. In this way it is hoped to bring about closer academic and cultural relationships with students, scholars, and educational institutions in the other Americas and with students of the United States who wish to obtain a broader understanding of, and a keener insight into, the history, thought, and culture of the Americas.

THE SUMMER SESSIONS

Cloyd Heck Marvin, Ph.D., LL.D., President of the University.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Summer Sessions are an integral part of the University, and all courses given are similar to the corresponding courses offered in the other terms. Academic credit for courses satisfactorily completed may be applied towards the appropriate degrees in the various Colleges, Schools, and Divisions of the University. The complete educational equipment and facilities of the University are available to students in the Summer Sessions, including libraries, laboratories, field equipment, etc. All departments of the University are open to men and women.

The Summer Sessions offer an opportunity to continue university work during the summer period. The educational value of a term of study in Washington is of great importance; it forms a background for both intelligent and appreciative citizenship. History, political science, economics, literature, and current events are all vivified by a first-hand knowledge of our national institutions. The schedule of classes allows the students ample time to visit the great libraries and laboratories of the Capital and to observe the Departments and Bureaus of the Government in operation. The many educational and scientific organizations with central offices and exhibits situated in Washington are accessible to students whose special interests draw on such resources. Excursions are arranged to the many places of beauty and historic association in nearby Virginia and Maryland.

Courses will be offered in the Junior College, Columbian College, the Law School, the School of Education, the School of Government, and the Division of University Students. Students in the School of Engineering, the Division of Library Science, and the Division of Fine Arts will have the opportunity to take many of their elective and required courses in the Junior College and Columbian College curricula.

Provision is made for the social and recreational side of student life during the Summer Sessions. The University's athletic facilities and equipment are available to all students. The numerous parks and golf courses of Washington, the riding trails, water sports on the Potomac and at nearby beaches, all offer a wide choice of outdoor recreation. The University receptions and dances are annual events, and special summer editions of the student newspaper are issued. The University fee entitles all students in attendance to medical advice and treatment from the office of the University Physician. A series of University lectures upon themes of contemporary interest by men distinguished in various phases of our modern life will be given during the Sessions.

For the benefit of out-of-town students, summer privileges (subject to certain limitations) have been granted by the Washington branch of the American Association of University Women and by the University Club of Washington. Under this arrangement many students may enjoy the use of these club houses and contact with the membership by applying to the Dean of the Summer Sessions.

SPECIAL PROGRAM FOR 1936

The Summer Sessions of 1936 will present a full program of academic and professional courses. In addition, special curricula have been prepared in the School of Education and the School of Government. A large number of the regular members of the University Faculty will teach during the summer, and distinguished specialists from national economic and educational organizations have been added to the staff.

Because of its situation, The George Washington University is in a position to organize certain types of academic work which profit especially by the resources of the Departments of the Federal Government and other institutions in the National Capital. The continued interest in character education and in the general problems of guidance are met by the addition to the program of special courses in Guidance, Extra-curricular Activities, and Character Education. In the School of Government the annual conference on Hispanic American Affairs, sponsored by the Center of Inter-American Studies, will be on the special topic South American Dictators during the First Century of Independence. A staff of visiting experts will present lectures and lead in discussions of the various phases of this topic. This year the University has arranged to permit all students registered in the Summer Sessions to attend the conference without payment of any fees. The School of Government has also arranged for a course on Labor and Economic Security. A group of specialists in various branches of the United States Government will collaborate with members of the University faculty in presenting this material. There will also be a new course on Problems of Constitutional Interpretation.

More complete information concerning these and other features of the Summer Sessions curricula will be found in the Summer Sessions Bulletin now available upon request.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

The rules and regulations of the University apply to all departments of the Summer Sessions. The announcements of the separate Colleges,

Schools, and Divisions in this catalogue should be consulted for information regarding admission, advanced standing, fees, etc.

Special publications relating to the Summer Sessions will be sent to all interested persons on request.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction offered in the Summer Sessions are included in the alphabetical list of courses beginning on page 197 and also in the Summer Sessions Bulletin.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

On the following pages of this bulletin, under the alphabetically arranged names of the departments of instruction, are listed the courses of instruction offered by the University in the summer of 1936 and in the academic year 1936-37. The courses as here listed are subject to some slight change. The University reserves the right to withdraw any course announced.

The system of numbers and symbols used in connection with these announcements of courses is explained in the following paragraphs.

EXPLANATION OF COURSE NUMBERS

In all departments of instruction the number which precedes the name of a course indicates the semester in which that course is offered. An odd number indicates that the course is offered in the first semester; an even number, that it is offered in the second semester; and a double number (e.g., 157-58), that it begins in the first semester and continues in the second. This rule has no application, however, to courses offered only in the Summer Sessions. In a few cases, where a course which is numbered for one semester and is normally given in that semester, is offered this year in the opposite semester, such exception to the foregoing rule is clearly noted in the statement following the name of the course; and in each such case the course number is followed by the letter x (e.g., 21x).

In the Department of Law, first-year courses are numbered from 101 to 200; second-year courses, from 201 to 300; third-year courses, from 301 to 400; and graduate courses, from 401 to 500.

In the departments of the School of Medicine, first-year courses are numbered from 101 to 200; second-year courses, from 201 to 300; third-year courses, from 301 to 400; and fourth-year courses, from 401 to 500.

In all other departments the following grouping is used:
First-group courses, numbered from 1 to 100, are planned for students in the freshman and sophomore years.

Second-group courses, numbered from 101 to 200, are planned for students in the junior and senior years. They may be credited toward higher degrees only when registration for graduate credit has been approved at the beginning of the course by the Dean responsible for the graduate work and by the officer of instruction and when the completion of additional work has been certified to by the officer of instruction.

Third-group courses, numbered from 201 to 300, are planned primarily for graduate students. They are open to seniors only with the approval of the officer of instruction.

INDICATION OF THE AMOUNT OF CREDIT

The number of semester-hours of credit given for the satisfactory completion of a course is in most cases indicated in parentheses after the name of the course. Thus, a year course giving three hours of credit each semester is marked (3-3), and a semester course giving three hours of credit is marked (3). A semester-hour of credit usually consists of the completion of one fifty-minute period of class work or one laboratory period a week for one semester.

A dagger (†) preceding the number of a year course indicates that the course may not be entered in the second semester and that credit will not be given until the work of both semesters has been completed.

The payment of the University fee entitles students to health services herein after described. Through reports from the students and University officials, the University attempts to keep informed as to all cases of illness among its students.

Medical privileges include: (1) The physical examination of all students entering from secondary schools; * (2) three visits by the University physician or surgeon, office or home, in any one illness, exclusive of a specialist, surgical operation, laboratory, or X-ray examination; (3) hospitalization, including board, medicine, and nursing in the University Hospital for not more than two weeks during a school term—the necessity to be determined by the Director of Health Administration. The duration of hospitalization period (maximum, two weeks) is also to be determined by the Director of Health Administration.

This medical benefit does not include treatment for illness or disability incurred previous to the University term or prior to payment of the University registration fee.

Students are allowed, if they so desire, to engage physicians and nurses of their own choice, but when they do so they will be responsible for the fees charged.

Rules: (1) The Director of Health Administration is empowered to limit or deny the medical benefits where, in his discretion, a student has, by his misconduct or breach of the rules of the University, made himself ineligible; (2) the Director of Health Administration has authority to determine the necessity and length of hospitalization; (3) students who have severed their connection with the University are ineligible for medical benefits; (4) students intending to train for athletic teams are required to pass a careful examination at the beginning of each semester; (5) the above regulations apply during the Summer Sessions of the University.

* A charge of $2 is made if a student fails to appear for a physical examination during the period set for this purpose.

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

The School of Medicine of The George Washington University, the eleventh medical school established in the United States, opened in March 1825. The University Hospital and Dispensary were established in 1898 and made a part of the organization of the School.

The School is a member of the Association of American Medical Colleges and is one of the medical colleges which has been designated continuously as class "A" by the American Medical Association. The degrees of the School of Medicine are recognized by all State examining boards.

LOCATION AND ADVANTAGES

The city of Washington, with more than a half-million inhabitants, provides ample clinical material. The University Hospital and Dispensary furnish clinical facilities and a large proportion of the materials studied in the courses in Pathology and Clinical Microscopy.

The Library of the Surgeon General's Office of the United States Army is the most complete general medical library in the world. In addition to its great collections of medical works, all leading medical periodicals of the world are available. This Library, as well as the Library of Congress, the Public Library, and the many excellent libraries of the various Government departments, is open to medical students.

The Army Medical Museum affords opportunity for studying the conditions met in military and general medicine and surgery. Its collection of anatomical and pathological specimens is unequaled by any other museum in this country. The Museum of Hygiene, the National Museum, the Smithsonian Institution, the Botanic Gardens, and the Department of Agriculture, all afford opportunities for study in Medicine and its allied sciences.

EQUIPMENT

Medical School Building.—The building housing the School of Medicine is a modern, five-story structure with lecture- and classrooms, laboratories, and students' rooms, equipped with modern improvements. A four-story laboratory building is adjacent to the main medical building.

Laboratories.—The major laboratories are for Anatomy, Biochemistry, Histology and Embryology, Physiology and Pharmacology, Bacteriology, Hygiene and Preventive Medicine, Clinical Microscopy, and Pathology. They are fully equipped to enable students to pursue adequately the laboratory courses and acquire the technical skill necessary in modern clinical and investigative work.

Medical Library.—The Library contains a selected reference collection of more than 3,000 volumes, and provision is made to add to it the important new medical works. The principal medical periodicals are received regularly.

For purposes of advanced study and research the Library of the Surgeon General of the Army is available to all students and teachers through a service maintained by the Medical School Library.

CLINICAL FACILITIES

The University Hospital and the University Dispensary.—The Hospital and Dispensary are part of the educational equipment of the University. They are adjacent to the School of Medicine and are controlled by the Faculty of Medicine. The Dispensary has a large out-patient service in all departments, to which several thousand visits are made annually. The Faculty believes that clinical teaching should be thoroughly systematized. To this end, all clinics are under the supervision of the Assistant Dean, who is also Medical Director of the Hospital. This insures the highest possible utilization of available clinical material for teaching purposes and proper supervision of clinicians and students; it brings the individual student into direct contact with patients and requires him to do under authoritative supervision the clinical and laboratory work necessary for diagnosis and treatment; and it permits proper interpretation of the conditions occurring during the progress of cases and promotes the keeping of adequate records. Clinical and clinicopathological conferences are held in which the history of cases, the physical findings, laboratory records, and the post-mortem pathology when available, are presented and correlated. The Assistant Dean assigns the students to the different clinics, and supervises the records, the attendance, and the instruction of students. Third-year students are assigned in rotation by sections for clinical instruction in the Dispensary.

Gallinger Municipal Hospital.—Clinical instruction is available in all branches of Medicine. A great wealth of clinical material is afforded in this hospital by ordinance of the municipal authorities of the District of Columbia, whereby one half of the patients are assigned for treatment and clinical teaching to members of the Faculty of this School, nominated by this University.

Children's Hospital.—Clinical instruction in Pediatrics and General and Orthopedic Surgery.

Emergency Hospital and Central Dispensary.—Clinical instruction in Medicine, Surgery (particularly in emergency surgery, fractures, and dislocations), Dermatology, and Orthopedics.

Garfield Memorial Hospital.—Clinical instruction in Medicine, including contagious diseases, Surgery, Gynecology, and Obstetrics.

St. Elizabeth's Hospital.—Clinical instruction in mental and nervous diseases, Medicine, Surgery, post-mortem work, and Gross Pathology. This hospital, with four thousand beds, is maintained by the United States Government. The psychiatric clinic is one of the largest in the world.

ADMISSION

The minimum requirement for admission is two years of college work, totaling at least sixty semester-hours, taken in an accredited college of arts and sciences.

SPECIFIC EDUCATIONAL REQUIREMENTS

SECONDARY-SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS

Of the fifteen secondary-school units required, three must be in English, two in one foreign language (ancient or modern), one in Algebra, one in Geometry, one in History, and one in Science (Botany, Chemistry, Physics, or Zoology). Eleven of the units offered must be in English, foreign language, Mathematics, Science, and History. No candidate will be accepted with any condition in secondary-school work.

PREMEDICAL-COLLEGE REQUIREMENTS

(60 semester-hours)

1. Chemistry, twelve semester-hours as follows: (a) Eight semester-hours of General Inorganic Chemistry, of which at least four semester-hours are laboratory work. Qualitative Analysis may be counted as General Inorganic Chemistry. (b) Four semester-hours of Organic Chemistry, of which two semester-hours are laboratory work. It is strongly recommended, however, that an additional four semester-hours of Organic Chemistry be taken.
 2. Physics, eight semester-hours, of which at least two semester-hours are laboratory work. It is recommended that this course be preceded by one in Trigonometry.
 3. Biology, eight semester-hours, of which at least four semester-hours are laboratory work. This requirement may be satisfied by a course of eight semester-hours in either General Biology or Zoology, or by a course of four semester-hours each in Zoology and Botany, but not by Botany alone.
 4. English composition and literature, six semester-hours. The usual introductory college course, or its equivalent. The student should develop facility in English expression.
 5. Modern foreign language. A reading knowledge, preferably of French or German.
 6. Electives. It is recommended that the remaining semester-hours required include: (a) Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy; (b) Qualitative and Quantitative Chemistry; (c) Social Science and Psychology.
- No student will be accepted with any condition in college work.

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

1. Forms upon which to submit records of secondary-school and college work will be furnished on request.

All credentials submitted are to be made out by the proper school and college authorities and mailed by them to the Director of Admissions, The George Washington University, 2033 G Street NW., Washington, D.C. Photostat copies of credentials without the original signature of the certifying authority will not be accepted.

Each form must cover only work done at the school or college which fills out the form.

2. A recent photograph, with signature, is required of each applicant.

3. As the number of qualified applicants for admission to the School each year far exceeds its capacity, those who wish to insure admission are urged to secure from the schools and colleges attended completely compiled premedical credentials and forward them for evaluation as long a time as possible before the opening of the School of Medicine in September.

4. A fee of $3 to defray the costs of completing the records for final consideration for admission must accompany each application.

ADVANCED STANDING

Students who have satisfactorily attended one or more terms at any other class-A medical school and who have the necessary preliminary educational requirements, may be admitted to advanced standing. No student, however, will be admitted to advanced standing in the senior class.

LEGAL STANDARDS

The laws relating to the preliminary educational qualifications required of physicians differ in many of the States, and candidates are advised that if they meet the premedical and other requirements of this School they will be able to comply with the legal demands of all State Examining Boards in the United States.

REGISTRATION AND ADMISSION TO CLASSES

Registration in the School of Medicine is for a period of one year. After the student has entered the courses of instruction he is obligated for the full tuition for the year. No part of the tuition will be refunded upon withdrawal or dismissal for any cause. Acceptance by the School of a student's fees does not in any way obligate the School to accept the student for any subsequent year, and the right is reserved to drop any student from the School whenever, in the interest of the student or the School, the Faculty deems it advisable to do so.

Students are admitted to classes on presentation of the Comptroller's ticket which is issued when all required fees have been paid.

FEES AND FINANCIAL REGULATIONS

The following fees are prescribed by statute:

University fee, for each semester or for any part thereof.....	$8.00
Tuition fee, per annum.....	584.00
Fee for special examinations, for each subject.....	5.00
Graduation fee.....	20.00

THE UNIVERSITY FEE

Payment of the University fee, charged all students, secures to them the following student-activity privileges: (1) Gymnasium privileges, including participation in intra-university athletic sports; (2) the University Hatchet, the official student newspaper, which is issued weekly; (3) admission to home athletic contests, unless otherwise specified; (4) admission to University debates; (5) medical attention and hospital services through the Department of Health Administration (see page 31).

PAYMENT OF FEES

Fees for each semester (including the University fee) are $300, payable in advance.

All fees are payable at the Office of the Comptroller of the University, 2033 G Street NW. Fees due must be paid at the time of registration; no student is permitted to complete registration or to attend classes until fees are paid.

On account of the many applications for admission, and as the size of the freshman class is limited, places can be reserved only for those qualified applicants who remit a deposit of $100, which will be credited toward the tuition of the first semester. Should unusual circumstances arise whereby the matriculant is unable to attend, this initial payment, less a charge of $50 for registration, transfer, etc., will be returned up to one month before the opening of the session.

Students will be required to pay for injury to apparatus and other college property. All breakage and loss not directly traceable to an individual student is assessed pro rata. Each student is required, at the completion of laboratory courses, to replace or pay for all articles of equipment which he has lost, broken, or destroyed. Credit for work will not be given until this is done.

COST OF TEXTBOOKS AND STUDENT EQUIPMENT

The minimum cost of necessary textbooks and student equipment (microscope, drawing materials, glass slides, clinical thermometer, stethoscope, hemocytometer, etc.) is approximately as follows: first year, $150; second year, $87; third year, $60; fourth year, $60; total, $357.

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

The George Washington University is an urban institution. For the benefit of nonresident students, registers of rooms which have been inspected and approved are kept in the office of the Director of Women's Personnel Guidance, where inquiries in respect to housing facilities should be addressed.

Single rooms usually range in price from $15 to $25 a month; and double rooms, from $10 to $20 a month a person. Rooms with board, including breakfast and dinner, cost from $40 to $45 a month a person.

It is advisable for students to reach the University two or three days before the opening of the term in order that they may become established in satisfactory living quarters before class work begins.

WOMEN STUDENTS

The Strong Residence Hall for women is in process of construction and it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy in September. Additional information may be secured from the Director of Women's Personnel Guidance.

All women students under twenty-three years of age must have their residences approved by the Director of Women's Personnel Guidance, unless they are living with family or relatives. Registration is not complete until such approval is given.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUNDS

The John Hitz Metzgerott Scholarship is available to students in the School of Medicine.

The Ordranax Prize of $80 is awarded to the member of the graduating class of the School of Medicine who has completed the four-year medical course with the highest scholastic standing.

The following loan funds are available to students in the School of Medicine: Daughters of the American Revolution Loan Fund; Harmon Foundation Loan Fund; Henry Strong Educational Foundation Loan Fund; and the University Loan Fund.

For particulars regarding scholarships, prizes, and loan funds, address the Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Loans and Scholarships, The George Washington University.

DEPARTMENTS OF INSTRUCTION

The work of the School is organized under the following departments: Anatomy; Bacteriology, Hygiene, and Preventive Medicine; Biochemistry; Dermatology and Syphilology; Experimental Medicine; Medicine; Neurology; Obstetrics and Gynecology; Ophthalmology; Oto-rhinolaryngology; Pathology; Pediatrics; Pharmacology and Therapeutics; Physiology; Psychiatry; Surgery; and Urology.

CLINICS

Courses of clinical instruction are included in the announcements of the clinical departments. The Assistant Dean prepares schedules of clinics and of student section assignments to the various hospitals and dispensaries.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the School of Medicine are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated in the University catalogue.

ATTENDANCE

Absence consists in being away from a class or clinic during a scheduled period, entering after the class or clinic has begun, or leaving before either is dismissed.

Absence is not allowed unless an excuse is obtained from the Dean or the instructor.

Excuse for absence due to sickness must be accompanied by a certificate signed by the attending physician and must be filed in the office of the Dean.

For every unexcused absence a department will deduct one half of 1 per cent from the student's final grade in the subject involved.

GRADES

Proficiency in all subjects is marked on a basis of A (90-100); B (80-90); C (75-80); D (65-74), condition; E (below 65), failure; I, incomplete. The passing grade in each subject is C.

ADVANCEMENT

Any student who has satisfactorily completed the required work of the first, second, or third year of the course and has passed all examinations is eligible for advanced standing, if approved by the Scholarship Committee. No student may be enrolled for the clinical work of the third and fourth years without first having qualified in all the premedical sciences.

FAILURE

A student who has failed in any subject will not be advanced until such failure is removed and then only by authority of the Scholarship Committee. All conditions must be removed at the next make-up examination period provided for this purpose.

EXAMINATIONS

Examinations may be written, oral, or practical, and will be held at the end of the first semester and at the end of the academic year. Comprehensive examinations are held during the senior year.

A student who fails to appear at a regularly scheduled final examination will not be examined until the next regular examination, except by special permission of the Scholarship Committee. For make-up examinations to remove conditions, a fee of $5 will be charged for each subject.

SPECIAL UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE ADVANTAGES IN THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

The payment of the University fee entitles students to health services hereinafter described. Through reports from the students and University officials, the University attempts to keep informed as to all cases of illness among its students.

Medical privileges include: (1) the physical examination of all students entering from secondary schools; (2) three visits by the University physician or surgeon, office or home, in any one illness, exclusive of a specialist, surgical operation, laboratory, or X-ray examination; (3) hospitalization, including board, medicine, and nursing in the University Hospital for not more than two weeks during a school term—the necessity to be determined by the Director of Health Administration. The duration of hospitalization period (maximum, two weeks) is also to be determined by the Director of Health Administration.

This medical benefit does not include treatment for illness or disability incurred previous to the University term or prior to payment of the University registration fee.

Students are allowed, if they so desire, to engage physicians and nurses of their own choice, but when they do so they will be responsible for the fees charged.

Rules: (1) The Director of Health Administration is empowered to limit or deny the medical benefits where, in his discretion, a student has, by his misconduct or breach of the rules of the University, made himself ineligible; (2) the Director of Health Administration has authority to determine the necessity and length of hospitalization; (3) students who have severed their connection with the University are ineligible for medical benefits; (4) students intending to train for athletic teams are required to pass a careful examination at the beginning of each semester; (5) the above regulations apply during the Summer Sessions of the University.

PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS

All first-year students are given a comprehensive physical examination by the Department of Health Administration upon admission to the School of Medicine. The students are informed of the findings and advised regarding such measures as will tend to maintain a high standard of health.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Interns are appointed annually in the University Hospital. Similar appointments are made to graduates and undergraduates of this School in the following hospitals of the District: Casualty Hospital; Children's Hospital; Columbia Hospital for Women; Emergency Hospital; Episcopal Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat Hospital; Gallinger Municipal Hospital; Garfield Memorial Hospital; Providence Hospital; St. Elizabeth's Hospital; Sibley Hospital; Tuberculosis Hospital; and Walter Reed United States Army General Hospital.

Students who, after graduation, desire internships in hospitals outside the District of Columbia, should apply directly to the institutions which they wish to enter. A list of hospitals approved for intern training is published annually in the Journal of the American Medical Association, and a copy of the list may be consulted in the office of the Dean.

COMMISSION ON LICENSURE, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

Graduates who wish to take the examinations of the Commission on Licensure, District of Columbia, or desire to use the District license for reciprocity with the States, should apply to the Secretary, Commission on Licensure, Healing Arts Practice Act, District Building, Washington, D.C.

UNIVERSITY MEDICAL SOCIETY

The George Washington University Medical Society was established in 1905. All alumni and members of the Faculty are eligible for membership on election. Meetings of the society are held in the School of Medicine on the third Saturday evening of each month from October to May. Senior students may be invited to attend the meetings of this society.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction are listed in alphabetical order beginning on page 35.

THE DEGREE OF DOCTOR OF MEDICINE

Upon the satisfactory completion of the requirements of the School of Medicine, the degree of Doctor of Medicine is conferred. The degree of Doctor of Medicine given by this University is recognized by all State Examining Boards in the United States.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE

Every candidate for graduation with the degree of Doctor of Medicine must be at least twenty-one years of age, of reputable character, and free of all indebtedness to the University. He must have satisfied the admission requirements, completed satisfactorily not less than four years of study as a matriculated student in Medicine, completed all required courses, and passed satisfactorily all prescribed examinations. Particular attention is called to the statement of graduation requirements in the University catalogue.

COMBINED ARTS AND MEDICINE CURRICULUM

Candidates register in the Junior College for the freshman and sophomore years of the premedical curriculum and in Columbian College for the junior year. In order to be recommended for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, candidates must complete at least ninety-four semester-hours of prescribed college work, including Physical Education (at least thirty semester-hours and one year of residence must be completed in Columbian College), and the first year of the medical curriculum. Upon completion of the fourth year in the medical curriculum the student becomes eligible for the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

In certain selected cases where students have completed three years of work in an approved college of arts, other than The George Washington University, with an excellent scholastic record, such students may be recommended to the University by the Faculty of Medicine for the degree of Bachelor of Arts in the University at large upon the completion of the first year in Medicine, provided a high standard of scholarship is maintained in the School of Medicine.

PLAN OF INSTRUCTION

Each year of the medical curriculum is divided into two semesters of sixteen weeks each. The curriculum for the degree of Doctor of Medicine must begin with the fall semester.

Under the order of the work there is a coordination in the offerings of the several departments which enables the student to concentrate his attention upon the subject materials in such a way that they can be readily understood and recognized as integrated parts of a unified training. The salient features in the method of instruction are thorough laboratory training, demonstrations, and clinical teaching, with recitations and lectures to clarify the many problems presented. The clinical material in the various hospitals and out-patient departments is utilized to the fullest extent for both clinical instruction and laboratory work.

HONORS

Candidates who have completed the four-year medical course with an average grade of A may be recommended for graduation "with distinction".

For catalogues, application blanks, and further information, address the Director of Admissions, The George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

On the following pages of this bulletin, under the alphabetically arranged names of the departments of instruction, are listed the courses of instruction offered by the School of Medicine in the academic year 1936-37. The courses here listed are subject to some slight change. The University reserves the right to withdraw any course announced.

EXPLANATION OF COURSE NUMBERS

The number which precedes the name of a course indicates the semester in which that course is offered. An odd number indicates that the course is offered in the first semester; an even number, that it is offered in the second semester; and a double number (e.g., 343-44), that it begins in the first semester and continues in the second.

First-year courses are numbered from 101 to 200; second-year courses, from 201 to 300; third-year courses, from 301 to 400; and fourth-year courses, from 401 to 500.

GENERAL INFORMATION

INTRODUCTORY

The George Washington University Law School, established in 1826, discontinued later, and reorganized in 1865, is the oldest in the District of Columbia. The course of instruction for the degree of Bachelor of Laws, originally requiring two years, was increased in 1898 to three years. A course leading to the degree of Master of Laws was added in 1877. In 1900 the School took part in the organization of the Association of American Law Schools and has been a member of the Association since that time. In 1911 the School became coeducational. In 1924 the late afternoon course for students with limited schedules was increased to four years. On September 1, 1925, the entrance requirements were increased to two years of college work. The School is approved by the Council of Legal Education of the American Bar Association. Since September 1, 1925, it has occupied a new building, designed and constructed for its use. This building is named Stockton Hall in honor of the late Rear Admiral Charles Herbert Stockton, President of the University from 1910 to 1918.

THE LIBRARY

The Law School Library of nearly 18,000 volumes contains the decisions of the highest courts of all the States, the reports of the United States Supreme Court and lower Federal courts, the English Reprint and English Law Reports, the United States Statutes, the statutes of all the States, the English statutes, the principal English and American digests, legal encyclopedias and collections of annotated cases, and the leading case books, textbooks, and legal periodicals.

The library is open from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. each class day (Saturday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.) and from 2 to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

THE LAW REVIEW

The George Washington Law Review, published quarterly by the University, is edited by the faculty and students of the Law School. It is devoted exclusively to the field of governmental and federal public law. The location of the University in the National Capital, where the primary sources of federal public law may be observed in operation, affords a unique opportunity for specialization in this field. Among the subjects included in this field are administrative law, admiralty, conflict of laws, constitutional law, international law, interstate commerce, immigration, patents, copyrights, trade marks, taxation, trade regulation, tariff, radio law, and veterans' administration.

The editorial work of the Review is in charge of a faculty editor-in-chief, a faculty board of associate editors, a board of departmental advisory editors, and a board of student editors. The student editors are chosen each year from those students who have completed forty semester-hours or more with an average grade of B or better.

ADMISSION

For a statement of the general regulations and procedure for admission to the University, see the University catalogue.

Applications for admission and supporting certificates should be filed with the Director of Admissions not later than two weeks before the registration period.

FOR THE BACHELOR OF LAWS DEGREE

Candidates for this degree must have received, before admission, the degree of Bachelor of Arts or an equivalent degree from an approved college or university. The conferring of this degree must be evidenced by proper certificates.

Persons who have satisfactory credits in an approved curriculum of the Junior College and Columbian College of The George Washington University for three years' (90 semester-hours') work toward the bachelor's degree may be admitted to the Law School to the combined six-year arts and law curriculum.

Transfer students may present work satisfactorily completed in other approved colleges toward the 90 semester-hours required, provided that at least the last 30 semester-hours shall have been completed at The George Washington University, and the work to be transferred is consistent with the curriculum requirements.

Persons who have satisfactory credits in the Engineering School of The George Washington University for three years (96 semester-hours) toward the degree of Bachelor of Science may be admitted to the Law School to the combined six-year engineering and law curriculum.

Transfer students may present work satisfactorily completed in other approved schools of engineering toward the 96 semester-hours required, provided that at least the last 30 semester-hours shall have been completed at The George Washington University, and the work to be transferred shall be consistent with the curriculum requirements.

FOR THE DEGREE OF JURIS DOCTOR (J.D.)

Candidates for this degree must have received before admission the degree of Bachelor of Arts or an equivalent degree from an approved university or college.

ADVANCED STANDING

Advanced standing may be granted for work successfully completed in other law schools which are on the approved list of the American Bar Association or are members of the Association of American Law Schools. Students transferring from other approved law schools must satisfy the requirements for admission to the Law School of The George Washington University.

Applicants for admission with advanced standing must file certified transcripts of record showing high-school, college, and law credits. The right is reserved to refuse such credit, in whole or in part, or to allow it conditionally or after examination, and credit given may be withdrawn for subsequent poor work. No student admitted with advanced standing will be recommended for the degree of LL.B. or J.D. until he has completed in this school at least one full year of residence and passed successfully 28 semester-hours with the required average for the degree. No student will be admitted who has been in attendance at another law school and is ineligible, because of poor scholarship, to return to that school.

Students intending to attend summer-school sessions at other law schools and desiring to use credits obtained at such schools in their course at this Law School, must first have the courses they wish to take approved by the Dean. In no event will credits be recognized in excess of those which might be obtained in a similar period in this School.

FOR THE MASTER OF LAWS DEGREE

Candidates for this degree must, at the time of their admission, have received the degree of Bachelor of Laws or an equivalent degree from an accredited law school, and must have attained in the course for the law degree an average grade equivalent to the grade of B in this Law School or must be admitted by special action of the Dean's Council.

UNCLASSIFIED STUDENTS

Persons eligible for admission to regular standing may, in the discretion of the Dean, be admitted as unclassified students, to courses aggregating not more than four hours a week.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS IN THE LAW SCHOOL

A limited number of persons who cannot qualify as candidates for a degree in Law, but who are over twenty-five years of age and because of their maturity, training, and experience seem qualified to pursue the study of Law, may be admitted to the Division of University Students. Candidates for admission as "university" students in Law must file written applications, setting forth their qualifications in detail, and letters and certificates to prove the facts stated therein as to their education and experience. Each application must first be submitted to the faculty of the Law School and approved by them. Approval will be granted only in unusual cases where some special reason justifies admission. Work done by such university students will not be counted toward a degree.

REGISTRATION

Before attending classes each student must present himself in person for registration. No student will be registered in the Law School until proper credentials have been filed and approved by the proper officers of the University (see "Admission", above).

In a case in which a student is permitted to drop a year course at the end of the first semester he must register for the second semester of that subject not later than one calendar year from the time the attendance in the first semester was completed.

Registration is permitted at the beginning of either semester. Students beginning the study of Law in the second semester, however, may pursue only a limited schedule. Such students may pursue other first-year courses in the succeeding summer session.

Qualified students who are entitled to advanced standing on records from other approved law schools or who have completed courses at this Law School during former periods of attendance, may register at the beginning of the second semester for subjects which commence at that time, but not for year subjects.

Registration days for the academic year 1936-37 will be Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday, September 19, 21, and 22, 1936, and Wednesday and Thursday, February 3 and 4, 1937. A late-registration fee of $5 will be charged each student who is permitted to register after the regular registration days. No registration may be made for a semester subject after the first two weeks of a semester, or for a year subject after the first four weeks of the year.

Registration may be changed only with the permission of the Dean.

For further information regarding registration, see the University catalogue.

A suspended student may not be reinstated for the semester after two weeks from the date of suspension. Applications for reinstatement are to be made to the dean of the school or director of the division in which the student is registered.

No student may register in any department of the University who owes fees in any other department of the University.

Auditors pay all fees chargeable to students registered for credit except the late-registration fees.

WITHDRAWALS AND REFUNDS

Applications for withdrawal from the University or for changes in schedule must be made in person or in writing to the Dean of the School or the Director of the Division in which the student is registered. Notification to an instructor is not an acceptable notice.

In authorized withdrawals and changes in schedules financial adjustments will be made on the principle of the three installments a semester, as follows:

First semester: Withdrawals dated on or before October 31, cancellation of the second and third installments; withdrawals dated on or before

November 30, cancellation of the third installment; no refunds or rebates will be allowed on withdrawals dated subsequent to November 30.

Second semester: Withdrawals dated on or before February 28, cancellation of the second and third installments; withdrawals dated on or before March 31, cancellation of the third installment; no refunds or rebates will be allowed on withdrawals dated subsequent to March 31.

In no case will any part of an initial installment of tuition be refunded, and in no case will tuition be reduced or refunded because of nonattendance upon classes.

No permission to withdraw and no certificate of work done will be given a student who has not a clear financial record.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PRIZES, LOAN FUNDS

Scholarships are administered by the University Committee on Student Loans and Scholarships. Application should be made to the Registrar of the University.

The following prizes are awarded annually in the Law School:

Ellsworth Prize.—The Ellsworth Prize of $25, offered by Mr. Fritz v. Briesen, is awarded to the student doing the best work in the subject of Patent Law Practice. It was awarded in 1934-35 to William Barron Kerkam, Jr.

Samuel Herrick Prize.—A prize of $25, founded by Samuel Herrick, Esq., is awarded annually to that member of the graduating class in the Law School (excepting the winner of the John Bell Larner gold medal) who has attained the highest average grade in the work of the third year. It was awarded in 1934-35 to Waino Mathias Kolehmainen.

John Bell Larner Prize.—This prize, established by the bequest of John Bell Larner, consists of a gold medal which is awarded annually to that member of the graduating class in the Law School who attains the highest average grade in the entire course for the degree of Bachelor of Laws. It was awarded in 1934-35 to Oswald Symister Colclough.

John Ordronaux Prizes.—These prizes were established in 1909 by the bequest of John Ordronaux. The amount of $40 is awarded annually to the student in the Law School who has attained the highest average grade in the first-year, full-time, regular course; and $40 to the student who has attained the highest average grade in the second-year, full-time, regular course. The former was awarded in 1934-35 to Russel Johnston, and the latter to Whitfield Huff Marshall.

Through the generosity of friends of the University a number of loan funds are available to students in the Law School. Among them is the Henry Strong-William A. Maury Scholarship Loan Fund established by the Henry Strong Educational Foundation in memory of Henry Strong and William A. Maury. Application for loans should be made to the Comptroller of the University.

ORDER OF THE COIF

The Order of the Coif is a national honor society with chapters in thirty-two law schools, the purpose of which is "to foster a spirit of careful study and to mark in a fitting manner those who have attained a high grade of scholarship." The George Washington University Chapter was established in 1926. Students are elected each year from the highest ranking 10 per cent of the graduating class of the Law School.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

Students in the Law School are subject to, and are expected to familiarize themselves with, the general University regulations stated in the University catalogue.

AMOUNT OF WORK

A student who takes a majority of his courses in the full-time sections, from 9.10 a.m. to 1 p.m., may, with the permission of the Dean, take work not exceeding fifteen hours a week. For such students the minimum period of attendance is three academic years.

A student who takes a majority of his courses in the afternoon sections may not register for more than ten hours a week. For such students the minimum period of attendance is four academic years.

The amount of work carried by any student may be restricted when, in the judgment of the Dean, the best interests of the student require it.

ATTENDANCE

GRADES

The grade of a student in each subject is indicated by the letters P (55), pass, or F (below 55), failed. The meaning of these grades is as follows:

P, pass, means that the work has been successfully completed and full credit given for the subject.

F, failed, means that the work in the subject has been a failure and that no credit will be given. To obtain credit the student must repeat the subject; but a student who, in the work of the year, has received a grade of F in one subject only and obtained a general average of C, may take the next regular examination in that subject, and if on such re-examination he attains the grade of C or better, he will be given a grade of D (60) in the subject.

At the end of each academic year each student is given an average numerical grade for his work for the year. These numerical grades rank as follows: A (85-100), excellent; B (75-84), very good; C (65-74), good; D (60-64), poor; U (below 60), unsatisfactory.

EXAMINATIONS

Written examinations are held at the close of the first semester in subjects which are then completed and at the close of the second semester in all other subjects. All students are required to take the regular examinations in the subjects pursued, unless excused by the Dean. A student who, with the consent of the Dean, does not take the final examination in a subject with the class in which he is enrolled, may take the next regular examination given in the subject.

No student shall be given an examination in, nor permitted to receive credit in, less than an entire subject. In any case where a student is permitted to register for one semester only of a year subject, he may not take the examination in that subject until the other semester has been completed. If no regular examination in that subject is scheduled at the time the other semester is completed, then the student shall not be given a special examination but shall be required to take the next regular examination.

No special examinations will be given; except, that upon written application to the Dean's Council, showing sufficient cause, a candidate for a degree at a convocation before the next regular examination, if he would be entitled to take a postponed examination, may, in the discretion of the Dean's Council, be given a special examination not less than sixty days after the date of the one which he failed to take.

EXCLUSION AND PROBATION FOR POOR SCHOLARSHIP

Any student who during an academic year fails in more than one full-year subject or the equivalent in half-year subjects or fails to make an average for the year of at least 60, shall be excluded and denied registration in the future.

Any student not subject to exclusion under the foregoing rule who fails to secure an average during the academic year of at least C (65) in the subjects which he has passed shall be on probation during the succeeding academic year. Students on probation must reduce their programs of study by at least one full-year subject or such further amount as the Dean may direct. Any student who fails to make, during the academic year in which he is on probation, an average grade of at least C (65) in the subjects which he has passed shall be excluded and denied registration in the future.

No student shall be put on probation or excluded on the work of one semester only or on the work of the summer session or as the result of a program of less than four hours a week during the academic year.

A student who has been excluded from the school under the above rules may be readmitted by the Committee on Reinstatement upon such conditions as that Committee shall prescribe. Written application must be made to the Committee setting forth the reasons for the reinstatement and the applicant will be accorded an oral hearing if he so desires. Reinstatement will be granted only in special cases.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

Students are divided into classes on the completion of semester-hours of credit as follows: First year, to twenty-seven; second year, twenty-eight to fifty-five; third year, fifty-six or more.

ELIGIBILITY FOR STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The following rules apply to activities which are open to all students registered in the University:

The faculty adviser of each activity shall be held responsible for the verification, through the office of the Registrar, of the eligibility of all participants. In activities which have no faculty adviser, the ranking student officer shall verify, through the office of the Registrar, the eligibility of all participants and shall submit the eligible list to the Eligibility Committee for approval.

I. ACADEMIC AND SOCIAL CLUBS OR SOCIETIES

Students on probation may not be officers or chairmen of committees.

II. CAMPUS AND INTRA-MURAL ACTIVITIES*

1. Except where such activities may be of a graduate nature, membership or participation is restricted to undergraduate students registered for at least six semester-hours and not on probation.
2. Membership or participation is limited to not more than four years in any one activity at this University.
3. Students are ineligible after having been registered six years in any college. Registration for any part of any year will count as a year of participation.

III. COMPETITIVE INTERCOLLEGIATE ACTIVITIES*

1. To represent the University in any undergraduate competitive intercollegiate activity, students must be undergraduate candidates for a degree and not on probation.
2. Such students must be registered for at least nine semester-hours for minor activities and at least twelve semester-hours for major activities.
3. Previous to each season of participation (except for freshman contests), students must have been in residence at this University at least two semesters or one semester and a summer session, during which they must have completed not less than eighteen semester-hours for minor activities or not less than twenty-four semester-hours for major activities.

* A classification of student activities may be obtained from the Faculty Committee on Eligibility.

4. No student may participate in any one intercollegiate activity for a total of more than three annual seasons at this University or elsewhere, exclusive of freshman competition.

5. Students are ineligible after having been registered six years in any college. Registration for any part of any year will count as a year of participation.

RIGHT TO DROP STUDENTS

The right is reserved to drop any student whenever, in the interest of the student or the University, the faculty or the University administration deems it advisable to do so.

STUDENT LIFE

LIVING ACCOMMODATIONS

For the benefit of nonresident students registers of rooms which have been inspected and approved are kept in the office of the Director of Women's Personnel Guidance, where inquiries in respect to housing facilities should be addressed. Single rooms usually range in price from $15 to $25 a month, and double rooms from $10 to $20 a month a person. Rooms with board, including breakfast and dinner, cost from $40 to $45 a month a person.

It is advisable for students to reach the University two or three days before the opening of the term in order that they may become established in satisfactory living quarters before class work begins.

WOMEN STUDENTS

The Strong Residence Hall for women is in process of construction and it is expected that it will be ready for occupancy in September 1936. Additional information may be secured from the Director of Women's Personnel Guidance.

All women students under twenty-three years of age must have their residences approved by the Director of Women's Personnel Guidance, unless they are living with family or relatives. Registration is not complete until such approval is given.

PLACEMENT OFFICE

The Placement Office is maintained to assist graduates and students in finding positions for which their college work has prepared them, and to cooperate with employers who wish to fill vacancies. Enrollment is open to alumni members and students of the University without charge for placement.

For further information address the Placement Office, The George Washington University, Washington, D.C.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

An employment service is operated to assist self-supporting students in finding employment. The University offers every possible assistance, but success in self-support depends upon the student himself.

Prospective students who expect to earn any part of their expenses and who do not have definite appointment to positions before coming to Washington, should have the means of support for at least one semester. A minimum budget of $100 a month is recommended.

Many out-of-town students secure positions in the Departments of the Government in Washington by taking the United States Civil Service examinations in their home States. The hours of employment permit them to pursue a college course in the late afternoon.

HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

The payment of the University fee entitles students to health services hereinafter described. Through reports from the students and University officials, the University attempts to keep informed as to all cases of illness among its students.

Medical privileges include: (1) The physical examination of all students entering from secondary schools; (2) three visits by the University physician or surgeon, office or home, in any one illness, exclusive of a specialist, surgical operation, laboratory, or X-ray examination; (3) hospitalization, including board, medicine, and nursing in the University Hospital for not more than two weeks during a school term—the necessity to be determined by the Director of Health Administration. The duration of hospitalization period (maximum, two weeks) is also to be determined by the Director of Health Administration.

This medical benefit does not include treatment for illness or disability incurred previous to the University term or prior to payment of the University registration fee.

Students are allowed, if they so desire, to engage physicians and nurses of their own choice, but when they do so they will be responsible for the fees charged.

Rules: (1) The Director of Health Administration is empowered to limit or deny the medical benefits where, in his discretion, a student has, by his misconduct or breach of the rules of the University, made himself ineligible; (2) the Director of Health Administration has authority to determine the necessity and length of hospitalization; (3) students who have severed their connection with the University are ineligible for medical benefits; (4) students intending to train for athletic teams are required to pass a careful examination at the beginning of each semester; (5) the above regulations apply during the Summer Sessions of the University.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION

The courses of instruction in Law are listed on pages 23-27.

THE DEGREES

Upon the satisfactory completion of the requirements of the Law School, the degree of Bachelor of Laws, Juris Doctor, or Master of Laws is conferred.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BACHELOR OF LAWS DEGREE

To be recommended for this degree a student must satisfy the admission, residence, and scholarship requirements and must complete the prescribed number of credits and required subjects.

RESIDENCE

The residence requirement for this degree is three academic years for full-time students or four academic years for students with limited schedules. A year's attendance in the late afternoon classes for students with limited schedules is counted as residence for three-fourths of a year. In the case of students admitted with advanced standing, at least one full year of this residence requirement must be spent in The George Washington University.

A student who at the end of any regular period of residence—the first semester, the second semester, or the summer session—has completed subjects which equal in semester-hours the total number of semester-hours required for the degree for which he is a candidate, but has failed to complete the full residence requirements for that degree, must be in residence during additional periods sufficient to satisfy completely the residence requirements. In all such cases the student must be in residence during the entire period and must satisfy the attendance requirements of, and pass the examination in, at least one subject.

CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

The curriculum leading to the degree of Bachelor of Laws is set forth in the "Plan of Study" below. The successful completion of the courses there listed is required for the degree. The credit requirement is a minimum of eighty semester-hours.

PATENT LAW CURRICULUM

To provide training for students who plan to specialize in Patent Law, the courses in Substantive Patent Law, Patent Office Practice, and Patent Moot Court are offered as third-year electives. They may be counted toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws or Juris Doctor, or they may be taken by qualified students not candidates for a degree.

COMBINED ARTS AND LAW CURRICULUM

The University will confer the degree of Bachelor of Arts upon the completion of three years of college work and the first year in the Law School. In order to be certified as having satisfactorily completed one year of law work, the student must have completed the first twenty-eight semester-hours taken in the Law School, with an average of 70 or better (see the Columbian College announcement in the University catalogue). The Bachelor of Laws degree will be conferred upon the completion of the remainder of the work for that degree.

COMBINED ENGINEERING AND LAW CURRICULUM

The University will confer the degree of Bachelor of Science in Engineering upon the completion of the first three years of the curriculum for that degree in the School of Engineering and the first year in the Law School (see the School of Engineering announcement in the University catalogue). The student must complete the first twenty-eight semester-hours taken in the Law School with an average of not less than 70. The Bachelor of Laws degree will be conferred upon the completion of the remainder of the work for that degree.

SCHOLARSHIP

The eighty semester-hours of work required for the LL.B. degree must be completed with an average grade of at least C (65).

HONORS

The degree of Bachelor of Laws "with distinction" will be awarded students who obtain an average grade of A in the work for that degree.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DEGREE OF JURIS DOCTOR (J.D.)

To be recommended for this degree the student must have received the degree of Bachelor of Arts or an equivalent degree before his admission to the Law School. He must have completed a residence period of three academic years for full-time students or four academic years for students with limited schedule. He must have completed eighty semester-hours with an average grade of at least B (75) and must have completed, in addition to the subjects required for the degree of Bachelor of Laws, the course in Roman Law and Principles of the Civil Law and the course in Current Decisions and Legislation.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE MASTER OF LAWS DEGREE

Candidates for the degree of Master of Laws must complete twenty semester-hours of work in subjects not counted toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

This degree will not be conferred until one academic year after the candidate receives the degree of Bachelor of Laws. All requirements must be completed in not exceeding two years after registration for the work for the degree.

SCHOLARSHIP

All courses taken for the Master's degree must be completed with a grade of at least C in each subject and an average grade of not less than B.

REQUIRED SUBJECTS

Trusts, Conflict of Laws, and Constitutional Law must be included in the course for the degree of Master of Laws if not previously taken. No first-year subject and no second-year required subject may be counted toward this degree.

PLAN OF STUDY

The subject matter is so arranged in the curriculum as to give an understanding of the relations between subjects. For this reason the subjects, except where special permission has been given, must be taken in the order provided for in the plan of instruction.

Candidates for the degree of Juris Doctor (J.D.) must complete the required subjects shown below in the Plan of Study and in addition the courses in Roman Law and Principles of the Civil Law and Current Decisions and Legislation.

Candidates for the degree of Master of Laws may elect and count toward that degree third-year subjects not already counted toward the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION IN LAW

The courses of instruction listed below are subject to some slight change. The University reserves the right to withdraw any course announced.

The number which precedes the name of a course indicates the semester in which that course is offered. An odd number indicates that the course is offered in the first semester; an even number, that it is offered in the second semester; and a double number (e.g., 157-58), that it begins in the first semester and continues in the second.

First-year courses are numbered from 101 to 200; second-year courses, from 201 to 300; third-year courses, from 301 to 400; and graduate courses, from 401 to 500.

The number of semester-hours of credit given for the satisfactory completion of a course is indicated in parentheses after the name of the course. Thus, a year course giving two hours of credit each semester is marked (2-2), and a semester course giving two hours of credit is marked (2).
